Marry The Man You Love.

Dear Miss Fairfax:—

I am a young lady of twenty years of age and am deeply in love with a young man about my own age, who returns my love. He is a law student, expecting to begin practice within a year, but he says he will not be in a position to marry for three or four years. Lately, however, I met another gentleman—apparently eight years my senior—who has proposed to me, but whom I do not care for at all. My parents though are very decidedly in favor of my marrying this man. The motive for their choice was not prompted through any ill-feeling or dislike for the man I love, but, as I am disposed to believe, by the fact that they would marry soon, which would occur were I to marry the other man. Now, Miss Fairfax, will you kindly give me some of your advice as to what I ought to do? Also give me your idea of the above statement.

FLORE
You are young, and if you are sincerely in love with the first young man and your parents have no objections to him, I should advise you to wait for him. If you really care I don't think you would even consider the second young man's proposal.

LA GRIPPE'S RAVAGES.

The Victims Left Weak, Nervous and a Prey to Deadly Diseases

La grippe, or influenza, which sweeps over Canada every winter, is probably the most treacherous disease known to medical science. The attack may last only a few days, but the deadly poison in the blood remains. You are left with hardly strength enough to walk. Your lungs, your chest, your heart and nerves are permanently weakened, and you fall a victim to deadly pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption, rheumatism, or racking kidney troubles. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills never fail to cure the disastrous after-effects of la grippe because they purify the blood and sweep away its poisonous germs. Every dose makes new, warm, rich blood which brings health and healing to every part of the body. This is proved in the case of Miss Desina Langlois, of St. Jerome, Que., who says: "I had a severe attack of la grippe, the after-effects of which left me racked with pains in every part of my body. My appetite completely failed me; I had severe headaches, was subject to colds with the least exposure, and grew so weak that I was unable to work at my trade as dressmaker. I tried several medicines without the slightest success until a drug clerk advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I acted upon his excellent advice and the pills rapidly and completely cured me. My strength returned, the headache and cough disappeared, and I am again enjoying my old-time health. I am satisfied that if suffering from la grippe will use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they will speedily recover from those after-effects which make the lives of so many people a burden."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all common ailments due to weak and watery blood, such as anemia, headaches, dizziness, indigestion, neuritis, rheumatism, sciatica, nervousness, general weakness and all special ailments that growing girls and women do not like to talk about even to their doctors. But only the genuine pills can do this, and you should see that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is printed on the wrapper around each box. If you cannot get the genuine pills from your druggist send direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and they will be mailed 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

N. B. FARMERS.

Officers Elected at the Meeting in Fredericton This Year.

Fredericton, Jan. 27:—(Special)—At this morning's session of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—President C. F. Alward, Havelock; Vice-president, J. F. Tweedale, Victoria; recording secretary, N. S. Dow, Woodstock; corresponding secretary, W. W. Hubbard, St. John; treasurer George E. Fisher, Chatham; county vice-presidents, St. John, Dr. Fred Johnston; Queens, J. W. Foshay; Kings, A. R. Wetmore; Sunbury, Henry Wilmet; York, John C. Gilman; Carleton, W. J. Owens; Victoria, O. R. Inman; Madawaska, Maxime DeRosie; Restigouche, J. E. Stewart; Gloucester, P. J. Powers; Northumberland, A. G. Dickson; Kent, Robt. Lennox; Westmorland, Albert Anderson; Albert, S. S. Ryan; Charlotte, James Russell.

The greater part of the morning session was taken up with a discussion on the manufacture and marketing of dairy products. The speakers were Harvey Mitchell, Robert Robertson, L. O. Daigle, J. F. Tilley and others. All seemed to think that certain sections of the province are well adapted for dairying and it would be a great mistake for farmers in those sections to take up beef raising.

Only fifty members had enrolled up to noon today, the smallest in the association's history. The meeting will close this afternoon.

This evening the annual meeting of the N. B. Fruit Growers Association will be held.

Lincoln and the Lake Champlain Quaker.

The people who love to defy you to find a more beautiful lake anywhere; and, anyway, if the voyagers to the New World had discovered nothing else, it would have been worth all the trouble they took coming over. Big and gracious and commanding as some dear princess, it sweeps to the northern border, and the mountains ran e themselves on either side, watching and adoring.

The largest island in the lake is long and wide and has several townships of its own. Somewhere about 1785 a family of Quakers came from the south and found the place: "The Lord," they said, "has led us into ways of peace. Here we will live, and the blessing of Heaven will be with us." They labored at their wholesome toil and their minds were filled with wholesome thoughts. Sun and storm succeeded sun and storm, and the years passed and they found rest unto the third generation.

In 1861, when the stricken country cried for men to save her, the note of war came to the island, and the great-grandson of the first Quaker was drafted.

"But it will be no use," he said. "I shall never fight. My mother taught me it is a sin. It is her religion and my father's and their fathers'. I shall never raise my hand to kill anyone."

The recruiting officer took little notice. "We'll see about that later," he commented carelessly.

The regiment went to Washington and the Quaker boy drilled placidly and shot straight. "But I shall never fight," he reiterated.

Word went out there was a traitor in the ranks. The lieutenant conferred with the captain, and all the forms of punishment devised for refractory soldiers were visited on him. He went through them without flinching, and there was only one thing left. He was taken before the colonel.

"What does this mean?" demanded the officer. "Don't you know you will be shot?"

The Quaker was a nice boy with steady eyes and a square chin, and he smiled a little. "That is nothing," he said. "Thee didn't think I was afraid, did thee?"

The prisoner went back to the guard house and the colonel went to the President, to Lincoln, who was great because he knew the hearts of men. The case was put before him—of the mutinous Quaker who talked of his religion, the soldier who refused to fight, who defied pain and laughed at the fear of death.

Lincoln listened and looked relieved. "Why, that is pain enough," he answered. "There is only one thing to do. Trump up some excuse and send him home. You can't kill a boy like that, you know. The country needs all her brave men wherever they are. Send him home."

So the Quaker went back to the Island, to life and duty as he saw them, and his children tell the story. —February Lippincott's

Dear Miss Lehr:—I would like a formula for good cold cream or flesh food like— which I have used and found, all right, too expensive.

I cannot give you the formula of the cream you mention, as it is put up by an individual who controls the sale of it. But a very simple one, which is said to be splendid, is the following: Rosewater, 4 ounces; spermaceti, 1 ounce; almond oil, 4 ounces; white wax, 1 ounce. Melt the spermaceti and wax in a double boiler over a gentle heat until they can be "creamed," then add the perfumed water, stirring the mixture constantly the while.

The Inability to Rest and Sleep

Is a marked symptom of nervous exhaustion, the natural outcome of which is paralysis.

The person whose nerves are exhausted cannot keep quiet but is restless and fidgety, easily irritated and subject to spells of severe headache and indigestion. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food thoroughly cures nervous diseases by building up the system and instilling new vitality into the wasted nerve cells.

MISS M. ANDERSON, 135 Creighton Street, Halifax, N. S., states:—"My whole nervous system was deranged, I could not sleep and had severe attacks of headache. I procured a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by the time I had taken a few boxes I was all right again. My appetite was very much improved. I was cured of sleeplessness and headache, and my system generally seemed to be thoroughly built up."

By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure, you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.
