OFF TO SUSSEX.

The gallant members of the local regiment left on Tuesday for Sussex. At four o'clock Major Good's Battery assembled for roll call and about an hour later left by special train. Capt. F. B. Carvell, M. P., Lts. Gray and Fields and a full complement of men went along. Three hours later Capt. Bull in charge of No 1 Co, 67th Regt., marched his smart looking outfit to the depot, headed by the 67th Regt. band under Prof. Hall. Capt. Wetmore and Lieut. Guy B. Manzer are the other officers in this company. The special from the north brought the up-river sections of this regiment, and at Debec Capt. Ernest S. Kirkpatrick joined the rest with his company. The boys all presented a good appearance and will no doubt hold their own with the best at Camp Sussex.

In the second ladies golf tournament the finals were played Saturday evening between Mrs. A. D. Holyoke and Miss Jessie Denison. After a very interesting and exciting finish Miss Denison proved the winner by three up, and thus secured the prize, a McGregor club donated by Edgar W. Mair.

"When Women Love."

"When Women Love," the big, sensational and scenic melodrama will be the offering at the Opera House this Friday evening, June 30th. This attraction is one of the strongest and most powerful now before the public, and is one of the big hits of the season, playing to packed houses everywhere. It is a play of absorbing interest, true to life, appeals to the heart, is full of exciting scenes, sensational climaxes, and fairly bubbles over with wholesome comedy.

The audience becomes interested at the very outset, and not for an instant through the play is there one dull moment. "When Women Love" is a great play for the masses, and that is why it has scored so heavily.

The scenes are lavishly mounted and are in keeping with the play, and are laid in New York City and on the Hudson River. They comprise a factory in full operation, the women's ward in Blackwell's Island prison, the hand lawn fete of Eleanor DeGray at Idlewild on the Hudson, a street in New York and the Jefferson Market Court.

The cast is exceptionally strong, each and every one being selected for the part. During the action of the play, specialties are introduced.

It is an assured fact that a large audience will face the company to-night. Mr. Nason made a great hit here last week with "Neighborly Neighbors." Woodstock is fortunate in securing another opportunity of seeing his gifted performers in an equally high class production.

The Big Circus.

Sells & Downs might well exclaim in the manner of Caesar "we came, we saw, we conquered." They struck these parts early Saturday morning with their grand circus, they saw the biggest crowd that ever turned out here on a similar occasion, and they must have carried away six or seven thousand simoleons, alias dollars, as a result of their visit. The show was a good one. The menagerie was not up to expectations, but the grand street parade and the performance in the big tent more than pleased the thousands who wended their way to the park and put up sufficient filthy lucre to gain admission. The officers of the law kept all fakirs in check. There were no games of chance, and but few reports of any crooked dealings. One old gentleman who was done out of $100 in a confidence game at St. John followed the circus here, identified his man, had him arrested, and as a result of some clever work on the part of Chief of Police Kelly and other officers, recovered the full amount lost. Needless to add, the lately victimized gentleman returned home rejoicing. The circus management paid all their bills and departed after giving about the best performance seen here in recent years.

Great Races Promised for the Fourth at Fort Fairfield.

Every class in the great celebration races at Fort Fairfield July 4 has filled, some of them extremely full indeed. What is probably the very largest list of entries ever furnished at a meeting in Aroostook county has been received by the managers of the races at the Fort. There are 40 different horses named, some of them being put into more than one class, so that the total number of entries exceeds 70. What better promise of fine racing could be given than well filled classes? Several Woodstock horses are entered, and Harvey A. McCoy, the well known reinsman of Fredericton has entered seven including Dewey Dumas, 2,271, Frank Rich, 2,191, etc.

OBITUARY.

John Reid died at his home in Plymouth on June 14th, aged 72 years. He was born in Quebec August 18th, 1832, but moved with his parents to this province shortly afterwards and lived until he was twenty years of age at Richmond Corner, which years he spent at school, receiving a teacher's certificate. He spent some little time in teaching and his father dying shortly after, he, with his mother and brother, moved to the farm where he lived up to the time of his death.

He was a man of sterling qualities and a sincere christian, being a firm believer in God's word as he found it written. He sleeps with the positive assurance of coming up and living again on a renewed earth where "the inhabitants will not say I am sick."—Com.

Weeks—Cogger.

The sacrament of holy matrimony was performed at an early hour Tuesday morning in St. Gertrude's Church when in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, Rev. F. J. McMurray united Miss Elizabeth M. Cogger and Wm. J. Weeks in the sacred and indissoluble bonds of matrimony. The bride wore a becoming costume of resida silk with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of cream roses and maiden hair ferns. Miss Flora Ryan of Bath acted as bridesmaid and was attired in champagne voile. Lewis Milmore supported the groom. The happy couple left for a tour of Ontario and other parts of the Dominion. They expect to be absent about a month. The groom's parents were among the strangers present at the wedding. Mr. Weeks, who is a C. P. R. employee, is a native of Woodstock, Ont.

It is a very full card of fine attractions that is presented at Fort Fairfield for July 4. A big number of people from Woodstock and other parts of New Brunswick will be in attendance to see what is going on in our sister town of Fort Fairfield on the day our cousins celebrate.

There is an unconfirmed rumor that several Quebec conservatives, including Bergeron and Monk, threaten to permanently secede from their party owing to the stand taken by the opposition on the Autonomy bills. The government ranks are strong enough without them, but if they must withdraw their support from Mr Borden, we suppose the liberal party is broad enough to include these wayfarers within its ranks.

There is a matrimonial advertisement in this paper over the initials "C. G." This is to state that the person advertising is not Mr Calvin Green, the well-known newspaper correspondent and historical writer now in camp at Sussex with the 67th Light Infantry. Mr. Green feels that unless this warning be published his many friends will think he is contemplating matrimony. The real advertiser is a gentleman living in an American city.

The members of Carleton Lodge IO OFF banquetted one of their number, John T. Lepage, at the Royal Cafe last Thursday evening. Mr Lepage is leaving Woodstock to look up a site for his industry in the West. For some years he has conducted the wrapper factory here, but feels that the West offers greater advantages. At the banquet he was the recipient of a handsome and costly Oddfellows ring. Many appropriate post-prandial addresses were given. The town experiences a loss in the departure of this active young business man.

THINK OF YOUR TEETH.

Don't wait until a dental bill reminds you of neglect. A clean tooth might wear out; it cannot decay. Many who look after their teeth constantly, fail in the selection of a proper brush. A brush to cleanse perfectly must have genuine bristles, just stiff enough, long enough and so trimmed as to reach every nook and cranny. We pride ourselves on our line of tooth brushes. They are honest, practical ones. We look out for the little points mean much in tooth saving. We don't recommend the cheaper brushes, but for 25 cents we can furnish the kind that will endure and that will do what they should while they last.
