The local merchants are up in arms over the Telephone Merger, and threaten to install a new automatic private exchange. It is said a system for the town with 150 instruments can be put in for a sum not over $10,000. This amount could easily be raised, one prominent local man offering to head the list with a thousand.

One Edward Lee, who dispenses beer at Florenceville, was before Magistrate Dibblee on Thursday, charged with violating the Scott Act. Two witnesses were examined but swore they got nothing stronger than lager. The case was dismissed.

Veterinary Surgeon, D W Perkins is meeting with marked success in dealing with all the ills that horse flesh is heir to. For more than a dozen years the genial doctor has been practising in this vicinity and has earned the reputation of an eminently successful veterinary surgeon. Some time ago a valuable horse belonging to Norris Acker of Bridgewater had its leg broken in an accident. Instead of shooting the animal, as many suggested, the owner promptly telephoned for Dr Perkins who immediately set the limb using Plaster Paris bandages. Under his skilful care, the horse has now so far recovered that one can scarcely detect the fact that the limb had ever been fractured.

The Rev Jos A Cahill, pastor of the Baptist Church, Hodgdon, Me, arrived in the village Tuesday for a short visit.

IN CONFIDENCE.*"Under Southern Skies."

Patrons of the theatre in our city will be glad to know that they are soon to have an opportunity of witnessing one of the greatest successes of the present day at the opera house on Tuesday, Aug 28th. On that date "Under Southern Skies," one of the most delightful dramas of the south ever written, will be presented by a very large cast, numbering twenty-seven people, and a complete equipment of special scenery. "Under Southern Skies" is one of the largest and most expensive dramatic companies traveling, and it is now in its sixth successful season. It was first presented in New York City in November 1901, at the Theatre Republic (now the Belasco theatre). There it had a run of three months, and has since then been on tour throughout the east, returning four and five times to many eastern cities. Large and fashionable houses are the rule for this first class attraction and none of our theatre-goers who enjoy a fine play finely presented should miss it. "Under Southern Skies" is a love story of the South, told with so many original and fascinating touches and by such diverting types of southern characters that the play has been pronounced "the most original, diverting and unbackneyed play of southern life ever written."

I have decided to boom my business, and tickle the fancy of my customers. There's nothing quite so good as something for nothing. Here's my scheme:

DO YOU KNOW BEANS?

If you do, guess the number or nearest the number in the glass jar on exhibition in my store. With every ten cent cash purchase you may have one guess. Competition will last two weeks from the date of this notice. Come have a try. If you are shrewd enough to guess the right number the Set is yours.

Are you one of my customers? If not, why not? Would it not be to your advantage to trade in a new store where the goods are all fresh, where prices are the lowest and where you will be pleased with your purchases? Come and try me.—Remember the place. Remember the place. Contest begins on Monday, 27th inst., and closes on Saturday, September 8th, at 9 p. m.
