Grippe or Influenza, whichever you like to call it, is one of the most weakening diseases known.

Scott's Emulsion, which is Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in easily digested form, is the greatest strength-builder known to medical science.

It is so easily digested that it sinks into the system, making new blood and new fat, and strengthening nerves and muscles.

Use Scott's Emulsion after Influenza.

Invaluable for Coughs and Colds.

The 18,000 Who Came This Year Not Fnough. Will Bring 25,-000 Next Year.

The Salvation Army has just closed a very successful year of immigration work, having brought out over thirteen thousand settlers to Canada, but seeing that this amount was very far short of meeting the great demand for farm help and laborers of various kinds, have decided to bring out this year at least twenty five thousand, principally for agricultural purposes.

Ten steamers have been chartered, the first will arrive in Halifax about the last of February and will be followed by one each week at St John or Halifax up to the last of April.

Adjutant Jennings, who represents the work for the Maritime Provinces, is anxious that all who need help should be supplied, while the immigrants are landing at Halifax and St John, as it is very difficult to get them to come down this way after

The Man Who Crossed Niagara on Blondin's Back.

A few days ago there died in a West Side hospital, Chicago, a man who had one of the most thrilling sensations ever given to mortal.

Harry M Colcord was the man who, nearly half a century ago, the famous Blondin carried on his back river at the Falls of Niagara. The sensational aerial trip across the Falls of Niagara occurred Aug 14th, 1859. It was repeated twice afterward, the last time in the presence Edward VII of England.

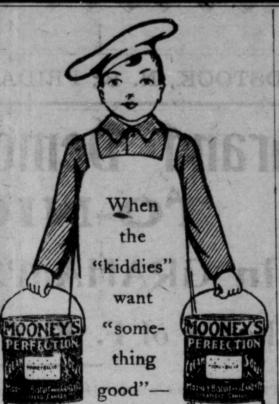

Even after the lapse of such a long space of time thrilling memory of his experience even remained vividly with Colcord.

HAUNTED BY THRILLING FEAT.

"The thought of it haunts me as closely as if it happened yesterday,' he used to say, "and often in my dreams it all comes back to me. Again I sway from side to side and pole oscillating; again I see the shores black with people and look | times. down the swirling river, far below, until we seem to be rushing upstream; again I descend from his back and and again I feel Blondin stumble and sway as the ruffians try to upset us, and I jump up in nervous terror and cold perspiration."

PERIL IN MIDAIR. "My first thrill occurred as we started; over the pine trees, whose sharp tops bristled far below us be tween cliff and the river, it seemed far more terrifying than out over the water. My heart was in my mouth as we started, but I had absolute confidence in Blodin, and I believed that he would get us across over a rope stretched across the all right. Our progress seemed to be dreadfully slow. The sight of the rapidly flowing river gave me a queer sensation; it was that we were moving up it at a great rate and going but very slowly toward of the Prince of Wales, now King the opposite bank. Every now and then in order to give him a rest, I had te get off Blondin's back and stand behind him on the rope, steadying himself with my hands around his waist while he balanced with the pole.

"Imagine the situation-getting down off a man's back hundreds of feet in air, feeling for and standing on a taut vibrating rope, and holding on to him, clad in the slippery tights, when the least false move or lay myself like a dead weight as loss of presence of mind on the part Blondin goes onward, step by step, of one or other might plunge you the rope swaying and his balancing both into eternity. And this getting on and off had to be repeated seven

"When we reached the middle of our journey, at the forty feet unsupported by guy lines, Blondin sudstand on the taut, vibrating rope, denly tottered and swayed, and his balancing pole began furiously thrashing up and down. we toiled up the slope of the rope towards the American bank we confronted an immense sca of faces, intense with interest, alarm, fear. A band was trying to play, but the wrought-up musicians could only evoke-discordant notes. As we approached the bank there was an immense danger that the spectators might crowd us over the cliff and others along with us. At my advice Bolndin rushed into the throng as far as he could go. There was a great cheer, and the danger was over."

For his intepidity Harry Colcord was made the recipient of numerous substantial testimonials. Blondin was presented with a handsome diamondstudded gold watch and chain, while the representatives of railroad, steamboat and hotels prevented him with sums aggregating a few thousand dollars.

A second time that fall Blondin carried Colcord across the river, the passage being without special incident. The third crossing was made, over the whirlpool, in August, 1860. in the presence of the Prince of Wales and a gathering of about a quarter of a million people. Immense grand stands were erected on both sides of the river and the admission fee was a dollar. Doors placed at regular intervals gave admission to the stands, and among the ticket takers, were several men now well-known in Chicago.

THE BEST Fire Insurance

IS that which gives PERFECT SECURITY at the most equitable rates. The Non-tariff Companies, which I represent, have more paid up capital in proportion to risks involved than any other Companies. They do not take hazardous risks, and can therefore do a safe business at lower rates than other Companies can. These Companies are noted for equitable djustment of losses and prompt payments.

Many of the best business men in the Dominion, and in this County, insure in these Companies. These are the safest and best. GEO. L. HOLYOKE.
