Office of the George W. Gibson Company, Ltd.

On or about the first of May next we will be prepared to carry on at the Town of Woodstock a Gentlemen's Furnishings and Custom Tailoring business. We will by then have taken over the extensive tailoring business for so many years conducted by George W. Gibson. In addition we will be prepared to deal in the famous "Twentieth Century" brand of clothing, for which we will have the exclusive selling rights for this vicinity. We will also be prepared to furnish our customers with the various kinds of Men's Clothing of exceptional quality, Hats and Caps, Neckwear, Haberdashery, and generally all those various lines that go to make up the stock in trade of a first class Gentlemen's Furnishings Establishment.

The business will be personally supervised by Messrs George W. Gibson and John S. Eagles, both of whom are well known as experienced and capable business men. Mr. Gibson will give his entire personal attention to the tailoring department of the business. These gentlemen will have associated with them Mr. William B. Drysdale, an expert pressman of long experience. Our establishment will be situated on Main Street a few doors below the post office. The location is a central one and the premises are large, well-ordered and convenient.

We respectfully solicit your patronage.

Presentation to Rev. C. N. Barton.

Rev. C. N. Barton has resigned his pastorate at Meductic and accepted a call from Milltown.

On Saturday evening, April 21st, he was given a parting reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Olts. During the evening Mr. Olts presented Mr. Barton with an address and a valuable gold watch, the latter being a present from members of his congregation. After the presentation the guests partook of cake and ice cream.

On the following Sunday afternoon Mr. Barton baptised seven candidates at Lower Woodstock. In the evening he preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation in the Baptist church at Meductic.—Com.

The Circuit Court.

Chief Justice Tuck presided at the April term of the Circuit Court held on Tuesday at Upper Woodstock. There was one criminal and one civil case, both of which went over until the October circuit. The members of the Grand Jury were James Drysdale, R. W. Bull, C. P. Phillips, W. A. Estey, H. E. Burt, James Carr, W. H. Everett, A. G. Bailey, A. Smith, C. R. Watson, C. Ring, B. B. Manzer, H. D. Stevens, A. Myles, C. L. Smith, W. B. Belyea, J. P. Malaney, G. F. Smith, D. A. Grant, A. S. Bunn, R. Flemming, and N. F. Thorne. The Chief Justice in his charge told the jurors that he was happy to find only one case for their consideration, The King versus C. R. Shaw, in itself not at all a serious one. He briefly sketched the case as outlined in the depositions and the evidence given by the complainant, Conductor McKendrick, who alleged that on the 8th day of the present month he was fired upon by the defendant at Pembroke, on a farm in dispute between the parties. The Judge also told the jurors that the court house as at present located, is not in keeping with other things in this fair country. It is almost a disgrace that all parties have to be put to the expense and inconvenience arising out of present conditions. He appealed to the County Council to remedy the conditions of affairs.

After about an hour's deliberation the grand jury by a vote of 12 to 9 brought in a "true bill" against Shaw. They unanimously passed a resolution calling upon the County Council to erect a new court house in town on the County lot. His Honor thanked the jurors for their labors, and dismissed them. The Shaw case, on motion of F. B. Carvell M. P., counsel for the defendant, was postponed until October, Solicitor General Jones and Mr. J. C. Hartley, representing the crown and McKendrick, consenting thereto.

The only civil case, that of Mrs. Milmore vs. The Town of Woodstock, was also postponed on application of Mr. A. B. Connell, counsel for the Town. Daniel Mullin K. C., St. John, appeared for Mrs. Milmore.

Grand Juries for some time past have been urging the County Council to erect a new Court House in the Town. All the Judges take the same view, and some of them will soon cease holding court at the Upper Corner. The county will be put to the expense of leasing some suitable building in the Town. It is surely up to the Council.

"The Transcript," on Carvell and the G. T. P.

Says the Moncton Transcript:—"The oversight on the part of those who advocate a particular route for the G. T. P. through New Brunswick, is that they forget the road is not being built for the accommodation of existing settlers in this province, but to provide the shortest possible route on a four-tenth of one per cent grade from the West to the East. If Mr. Carvell, M. P., can succeed in persuading the engineers and the government that the route which he favors best suits those requirements that is within his right and duty. At any rate the people of Carleton County have reason for congratulating themselves upon having an eloquent representative who is putting up such an excellent persistent fight for a route which he deems most in their interests. If Mr. Carvell fails, it will not be because of lacking energy, but merely that the interests of the country as a whole stand apart from those of a particular locality. Mr. Carvell who speaks for his constituents is a great improvement upon his predecessor who didn't."

Our Westmorland contemporary well knows how to appreciate a fighter, but has very little warrant for the statement contained in the first sentence of the above excerpt. Without local traffic any railway would be a howling failure. If the G. T. P. comes down the Valley it will be following a route through this province without a single grade anything like four-tenths of one per cent. Indeed all along the Valley it will be hard to discover an elevation one-tenth of one per cent. A saving of at least one hour in time and one-third greater carrying capacity will be secured by the Valley Route as compared with the very shortest four-tenths grade that can be obtained through the centre of the province, where there will for a hundred years be less than enough local traffic to be worth considering. Contrast this with the Valley, where almost a dead level grade is to be found, a local traffic sufficient to pay all running expenses, and where there will be a great saving of time and fuel, not to mention the great and undoubtedly vaster carrying capacity along this route. Even should the dead level and thickly settled Valley Route be a few miles longer than the proposed Central howling wilderness four-tenths location, what private corporation would choose the latter? If that be the case, why should the government engineers not decide to recommend the common sense location?

THE BANQUET.

About eighty friends of Messrs Smith and Flemming attended the banquet in their honor given at the Carlisle Hotel Wednesday evening. Besides the guests of honor there were present as special guests Messrs Morrison, Maxwell and Grimmer, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Organizer Hubbard, J. Douglas Black of the Gleaner, and Major Troy. The up-river contingent included Major Tompkins, J. R. Jameson, Charles Trafton Boyer, James R. H. Simms, Asa Bell, Titus J. Carter, Chalmers Darrach, B. R. Clark, S. W. Smith and several others. The local "lights" were about all in attendance, but there were many notable vacancies in the expected local representation. Many of the solid men of the party, in former years, were conspicuous by their absence. Host Tabor and his assistants certainly did their part to perfection. Gastronomically the feast was a great success. Mr. E. R. Teed, the new president of the association occupied the chair. On either side of him sat Messrs Smith and Flemming. Rousing addresses were given by the chairman, the guests of honor, Mr. Hazen, Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Grimmer, Col. Vince, Mr. Calder, Mr. Tompkins and others. The oratory did not subside until about 4 a.m. Of course all hands prophesied the speedy downfall of the local government. Those who got up the banquet have every reason to feel proud of their effort.

Notice.

The members of Carleton Lodge No. 41 Odd Fellows Woodstock, will observe "Memorial Day" by attending Methodist Church on Sunday, May 6th, at 11 a.m. They will march in a body from their hall headed by the 67th Regt Band. Rev. Mr. Ross will deliver a sermon suitable to the occasion. All Odd Fellows including Ancient Odd Fellows are cordially invited to join in attendance.

Mr. Phillips Replies to "Society Member".

In the SENTINEL of 21st we notice an article published by a "Member of the Society" (who had not the courage to sign his name,) regarding what he calls a Sale of Live Stock in one place and a Sale of Fat Stock in another. These are very indefinite, and not specific.

Fortunately he opened fire with obsolete and short range guns and caused little impression. Now Mr. Editor, what was the motion I brought before the Society. It was this: An annual Sale of Pure Bred Cattle, Sheep, and Swine, of all breeds and also Horses if thought advisable. Now Sir, if Shorthorns are not wanted in this part of N. B. the motion gives you a golden opportunity to sell what you contend alone is wanted, solely the dairy breeds.

If only Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins, are sold at this sale, you will have succeeded in increasing the production of the inferior quality of the beef you quoted at 4 or 5. If a number of Shorthorns are also sold the chances are good to in the near future increase that price.

As to butter it was 20 cts in the fall of 1905. As a farmer I wish it was more. But you did not tell us how much butter was produced in Carleton County by the Creamery Co. as compared with other years. In 1903..... 81,216 lbs
In 1904..... 56,151 lbs
In 1905..... 37,280 lbs
Of course this is only the Creamery report. A large amount is turned out by private dairies. Throughout this entire section, scarcely two thirds as many cows are milked as five years ago. Why is this marked decrease general. I have yet to hear from that man who dropped the line of his business that paid him best. I sincerely hope for better times for this industry.

He also says I ask the Society for a $1000 building in which to hold a Sale. Not a word was mentioned as yet regarding a building for this purpose. No trouble will be had in this direction, as a place to hold a few head of cattle for say two days can be obtained for a trifle.

I can quite safely say from a recent letter from the Supt of the C. P. R. that a competent Auctioneer will not cost us a very large amount. He further said he would aid advertising in every way possible and when that time arrived to notify him.

Will a Sale pay has been asked. The promoters of all the varied interests in the business would have rightly asked that question, but experiment alone has answered it. No one expects to get rich out of such a sale, nor did I say it would bring the "enormous" crowd to Woodstock. I am confident it will greatly benefit a Seed Fair.

If your contentions are true the dairy breeds will stand a good chance of profitable disposal. According to statements made by this most useful "Member of the Society" he has got clear through the alphabet of Agriculture. Now Sir you are just the man that is wanted at St. Anne De Bellevue by Sir William C. McDonald, and also at the Guelph Agr College. Of course they have never heard of you. What a splendid salary you can command. Prof. Robertson will stand a poor chance. The faculty of these splendid institutions (which are a credit to Canada) tell us without hesitation they as yet scarcely know the A. B. C. in Agricultural research, and is yet in its infancy. Physically you may measure up to the average of these men, but intellectually we have our doubts. A man who in this day of rapid progress in the Agr and mercantile world, when that which stands first in its class to day is secondary to-morrow, says he can learn no more, has most surely outlived his usefulness.

A few remarks about the expense I and a few others are accused of saddling upon the Society. The Provincial Department of Agr has on several occasions taken money from the treasury and made importations of Pure Bred Stock. Well and good. The Societies who receive grants from the same source have in many cases done the same. Thus far well and good. In both of these cases the money has gone out of the country. Now I ask the readers of the SENTINEL if it is against the best interests of this section to have a Sale of Pure Bred Stock contributed by local breeders thus keeping the money heretofore sent out retained in it? At the same time we are fostering the interests of the local breeder, who have never received one Dollar to assist them in their importations.

The "Member of the Society" says continue to send to Ont or Nova Scotia, give the preference to their breeders pay the higher prices for the same individual, pay the extra cost of transportation, build up Ont. I feel more loyal to Carleton County than to any part of Canada, loyal to the Town of Woodstock. Here such a sale should be held in conjunction with our Seed Fair. Let the 99 per cent useful Members of the Society take hold of it. We believe they will. Another reason why we should have such a sale. At Amherst a Guernsey bull, about a year old contributed by a Carleton County breeder, when brought into the ring received a bid of $10. A Shorthorn heifer of the same age got by one of the so called C. P. R. culls sold readily at $8. As it entails an expense of six to eight dollars to get to Amherst, would it not be better to have sold the Guernsey at Woodstock where he is in so much demand and give the owner all the $18 profit.

A good deal has been said about these C. P. R. culls. Now, sir, I have never heard a man who bought one, but was well satisfied with the money invested. This ought to be enough to stop this cavilling. While there are some good specimens of pure bred Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins and Ayrshires in this county, their admirers will admit there are inferior ones.

One more thing in conclusion. Not a word was ever said in the press against the merits of the pure bred stock of the dairy breeds when imported here, but the minute the Shorthorn arrived trouble is on. I do not know why it was, but some think it was jealousy because of the splendid physique of their new neighbor. I am not here to antagonize breeds, there is room for all. Having selected your breed and believe in its merits stick to it. This ends the controversy with me. Thanking the Editor for this space.

Getting Ready for the Job.

The witty one seems to be in training for the editorial chair of our King Street contemporary, if we are to judge by the first editorial of Monday's issue. The facility with which he speaks of polecats, hen houses, etc, gives an index to his high and lofty tastes. The style betrays the author.

Another Big Time.

Since Mr. Hazen has called to his help the services of Mr. Hubbard, the worthy organizer and would-be candidate for Sunbury seems to be devoting his energies to the holding of banquets, picnics, etc. The Woodstock blow-out was the first. The second is announced for Gagetown on July 1st. The third will doubtless be held in St. John at a date to be announced.

The writer of the leading editorial in Monday's Press was as proud of his production as an old hen that had just brought out a chick. The funny fellow was so tickled with his "piece" that he had to run around among the faithful showing it and owing to its authorship.

Hon. W. P. Jones attended the meeting of the Executive in Fredericton this week.

SEED Pedigree.

You consider pedigree valuable in a horse, it is more so in seed. The basis of pedigree is that like produces like. Our seeds were planted from good seed and raised purposely for seeds which leaves no doubt as to kind, variety or productiveness. This should make them more valuable to you than seeds bought from houses who don't raise an acre of anything, but who buy their seed wherever they can be picked up. Besides these reliable seeds cost no more. Plant good seed and insure a good crop.

WE SELL EWING'S RELIABLE SEED.
