

Help! Help! I'm Falling

Thus cried the hair. And a kind neighbor came to the rescue with a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair was saved! This was because Ayer's Hair Vigor is a regular hair medicine. Falling hair is caused by a germ, and this medicine completely destroys these germs. Then the healthy scalp gives rich, healthy hair.

JOTTINGS.

Mr James S Beek, at the age of 92 resigned the Auditor Generalship Oct 31st, a position which he has held for over thirty years with credit to himself and advantage to the province. Mr Wilson Loudon who has for some time acted as assistant, and according to Mr Beek with much acceptance, has very fittingly been promoted to the position.

Ensign Freeman is here superintending the erection of the Barracks for the Army. Mr Hartley, Town Solicitor, has wisely interpreted the law in favor of allowing the construction to proceed. The citizens are liberally helping the Army, Hon H A Connell having started the ball rolling with a $40 contribution. A bequest in the Fisher will provides $300.

At a meeting of the School Board held Wednesday Mr W B Belyea was chosen acting chairman during the absence of Mr Baird. A letter was received from Dr Inch re the Sloyd work, and Trustees Belyea, Thorne, Balmain and Nicholson were appointed to arrange the work for the next year. No change will be made until after Christmas. It is probable that a volunteer class of girls will be made up next term from the 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

In the contest at C C Shaw's store in Avondale, announced some time ago, Victor Miller won first prize, a water set—while Moses Prosser took second honors, carrying off a water pitcher. The contest was intensely interesting, and Mr Shaw feels well satisfied with the result.

A young man named Billings of Millville was shot on Monday morning near Foreston by Garfield Biggar who mistook him for a deer. The bullet passed through his arm near the shoulder, fracturing the bone. The wounded man, accompanied by Biggar, came into Bristol yesterday for surgical treatment, and went on to Woodstock.

(NOTE. The Hospital physicians think the man's arm may be saved.)

Wooden cheeks are the sort of thing men would expect to find used in China or Tibet, but as a matter of fact, they were used in England from the earliest times down to as late as 1834.

Tallies, as they were called, were made out of a curved piece of hazel, notches being cut along the edges to stand for a certain sum of money. The tally was then sawed half through below the lowest notch and the notched part split into two pieces, on both of which the notches appeared.

These pieces served as check and counterfoil, the latter being always the larger piece with the unnotched end as a kind of handle. The smaller piece was then taken by the payee, the larger sent to the person on whom the check was drawn, generally a collector of customs or other revenues, public or private. He would honor the check on finding that the two pieces fitted and had the amount credited to him by the drawer on returning them together to him. Thus were the great danger and expense of transporting large sums of coin avoided.

Forgery of a tally was obviously impossible unless a new counterfoil could be substituted, and if stolen in the ordinary way it would be of little use to the thief, for, unlike our checks, there was nothing to show on whom it was drawn.

There are still a good many tallies in existence, but the majority were burned in the great fire which destroyed the old houses of parliament. The remainder are chiefly to be found in the public record office and no doubt also in the monument rooms of great land owners.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

Two Grateful Letters from Women Who Avoided
Serious Operations.—Many Women Suffering from Like Conditions Will Be Interested.

When a physician tells a woman, suffering from female trouble, that an operation is necessary it, of course, frightens her.

The very thought of the operating table and the knife strikes terror to her heart. As one woman expressed it, when told by her physician that she must undergo an operation she felt that her death knell had sounded.

Our hospitals are full of women who are there for just such operations! It is quite true that these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but such cases are much rarer than is generally supposed, because a great many women have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after the doctors had said an operation must be performed. In fact, up to the point where the knife must be used to secure instant relief, this medicine is certain to help.

The strongest and most grateful statements possible to make come from women who, by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have escaped serious operations.

Mrs. Robert Glenn of 434 Marie St., Ottawa, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so well and widely known that it does not need my recommendation, but I am pleased to add it to the many which you have in its favor. I have suffered untold agonies from a serious female trouble for nearly three years, and the doctors told me that I must undergo an operation, but as I was unwilling to do this, I tried your Vegetable Compound, and I am only too pleased that I did so, for it restored me to perfect health, saving me the pain of an operation and the immense bills attending the same. Pray accept my hearty thanks and best wishes."

Miss Margaret Merkle of 275 3d Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, severe shooting pains through the pelvic organs, cramps, bearing-down pains, and an irritable disposition compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination, said that I had a serious female trouble and ulceration, and advised an operation as my only hope. To this I strongly objected—and I decided as a last resort to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"To my surprise the ulceration healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared, and I am once more strong, vigorous and well; and I cannot express my thanks for what it has done for me."

Serious feminine troubles are steadily on the increase among women—and before submitting to an operation every woman should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been curing the worst forms of female complaints, all functional troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement, weakness, irregularities, indigestion and nervous prostration. Any woman who could read the many grateful letters on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office would be convinced of the efficiency of her advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
