

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements, or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss. Alma Robitaille, of 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que., tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Overwork and long hours at the office, together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my

MR CARVELL AGAIN.

The Press on Monday published a mean article on its front page for the evident purpose of poking fun at the member for Carleton. While we do not attach any importance to attacks coming from that source, there may be a few who for want of a contradiction would consider that the garbled and thereby scurrilous and insulting except that the managers of the Press saw fit to print, was really near the truth. For their benefit and also for the comfort and edification of the King street outfit, we have pleasure in proving that the member for Carleton is by no means the blockhead or knave that our contemporary strives so hatefully to make out. In order to call an unbiased witness, we will give the testimony of the editor of the Montreal Herald, who in a recent letter to the great daily for which he writes has the following interesting paragraph:—

"Mr Carvell, a New Brunswicker, is another of this season's developments. He is a fighter from away back, so much so that they say in every election contest he gets into at home he leaves a trail of his own and his antagonists' controversial blood. Fighting qualities like this have had plenty of scope in the committees this session, and Mr Carvell has not been backward. He is bright and able, his mind and purpose are always clear, he has undoubtedly caught the eye of the House, and is hereafter to be reckoned with in any forecasts of the New Brunswick situation."

Hon. Wendell P. Jones Off to the Old Country.

The solicitor general accompanied by Mrs Jones left here Tuesday evening for Montreal, from which city they sailed yesterday on the C P R steamship "Lake Manitoba" to Liverpool. The solicitor goes at the request of the local government to argue the appeal from the judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada in the famous Emerson vs Maddison case involving the rights of an intruder to crown land.

The case was considered so important that the local government decided at the request of men of all sides to pay the costs of an appeal to the privy council and therefore for all settle the disputed point. Argument will be heard before the Lords of the Privy Council early in July. Hon H A Powell of Sackville will appear for Maddison. While on the other side Mr Jones will make his headquarters in the Hotel Metropole one of London's famous stopping places, where he will be glad to receive and answer any correspondence from his friends and clients. While in the old country his office will be open as usual with a competent clerk to attend routine work. All matters of importance will be referred to the solicitor either by letter or cable.

After spending a few days sight-seeing on the continent and in the British Isles after the conclusion of his legal work, Hon Mr Jones will return on or about the first of August.

DROWNED IN THE CREEK.

H W McClary, a well-known teamster went up the creek last Saturday night equipped with a bag of grub and fishing tackle. It was his intention to spend the following day fishing and canoeing up the stream. As he had not returned on Monday morning his wife and friends became anxious for his safety and searching parties were hurriedly sent up stream. Pretty good evidence was soon discovered that there was something wrong, as his boat, a small and rather unseaworthy craft was found bottom up, and his food and fishing outfit were also dragged up near the spot.

All day grappling was continued but not until Tuesday was the body discovered in the water near the mouth of McQuarrie brook, a small tributary of the Madawaska.

Coroner Hay was at once summoned, and after viewing the remains granted permission for their removal to the undertaking rooms of Jacob Vanwart. That night in the town hall a coroner's jury heard the evidence of those who had found the body and then brought in a verdict that deceased had met death by accidental drowning. The remains were taken to Glassville on Wednesday for interment. Deceased leaves a wife, formerly a Miss Lamont, but no children. He was about forty years old, and was well liked.

EMMERSON IS DOING WELL.

The Minister of Railways was able the other day to make a very satisfactory statement of the affairs of his department. He said that the I O R for the present year would show a surplus. Hon Mr Emerson very truthfully said that the utmost credit was due his assistant, Mr Butler, a gentleman of the greatest ability in railway management. It is certain that the country will now look upon the road as more of an asset than a sinkhole.

TWEEDIE WILL NOT RETIRE.

The premier says that the rumor that he is to retire is altogether untrue. The astute premier is a great fighter and it would be a calamity if he were to leave the political arena. Of course there are lots of men who think they would make good premiers, but there is no use swopping horses when you are crossing a stream.

We Will Soon Know the Worst!

In the Commons on Tuesday when the railway votes were under consideration the Minister of Railways said that in about a month he expected the government would be in a position to give out the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific in New Brunswick. We will thus soon get a chance to weep for joy or sorrow.

The Town Assessment.

This week the first batch of tax notices are being sent out. The recipients will observe that the total estimated expenditure for the year has been placed at $40,523, and the receipts at $5523, leaving a difference of just $32,000 to be raised by direct methods. For a town of perhaps less than 4,000 inhabitants a per capita tax of eight dollars on the average may well be considered quite high enough. Indeed it would seem as if this must be set down as the limit beyond which no council should go and still make any pretension in the direction of economy. The largest single item, and one it must be said over which the council has no control save that on the request of the trustees they must simply hand over the money, is the amount set aside for the maintenance of the public schools, $7,007.65. The next item in point of size is the interest on the debt, which this year reaches the large total of $5688, with a further amount of $400 set down to pay the interest on the overdraft. This matter of an annual charge of some six thousand dollars is one that stares the town in the face and gives very much concern to the ratepayers. Perhaps nothing can be done to lessen it but there should be a desperate effort to keep it from becoming any greater. Those who take the discount will be glad to learn that they have until July 23rd to secure the rebate.

The school Board seems to be in a peculiar difficulty owing to the fact that no tenders have been received for the construction of the new wing at the Broadway School. It seems that the local masons and contractors have their hands pretty full on account of the late fire and if the Trustees deserve any blame in the matter it must be set down as due to their delay in not going ahead some time ago. The building in which the Sloyd School has been housed for the past year is not now available for the purpose and so it begins to look as if that interesting department of school work, upon which however many do not look with favor, will have to be abandoned for a time at least.

The assessment as it this year presents on the whole a fairly even distribution of the amount to be collected. There never yet was a perfect assessment in this or any other town and we very much incline to the view that the men who framed the very last to claim for it any great degree of perfection. Be the case as it may we think a careful inspection will reveal the fact that the assessors have done fairly well on real estate and personal property, but have had great difficulty in adjusting the tax on income, and thereby have made some blunders,—not by any wilful means but rather on account of insufficient information. The income men can scarcely complain, however, as their lot is not a very hard one. Anyone who is inclined to be critical may be able to show up many inconsistencies in the list, but who ever heard tell of a perfect assessment? On the whole we feel like giving the assessors considerable credit for their fearless effort. One perhaps satisfactory thing to Mr Comben is the fact that the ex-principal assessor finds himself taxed on $100 less than last year when he himself set the rate.

Rheumatism

Ought to be called by its right name—Kidney Disease. Uric Acid gets in the blood, because the Kidneys are too weak to filter it out. "Blood purifiers"—"salts"—only relieve temporarily. Strengthen the kidneys to do their work, and there will be no more excruciating rheumatic pains. And until you do cure the kidneys you will suffer with Rheumatism.

GIN PILLS

cure Uric Acid Rheumatism by curing the Kidneys. They clean and purify the Kidneys—make them strong enough to do nature's work as it should be done. We have such implicit confidence in the remarkable virtues of GIN PILLS that we authorize druggists to refund the money if they fail to cure. At all druggists, 50c box, 4 boxes for $2.00 or we will send you a free trial box if you will write mentioning this paper. THE SOLE DRUG CO., WINNIPEG, MAN.
