Steamer Aberdeen Sold.

Capt George Perry of St John has bought the Steamer Aberdeen, for a sum in the vicinity of $1000. It is not yet known whether the craft will be put on this route next summer. It may be that the former owners will decide to build a much lighter draught vessel for the Fredericton—Woodstock route in case Capt Perry signifies his intention of abandoning the up river district. There is a subsidy of $900 per year,—something worth getting after, as the traffic is always heavy. The right kind of a boat would prove a big money winner.

Another New Industry.

There is to be another steam laundry in town. The parties forming the company are keeping pretty well out of sight, but nearly all admit when cornered, that there is "something doing." A site has been selected on Campbell street and the promoters say they are going to put in a first class plant.

JOTTINGS.

The SENTINEL thanks Jos Nixon and Miss M B Harrow for papers for which we recently asked. In order to complete a special file we need a copy for Aug 17th and also for Nov 2nd. Who will furnish either or both?

Senator Alexander Vidal of Sarnia is dead. He was about 87 years old, a native of England, and one of the original Senators. Above all else he was a conservative, and next to that an advocate of Temperance. In him the country loses one of its noble old men.

Major Bill Good is looking hale and hearty these days. He seems to be entirely well—in fact he says he never felt better in his life, and he looks it. As to going over the political course again, the Major claims he has no great hankering to trot another heat, but if the party want him, he may possibly consent to step at a lively enough gait for his opponents.

News From The Country.

Good Corner.

Miss Ida Merrithew of Madison, Me, has been visiting friends here. Joseph Anderson wears a smiling countenance. It's a girl.

Elisha Page is very sick with rheumatic fever. His eldest daughter has been very sick also, but we are glad to report she is recovering. A certain young lady visiting in this place is very fond of the name Michael when a ear in before it. Report says Rubys are found in abundance.

When your horse takes the toothache, go to the veterinary for examination.

A very pretty wedding took place recently at residence of Harold, when Miss Ada McClary was united in marriage to Edward Cane, by the Rev J A Cahill.

A large senerade followed in the evening. The party returned home in good cheer after partaking of a fine treat.

A certain young fellow from Centreville is turning still grayer. Has any one seen Harvey of late. A young man of this place has gone to digging graves.

The folks of this place are hauling potatoes.

The heavy fall of snow left the roads in a bad condition.

Nearly every kind of machine is used in this place. I wonder if some one will soon purchase a fool killer. A number of young folks attended the bean supper at Bloomfield Corner Saturday night and reported a good time.

When you go to a bean supper don't stop to a house that is locked up. If you want to send a secret message send it on the telephone. There was a chicken supper at the residence of G F Merrithew on the 14th inst.

The sum of $45.00 was raised which will go towards the building of a horse shed.

Mr James Roxborough is rejoicing at the arrival of a young son. SYLVIA.

Bloomfield.

Miles Dickinson has moved his family into the house vacated by E J Stokoe's family, who have gone to Fort Fairfield Junction to live. Mr Stokoe's mother, Mrs J C Foster, who had been spending some weeks with them, left for New Bedford, Mass, to spend the winter with another son, G A Stokoe.

Thos H Wilkins has moved to his winter residence in Monticello, Me.

Mrs Matilda Flemming is going to Boston to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs George Gardiner.

The I O G T Lodge had a bean supper in the Hall Saturday evening. A very enjoyable time was spent by all.

Mrs Edward Beckim is very ill with la grippe at the home of her daughter, Mrs Chas Carpenter.

Wm Beckim had the misfortune to break his left wrist while alighting from a waggon. The fracture was attended to by Dr Beairisto and is mending nicely.

Chicken-pox is going through the school here. Several of the children and a few of the older ones as well have taken it, but it is a very mild form.

L H London is at home with a bad felon on his left thumb.

A very sad event occurred Thursday when Mrs Percy Cunningham, a bride of less than a year, died at her home just a few hours after being operated on for a serious trouble. The funeral, largely attended, was at the Methodist Church Saturday afternoon. Rev Mr Ayers preached an eloquent sermon from Amos 4. 12, "Because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God," which was a solemn and impressive warning to the unsaved, as well as very comforting to the mourners who knew that their loved one was prepared, her last words being that she was ready either to live or to die and whichever way it was, would be satisfied.

Mrs W J Wiley and children spent a few days here with her mother, Mrs T D Stokoe.

Greenfield.

Miss Julia Wakem is at present visiting friends and relatives at Caribou, Me.

Mr and Mrs G W Lawson of St Almo spent a few days last week with their daughter, Mrs Arthur Armstrong.

Some of the young folk attended an oyster stew and dance at Brown Siding, Saturday evening.

The Sewing Guild was well attended at Mrs A W Lamoreaux's last Wednesday. A number of young folk were present and enjoyed themselves immensely. They will meet with Mrs T H Wakem on Nov 28th.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr and Mrs T H Wakem, Nov 13th, when a large number of friends and relatives joined in celebrating the 20th anniversary of their marriage. An elegant repast was served about eight o'clock, after which the company amused themselves with games and music. The couple were presented with a number of beautiful and useful presents, among them being an elegant White Brass Enameled Bedstead from her brothers and sisters.

The Misses Alanda and Bernice McKay, and brother Cecil visited at Mrs Hubert Brown's, Summerfield, one day recently.

One of our young men has a strong liking for porter lately. Hope it will not be serious.

Judson Kinney—who spent the past few years at Presque Isle, Me, visited his parents here a few days last week and then departed for Houlton Me, to attend Business College.

A couple of our young men left for Stockton Springs a short time ago to spend the winter, but returned again with the first snow.

Walter Bennett of Limestone spent the past week in Greenfield. Geo Estey has been confined to his house on account of illness.

A certain young man is often seen wending his way through the long swamp these dark nights. Hope he will not lose his way. Where is Don?

Andrew Carnegie is famous for the excellent advice that he gives to poor young men 'In considerable fear,' said a New York millionaire, 'I once consulted Mr Carnegie about a new venture. The business looked as if it ought to be profitable. There seemed to be a public need of it. Still, there was some risk involved, and I was afraid. But Mr Carnegie laughed at my fears. "It is a good thing, plunge in," he said. "Fear is what keeps untold millions from making fortunes. When Benjamin Franklin thought of starting a paper in Philadelphia, his mother, greatly alarmed, tried to dissuade him. She pointed out that there were already two newspapers in America."

Difference in Drug Buying.

There are two ways of buying Drugs. One, which is sometimes practised by druggists who simply want customers' money, is to order carelessly and never look at the goods when they arrive, but leave the placing in stock to inexperienced apprentices.

The other way is to be particular what quality is ordered and then see personally what is received. We stock our goods by the latter method. If drugs are ever below the standard, back they go. Customers never have a chance to get inferior, impure drugs here, and still our prices are as low as anybody's.
