The Demonstration.

the idea that the road would ever be built east of Quebec. This year he with the others have abandoned that doleful song, and admit the early construction. Mr Carvell here quoted Sir Wilfrid's reply to a question from the member from York in which the Premier reiterated his determination to follow the better route. Mr Carvell alluded to the opposition cries in the last campaign concerning Portland. A Voice,—"They won't get it there." (Great Cheering.) He said it is almost a calamity that St John and Halifax are so often quarreling. This jealousy hurts our chances. It is an eternal shame that the newspapers in the two ports keep up the fight. Geography is against the Maritime Provinces. Distance favors Portland as against either Halifax or St John. If we in the East do not unite we shall have a hard time to keep the products of the West from following the shortest track to tidewater. Referring to the export business at the port of St John, which he was extremely pleased to see growing, the speaker said he was firmly convinced that within five or ten years at most, McKenzie & Mann will have the Canadian Northern Railway running into that city, and pouring thousands of bushels of grain into the elevators there.

The Saskatchewan Land Deal, out of which the opposition vainly sought last session to extract some capital, was fully explained. In this connection the speaker said it unfortunately was the case that in past years too much land was granted in the form of railway subsidies, yet if ever a man honestly acquired wealth in this connection it is in the case of Hon Wm Pugsley, who at great personal sacrifice, retained his holdings through years of low prices, until finally the tide turned in his favor.

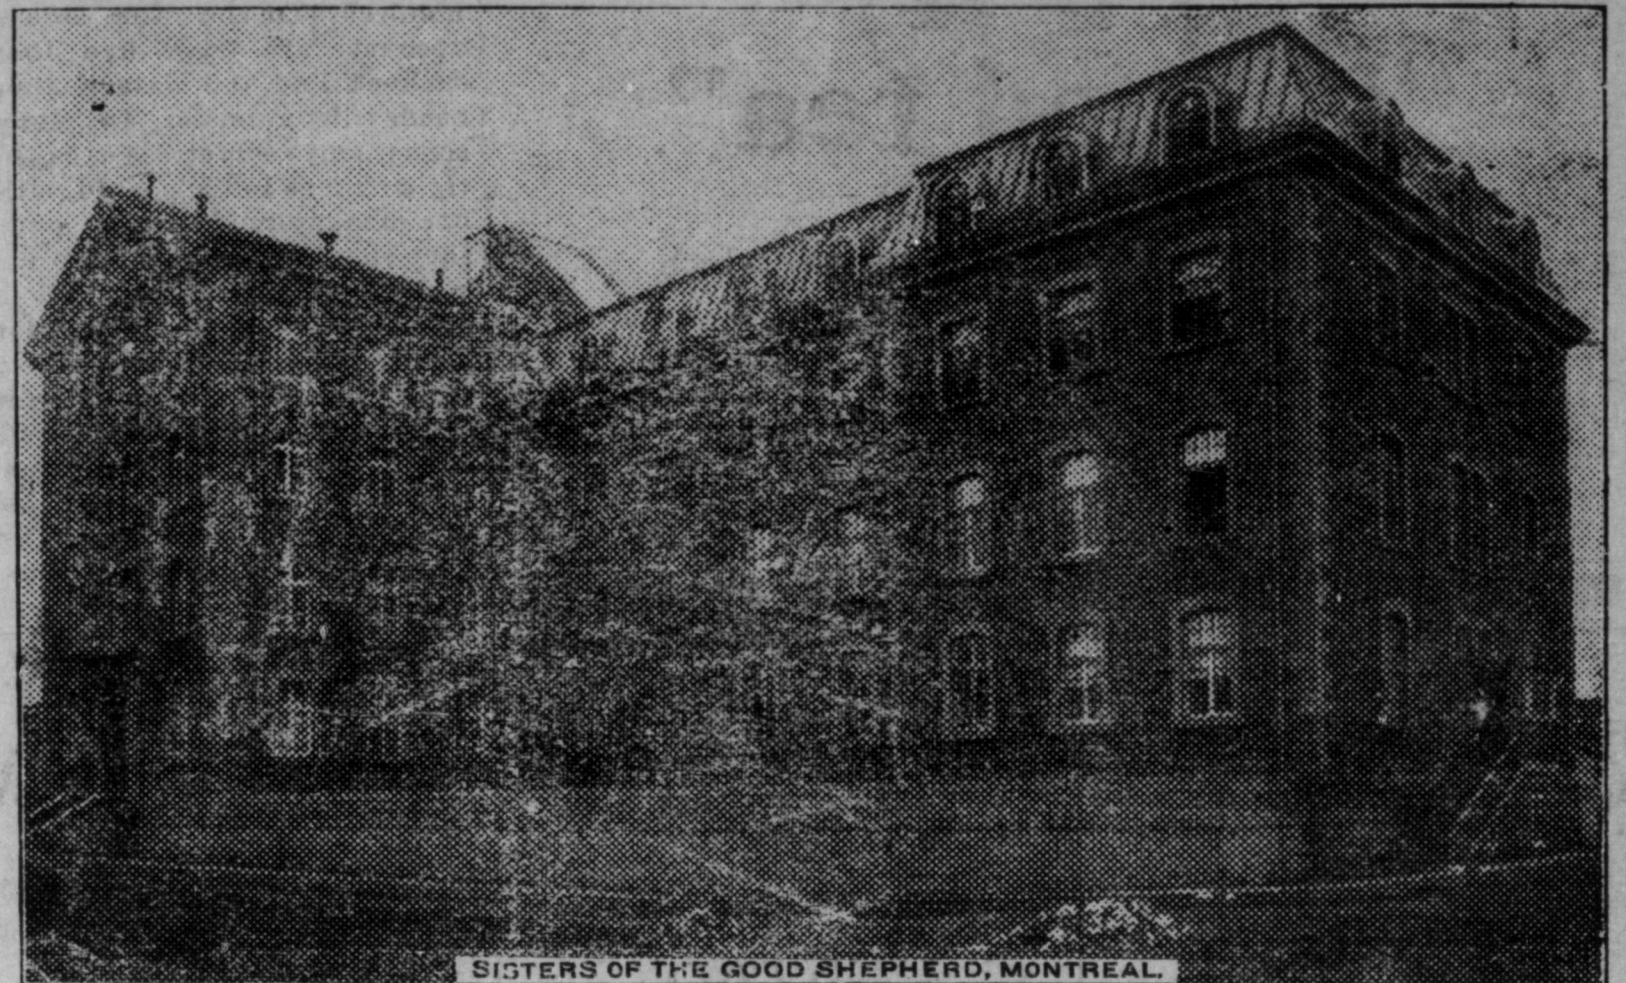

An able exposition was also given of the North Atlantic Trading Company Scandal, in which the opposition signally failed to prove any wrongdoing on the part of the government or its workers. Referring to this, he quoted the evidence of a conservative member, Mr Henderson of Halton, in which, after personal investigation on the other side of the water, the work of the immigration bureau is commended. The conservative purity cry was touched upon at considerable length. The speaker scored the opposition for their newfound virtue. It makes a man scratch his head when he thinks of Langevin, Connolly et al, and then hears Mr Borden or Mr Foster talk purity. Of course Mr Carvell said he could not but view with alarm the prevalence of electoral corruption, but did not see how the conservatives can take any credit for purity. They had been hounding Hyman. How many of them are any better? How many tory workers in Carleton County are there who are less guilty of corruption than Hyman's agents? Hon George E Foster came in for some aggressive comment. "He," said Mr Carvell "is the real leader of the opposition. Mr Borden is but the fly on the wheel." A group of Ontario Tories headed by Mr Foster, really lead the Opposition. Mr Borden, the titular head, is personally an amiable and honest man, but as a leader is not in it with those around him. Mr Carvell here gave a glowing picture of the great advances under Liberal rule. There has been an uninterrupted record of surpluses. The farmers were never so wealthy as they are to day. Under 18 years of tory rule the country stood still. During a decade of liberalism the country has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. The Fielding tariff was praised. The manufacturers have been forced to take a back seat. The producer must not dictate to the great body of consumers. The British preference, a great boon to the mother country granted by the liberals, is condemned by the opposition, and yet they claim to be ultra-loyal. In conclusion Mr Carvell paid a magnificent tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whom he declared to be the greatest man in Canadian public life, standing head and shoulders above all others. (Loud and continued Applause.)

Hon Frank J Sweeney of Moncton, Surveyor General, was next introduced. He said it gave him pleasure to be present. He was pleased to see such a splendid turnout, and delighted to honor Mr Carvell, whom he styled a capable lawyer, loyal Canadian, and excellent representative. (Applause.) He brought a greeting from the liberals of Westmorland, and felicitated the County upon possessing such a noble member, whom he declared is second to none in the Commons. It was a pleasure for him to speak highly of Mr Carvell, for he said last year he heard the member for Carleton make a speech in the House in favor of the St John Valley, and he did it well. Hon Mr Sweeney said he was absolutely convinced that should the G T P come down the Valley all

PROMINENT HOSPITALS SAY

PE-RU-NA DOES WONDERS

IN RELIEVING ALL CATARRHAL DISEASES.

SISTERS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, MONTREAL.

HOSPITALS ALL OVER THE CONTINENT FIND PE-RU-NA VALUABLE IN TREATING ALL CATARRHAL DISEASES.

CATARRH of the respiratory organs is a common ailment in Canada for at least two-thirds of the year.

This condition is no doubt caused by the long, severe winters experienced in this part of the continent.

Therefore, when Peruna was discovered by Canadian people to be a reliable remedy for these catarrhal diseases, it at once became a popular medicine, not only among individuals and in families, but in the great hospitals, where it was used as a preventative and relief in hundreds of cases.

These institutions do not hesitate to give their endorsement of the remedy which has been so helpful in the treatment of their poor and sick.

Among these institutions is that of the Sisters of Good Shepherd, who gave the following endorsement:

The Peruna Company,
Columbus, Ohio.

Having used Peruna for the past few months, for our sick and poor, we are happy to say that it has given us great satisfaction.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd,
August 20, 1903. Montreal.

After a continued use of the remedy, this institution has found no reason to change its good opinion of the remedy and expresses its satisfaction in the following terms:

Montreal, Nov. 7, 1903.
We found Peruna a relief in several cases.

We can say it is a good tonic and we are very thankful.

Sisters of the Good Shepherd.

When catarrh once fastens itself upon the system, it becomes an obstinate disease to eradicate.

A systemic remedy—one that reaches every internal organ of the body—is an absolute necessity.

Peruna is just such a remedy. It searches out the cause of the disease, healing and strengthening the mucous membranes, and thus giving Nature an opportunity to perform her part of the restorative process.

One of the many hospitals which have found Peruna of value in treating old and obstinate cases of catarrh is the Hospital St. John, who write, as follows:

"We are happy to tell you that your Peruna has given us satisfaction. Three patients have tried it, one 68 years old, Renou Dupuis, afflicted with catarrh, is much relieved, more than he has been for a number of years.

"A young girl, 15 years old, had an obstinate cough, which half a bottle of Peruna caused to disappear.

"As to myself, two bottles have convinced me that Peruna is magnificent as a tonic.

the credit will be due Mr Carvell. (Cheers.) He said if there were more men in the House with ability such as that possessed by our member it would be better for the Dominion.

He said we were also fortunate in having Hon Mr Jones as our local member. To give an idea of how that gentleman is regarded by outsiders Hon Mr Sweeney said that a little more than a year ago he was engaged as counsel for the defense in a case wherein the Solicitor General was prosecuting in behalf of the Crown, and after the trial when he was talking over the case, His Honor Judge Wells, who presided, told him he was simply astonished by the marked legal ability of the young Solicitor General. The Judge said never since the days when Hon A G Blair appeared in our courts had he listened to such a clear exposition of the law as that given by Hon Mr Jones. Hon Mr Sweeney reviewed the work in his department, and in closing expressed a wish for a full ticket of government supporters from our county next election, headed by the Solicitor General.

The Chairman, in introducing the next speaker, said we may not have the best local government on earth, but we most certainly have the best looking. Hon Wendell P Jones followed, and the extremely cordial greeting he received must have convinced him of the large place he holds in the esteem of the people. Mr Jones referred to Mr Carvell in eulogistic terms. That gentleman, he said, might almost be styled his political godfather, as it was due to Mr Carvell's persuasion that he (Jones) entered political life. Having made the step, he confessed his liking for it, and would remain in until the electors ordered him out. The Solicitor General explained some phases of the Road Act and other matters with which the legislature has to deal. As the hour was somewhat late, he did not speak at any great length, but contented himself with a short, and eloquent address, which evoked hearty applause. All the speakers were in excellent form. One of the gentlemen present from an up-river parish was heard to remark after the meeting that he doubted if three able representatives of liberalism could be found on any platform in the country.

The meeting was a great success, and will doubtless be the result of awakening a lively interest in political matters within the county. Mr Carvell returned Monday evening to resume his sessional duties at the Capital.

Nineteen Lives Lost.

The man-hunt in New England is over for the year. Statistics show that nineteen persons lost their life while hunting big game this fall in four of the New England group,—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. Of these a few died from self-inflicted wounds, but all save one from accident. Thirteen were mistaken for the hunted and shot by others in pursuit of game. When will this carnage cease? Will the laws of the country continue as they are, or will the legislators take mercy on the innocent, beautiful and harmless creatures inhabiting the forest, and by protecting them, incidentally prolong the existence of a score of precious human lives each year? Will our provincial government set the example?

The SENTINEL thanks its many subscribers for the hearty manner in which they are standing by the paper. There are many more in the county who should be on our list, however, and it seems as if there could be no better time to subscribe than just now.

Last year a great many adopted our suggestion to make the SENTINEL a Christmas present to some absent one. Your brother, sister, son or daughter is absent. A home letter 52 times in the year would be greatly appreciated. We look for scores to try the plan this month. Send us one dollar with the name of the party to whom you wish the paper sent, and we shall send them a little card acquainting them with the fact, and also the name of the donor. Don't forget to send a dollar for some friend. While we are on this tack we may as well remind all our friends that this month is the great renewal month of the year and all who have not already done so should send in the amount they owe, with an extra dollar in advance for the ensuing year.

The last troops of the British army have left Halifax for home. The event is a step in the evolution of the relations of motherland and colony that will create some feelings of regret. The presence of British regiments long ago ceased to be

"Before the treatment I could not walk for a quarter of an hour without experiencing much fatigue. Now I can walk a mile easily."

"Through these three cases we desire to make known to the public the efficiency of your remedy."

Hospital St. John, of St. Johns, Province of Quebec.

A later letter received from the same institution reads as follows:

"Three weeks ago I wrote to tell you how satisfactory we found Peruna. We recommend it highly for colds, coughs, catarrh and neuralgia."

"I have used it myself as a tonic with the best results, taken as directed, half a teaspoonful every half hour."

Peruna not only promptly relieves coughs and colds in their first stages, but is equally prompt and efficient for catarrhal diseases in the chronic stage. Of course, it is only reasonable to suppose that a great deal less medicine will be necessary to cure a slight attack of catarrh than would be required to relieve the ailment after it had been allowed to become chronic.

Directions for taking the remedy will be found on each bottle, also in Dr. Hartman's book, called "The Life of Life," which can be obtained from your druggist for the asking.

For special instructions write to Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

necessary in Canada, it is true, either from an imperial or a colonial point of view. The departed corps will doubtless fill a more important place in the scheme of general defense in their new stations, and Canada should be able to care for her own strategic positions. Yet the departure, breaking a chain of service that has lasted nearly a century and a half, will to many seem like breaking a link in another chain. It will be long before those who hastened it will get much credit for their work.—Montreal Gazette.

In a small west side restaurant the bill of fare is headed by this notice: "Regular dinner—Men 25 cents; Women, 15 cents."

"How is this?" asked a chance customer. "You charge us fellows 10 cents more for a meal than you do the women. What have we done that we should be discriminated against?"

"You eat more," was the plain rejoinder. "It doesn't cost nearly as much to feed the average woman as the average man, but we are the first concern in this part of the town that has been brave enough to say so. Many foreign restaurants have recognized that fact and have regulated their charges accordingly. Boarding houses, too, are well acquainted with the masculine appetite and satisfy its longings at a premium."—New York Post.
