THE CARLETON SENTINEL,
As an Advertising Medium
is a Business Getter.

UTTERLY UNRELIABLE.

The Press is driven to self-praise. It says:—"Political and all other kind of news printed in this paper can be relied upon. To adopt the motto of a New York newspaper; "If you see it in the Press, it's so."

This sounds very well, and may deceive a few who read only that paper, but even the dyed-in-the-wool will scarcely swallow the statement in its entirety. For instance, if they turn to the King Street free press organ of 31st October 1904, this amazing statement will be found:—

"The election of Mr Hale is conceded in every section of the county, except in the Sentinel Office." We also desire to point out the following remarkable exaggeration in the very same issue:—

"In Carleton not one level-headed man in a hundred can be found who will even claim that Carvell has any chance of beating Hale."

If the above excerpts, taken at random, do not prove the utter unreliability of the political news in the Press, the public only need turn to the issues of that paper in February and March of the year 1905, when whole tissues of falsehood, as was absolutely proven in the election trial, were published concerning the sheriff and the Solicitor General. To be candid, we submit that our neighbor cannot be truthful concerning politics. It is the same old habit. It was so in the early days of that organ. It is fitting that the new crew guide the ship in the same old track.

As for the Blain episode we may as well state right here that until the Press changes its ways no one will believe its version of any matter in which the member for Carleton figures. After that gentleman throws off the mortal coil he may get a square deal in the Press office, but living it is useless to look for it. The public appreciate the fact, and will in future, as in the past, take the King Street organ's statements at their true value. We repeat our charge that the alleged dialogue between Messrs Carvell and Blain is either utterly distorted, and false in form and substance, or else entirely a canard emanating from the fertile brain of some idle and mischievous personage.

THE RACES.

Last Thursday a small crowd witnessed some good racing at the track and incidentally a few events not on the card were worked off to the amusement of the sporting element.

The event that called for the most interest was the match race between Utatlan and Queen Inez for $500 a side and $100 added by the track management. This went to Queen Inez in straight heats without any trouble.

The 20 class had a big field and was another walkover, S A Rockford's Peacharina being the winner. The best time was 2 18 1/2.

The 23 class was a nice race, the best of the day, but had only three starters and was also won in straight heats. General Dufferin, a green one from Littleton made his debut and just about proved himself the best of the name that ever came down the pike, and anyone who knew the late J R Murphy would feel that had he been alive and able to see the race there would have been a great boom in the praise of this young scion of the mighty Dufferin.

In the third heat Harvey McCoy drove the colt out and finished in 2 22 1/2, officially. Jay Wilkes, driven by Jimmy Gallagher, the hero of many a race, was right on his wheel, and Andy Williams with Brown Dick was a big element all through the struggle. Gallagher's horse was lame, and Brown Dick hurt himself just before the race, else the story of the contest might have been different.

It begins to look as if Gertie Glen and the old war-horse and victor on many a field in days gone by, Joe Hal, got in company just a little too fast for them, and until we have a local horse that can go inside of 2 20 pretty consistently, the townsfolk will be slow to turn out, as it is not much fun to see the local horses always trimmed.

There were three or four pugilistic encounters on the grounds but the officers soon parted the belligerents. In one of these impromptu bouts Harvey McCoy put the bones to a local colored man in living fashion, and gave the crowd the impression that he is right in a class with the gent of the same name from the Hoosier state. The fountain head of "fun, pastime and amusement while at the races" also did a neat stroke of business.

Doctor Ross Currie is spending his holidays in Boston.

JOTTINGS.

Miss Annie Hipwell is visiting friends at Lakeville.

Dr Stephen E Tracy is visiting his parents in Richmond.

John Bloodworth of Upper Kent was in town on Monday.

Misses Edna and Helen Getchell of Limestone are the guests of Miss Helen Woolverton.

Miss Annie Colter has been appointed to the reserve teaching staff of the St John schools.

Miss Agnes McCormac of Boston is here for the summer, the guest of her father, John McCormac, Esq.

Mrs Guy Arnold and little daughter Fern, are visiting at Mrs Arnold's former home in Hayneville, York County.

Rev R G Fulton and wife were cordially welcomed by the congregation at a reception in the vestry on Monday evening.

Arthur Everett has returned home from East Bridgewater, Mass. Walter Everett is expected the first of the week.

The Ozar has dissolved the first Russian Parliament, which was elected only a few months ago. It is thought that the country is on the verge of a revolution.

By means of Life Insurance in The Manufacture Life, a man may buy in instantaneously a fortune, deliverable to his family at death, or to himself at the end of ten, fifteen or twenty years if he is then living.

Of course, you're going to St Gertrude's picnic which will be held this year on Tuesday, Aug 14th. New features and new attractions will be introduced. See ad in this issue for particulars.

Dr Hunter of Florenceville was here recently. He has not yet decided upon locating, although he may do so in Maine, where he has passed the State examinations as well as in this province.

Miss Ethel Smith B A, for the past year a teacher in the College Building, will not return, having secured a position at home in the Fredericton city schools. She is a capable teacher, and also decidedly popular in social circles.

Strong committees will endeavor to make St Gertrude's annual picnic this year the 'best ever.' Tuesday, Aug 14th, is the day and date selected. An ad in this issue will give fuller information. Remember the date and make no other engagement for that day.

Joseph Batman, colored, a deck-hand on steamer Victoria, was drowned in the river at Fredericton on Saturday evening. He was one of the best known of his race, and in day's gone by achieved considerable fame as a ball player. Mrs Nathaniel McIntyre of this town is a sister.

While in Woodstock circus day don't forget to call at Dr Manzer's office, the Home of Painless extracting. We can remove your teeth no matter how difficult they are to pull without the least pain, with our famous Ildonburt injected in the gum, perfectly painless. No sore gums or bad after effects and used by Dr Manzer only.

Lost—Somewhere in Main Street or Broadway, a purse containing two $10 bills, some silver, and a package of calling cards. The finder may keep the money if he will return the cards to the SENTINEL Office, where they make a specialty of all kinds of fancy and plain society printing. Lady's and Gent's calling cards in great variety.

Attorney General Pugsley, who is said to have cleared about half a million by the sale of his railway from Regina to Prince Albert, may decide to abandon politics and his profession, for a time. Lately his health has not been overly good, and a rest would probably do him untold benefit. As to the rumor that Hon Mr Pugsley is to abandon politics, we know nothing definite.

At the meeting of the Hospital Directors held in the town council chamber on Tuesday afternoon three new trustees were chosen. The names of Dr Rankin, Rev G D Ireland, W B Belyea, Colonel Dibblee and Hubert Seely were balloted on. The last three were elected. The meeting was very quiet. For the next year there will be no medical men on the governing board.

Russell Sage who began life as a clerk in a grocery store died Sunday in New York, the richest man in America from a strictly cash standpoint. He was a director in at least twenty-four large corporations and thought as much of a dollar as the humblest worker in the land. He would be ninety years old if he had lived until August, but he stuck to his trade of money making almost to the end. He owned the Shore Line Railway in this province.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Ottawa, July 25.—The Cabinet Council continues to hold session with the object of dealing with the large accumulation of routine business. It may be next week before all urgent matters are disposed of. The probabilities are that much of the more important business such as the appointment of judges and senators will be left over until after the holidays. It is not likely that the bye-elections will be brought on till the Autumn, particularly as there are likely to be more vacancies caused by appointments to office, etc., in the near future.

One of the most difficult matters Sir Wilfrid Laurier has to face is the appointment of a new Solicitor-General. The post will in all probability go to a Quebec member, or to Hon N A Belcourt, ex Speaker of the House of Commons, and senior member for Ottawa. The fact that Nova Scotia has two representatives in the Cabinet already, it is said may spoil the chances of Mr McLean, M. P., Lunenburg, and E. M. McDonald M. P., Pictou, the two blue nose aspirants for the post. Mr Carvell, of New Brunswick, may have a better chance, but the feeling in political circles is that a Quebec man will win out.—Gleaner

Mr T A Lindsay, Inspector Manufacture Life Assurance Co, Woodstock, N B:

Dear Sir,—I am in receipt of your Company's cheque in payment of claim under policy held by my late husband H W McCleary. Will you please thank your Co, for me for their promptness.

Yours truly,
NELLIE McCLEARY.

Barbour's Report.

Editor Sentinel:—

At the cost of perhaps at least $100 of the citizens' money, the Town Council went ahead and got a report from Engineer Barbour. The people who pay the bills would like to have a chance to see this wonderful document. All the wisdom and information cannot be locked up in the Town Council. The people who pay for it want to read this report. Will the Council give them a chance?

Good cheese, properly ripened, is a very nutritious and easily digested food. One pound of it is said to contain as much nutriment as 2 1/2 lbs of beef. Many of those who read the foregoing statement will be inclined to dispute the assertion that cheese is easily digested. That is because their experience has been with cheese only a few weeks old, which in reality is nothing more than insoluble and therefore indigestible curd. A well made cheese should not be eaten before it is six months old and if kept under proper conditions it will be better twelve months old.
