The foreign laborers are not at work to-day on the sewerage system for J B McManus Company, Limited. On Saturday afternoon the firm's timekeeper said that arrangements had been made for the Italians to go back to work at $1.75 per day, and pay day every two weeks, and the Italian foreman, Joseph Leavy confirmed the report. However, to-day the Italians did not go to work, and one of the Messrs. McManus said that he would not take the men back even if they would go to work for nothing. The Austrians could not agree on a price for the work they contemplated undertaking, and say they will go to Boston. It is said that the Italians will go to Quebec. The trouble between the Italians and the contractors is said to have arisen through one of the Italians, Angelo Mancinelli, raising a due bill from 43 cents to $14.35. Angelo had been working as a pipe layer's helper. After being detected at trying to raise the due bill, Angelo suddenly disappeared. Trouble with the foreigners could not have come at a more opportune time, as the supply of y's for the pipe laying has been very much lacking.—Globe.
