Mayor Munro in a Muddle.

The town council proceedings on Monday evening were intensely interesting. There was a lively scrap between Councillor Leighton on the one hand, and on the other His Worship Mayor Munro, aided somewhat by Coun Dunbar and the Town Clerk. The trouble arose over the vexed question of pumping the water and lighting the streets. Our readers are already familiar with the fact that some days ago a majority of the Water and Electric Light Committees decided to call for tenders under a scheme drawn up by the Mayor. The rival power companies under this plan are invited to state at what amount per kilowatt they will furnish sufficient power to pump water, and also to light the streets. Coun Dunbar, as chairman of the water committee, moved a resolution confirming the action of himself and Coun Fisher in issuing this call for tenders. His colleague being absent, nobody seconded this resolution, which of course, meant that the death knell of this pet scheme has been sounded. As the council thereby expressed its displeasure at the action of the Mayor and Couns Dunbar and Fisher, the whole subject was once more open for discussion. Coun Leighton rose, and stating he had a motion which he would move before resuming his seat, started in to make some preliminary remarks. His worship, no doubt nettled at the cold reception Coun Dunbar's motion received, seemed to lose his judgment entirely and in defiance of all parliamentary usage persisted in ruling Coun Leighton out of order. The mayor said that Coun Leighton must first make his motion, secure a seconder, and have the motion read from the chair before he could speak upon it. Of course no man who knows anything about parliamentary practice or the rules of debate would meekly submit to such a ruling. The point was argued with much warmth and vigour. At one stage the clerk sought to enlighten the board, but in the course of a spirited dialogue with Coun Leighton, was informed that he was not a member of the board,—in fact merely a servant, and should subside. After a lot of wrangling, and a fruitless search by the mayor in quest of something in the by laws to uphold his view of the case, Councillor Leighton proceeded. His motion, after some introducing sentences, was made in the following terms:—

Moved by Coun Leighton.
Seconded by Coun Henderson.
"That the Town Clerk be instructed, forthwith, to ask the Woodstock Electric Light Co. and the Woodstock Electric Railway Light and Power Company, to furnish sealed tenders to the Town Clerk, at any time up to 7 o'clock P.M. on Monday the 13th, inst, for furnishing Electric Power for pumping water and lighting the streets, as follows:—
Sufficient power, whenever required, to pump 125 million imperial gallons of water per year, payable monthly, and also sufficient power to operate 40 1200 C.P. enclosed arc lamps, on what is called the moonlight schedule from one hour after sun set until midnight, or moonlight schedule from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise, and carbon and keep in repair the same, also what amount per lamp in excess of 40 up to 50 as required by the Town, and what amount per 1000 gallons in addition to the 125 million gallons.
No tender will be received unless accompanied by a certified cheque for $500 to be forfeited to the Town if the Tenderer fails to enter into a contract within ten days after the tender is accepted.
The contract to be for 5 years and the price to be a lump sum for both services.
The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted."
In support of the resolution, Coun Leighton said he wanted something definite to figure upon. Engineer Barbour had made a report, some statements in which were not thought to be infallible. The scheme under which the Mayor and Councillors Dunbar and Fisher asked for tenders provided for estimates upon the cost per kilowatt. It seemed to the speaker that this would not be definite. What he wanted was a lump sum estimate under which a comparison could be made with the present cost. The town surely knows what it costs now to pump water and light the streets by the present use of steam power. If either of the rival power companies would offer to pump as much water as we are using yearly, and also to maintain 40 arc lights, for a sum less than the present cost, he would favor giving them the contract. He was there as spokesman for nobody. All he wanted was the best service consistent with economy. Coun Henderson seconded the motion and in doing so took occasion to express his entire disapproval of the action of the Water Committee.

Coun Dunbar made a few remarks, after which the Mayor mounted the rostrum and for ten or fifteen minutes vigorously assailed the motion. He wound up by declaring that he would consider it out of order unless Coun Leighton inserted a clause specifying that the estimate must not exceed one cent per kilowatt, the figure named by Engineer Barbour as the maximum at which electrical energy could be profitably employed. This precipitated a scene. The mayor was firm. He would not budge from his ruling, and Coun Leighton refused to acknowledge that a motion properly made, could be ruled out of order simply because its phraseology did not agree with the ideas of the chair. As there was nothing left but to appeal from the ruling of the chair, Coun Leighton perhaps wisely allowed the mayor to temporarily have his way. It does seem strange Mayor Munro should act in such an autocratic manner. His friends have given him credit for possessing mature judgment. No one, we are certain, could have witnessed the pitiful exhibition he made of himself, without feeling sure that chargin at the defeat of his pet plan must have been the motive for his arbitrary bluff game concerning Coun Leighton's motion. Surely his worship will not claim merely because Engineer Barbour says power ought to be purchased for one cent per kilowatt, this clause should be embodied in all requests for tenders. It is expressly stipulated in Councillor Leighton's motion that no tender need be accepted. The town stands to gain nothing by Mayor Munro's course. The motion which the Mayor rejected is a common sense presentation of affairs. It asks for bids under a plan by which any man can figure as to whether a saving will be possible. It is a pity that pique should cause the chief magistrate to follow such an arrogant course. We will not say that his action was deliberately taken in order to further the interest of any likely competitor, but if it was not, why was the mayor so persistent? He surely knew no harm could result to the town from the passage of the motion. We have in the past half century had all kinds of mayors,—good, bad and indifferent, but never it seems to us has a more utterly childish and indefensible course been pursued towards a motion than that taken by our present chief executive. At tonight's meeting the motion should be repeated, and if the mayor still persists in his course, there should be an appeal from the ruling. We are not living in the dark ages, neither is Woodstock a backwater in the domain of the Russian Czar.

Politicians, great and small, are on the move, the wise ones having scented an early local election. The Opposition are planning to hold their convention at no distant date. Their nomination will be the present members, Smith and Flemming, and Mr Hartley if he will accept. In the event of the latter not being willing to run, either Warden Bailey or Major John R. Tompkins will land the other place. So far the government supporters have remained quiet, but there is bound to be something doing before long. A big political picnic at Hartland is one of the possibilities for September, as several active workers in the parish have been moving in that direction.
