The Men on the "Arctic" Inquiry Committee.

An Ottawa correspondent of the Free Press says the famous "Arctic" Committee was made up of the very cream of the two parties in Parliament. He goes on to mention Messrs McLean; Carvell, Demers, Pardee, McCraney and McPherson, the liberals on the committee, as being about the best younger men on the government benches. Messrs Stockton, Northrup, Bergeron and Bennett are by no means secondraters, he says, and upheld the other side of the story as well as any of their confreres could have

DROWNING ACCIDENTS.

Willie Crai 33, 80 n of Walter Craigs of Sussex, was crowned here on Monday aft . . . The young man, who wa a' . n: 18 or 19, worked for WFC dan, liveryman, and on the day in question was washing a horse in the stream. By some means the boy lost his hold, and fell in the river. He could swim, but sank at once in about 20 feet of water. Passers by on the bridge saw the riderless horse, and an alarm was raised. Lester Hull bravely put out in a canoe, and diving to the bottom, brought up the remains and after a great struggle, reached the pier. Doctors Sprague, Rankin and Kierstead worked over the body but could not bring back the spark of life. The remains were interred Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist ceme-

A young man of this place while practising the coronet one day last week, caused much excitement, as a certain young lady living on Pleasant Street, thought the noise liam Lamont and Richard Bramley, no serious damage was done, only a sprained ankle and twisted neck.

Another form has passed from earth To that bright eternal shore For the heart that once beat gently

Is stilled forever more Yes death has darkened another

Leaving many's an aching heart But we have to bear our troubles For the dearest ones must part.

It was in the early summer When the birds sang sweet and

This fair young boy was taken ill Which proved that he must die Although medical aid was sent for And was with him night and day

He bore all his pain without a mur-

Always speaking good and kind To his parents and little brothers He so early left behind Till at last his time had come to go

And he was called to rest Tis hard to part with one we love But we must say God knows best.

His eager loving parents

As they watched o'er his low bed Saw his precious life was ebbing And their boy would soon be dead Then at that moment became reconciled

And with their kind friends prayed to Him.

Who is over kind and merciful To spare their darling Jim

And to give them strength to bear it For it seemed their hearts would

As they gazed upon that lifless form That never more would wake But to be laid in our country church yard Where the grass grows green and Never again to greet us Or answer to our call.

The home that he has left behind Seems vacant lone and drear Without that quiet loving voice They still yet seem to hear

Through the clover scented pastures And the fields all waving rgeen With his brother and little play.

He will never more be seen.

But midst a band of shining angels Where he'll never know no pain Sits our kind friend little Jimmie

Never to return again To this world that's full of sorrows And of hearts so sad and sore But to live in joy and happiness And peace forever more

Farewell then loved one adieu You have gone to your long last

Among the angels robed in white To a home that you love best We know not when we may be call-

But when that time has come We will hope to meet with thee Jim In that bright and happy home. G C McGuire is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING

FIRST.—Dip the article be washed in a tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it Be particular not to mis

out on a washboard and rub
the soap lightly over it.
Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and go on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are rolled up.

Then go away for thirty minutes to one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work.
NEXT.— After soaking
the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a wash board, and the dirt will drop out; turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scald or boil a single piece, and don't wash through two suds. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the suds for a few minutes.
LASTLY COMEG THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang
up to dry.

For Woolens and Flan-

up to dry.

For Woolens and Flannels proceed as follows:
Shake the articles fre. from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into

suntight soap into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and whisk into a lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse thoroughly in two relays of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air. The most delicete colors may be safely washed in the "Sun-light" way.

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.
