

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Color
Bearing of the Woman's Relief Corps,
Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1635 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:
"For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and tend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, though it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size."
"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Health is too valuable to risk in experiments with unknown and untried medicines or methods of treatment. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

A lawyer whose mouth was extraordinarily large, had on the witness stand a Southern backwoodsman. The witness had replied to a question that "It was a non-possibility." Quoth the lawyer: "A non-possibility? Now, will you tell this court and this jury what you mean by a non-possibility? (Give us an example.)" "Well," said the witness, "I think it 'ud be a non-possibility to make your mouf enny bigger without settin' your years farder back."

Lord Elgin's Qualities.

No one can deny that Lord Elgin, the new Colonial Secretary, was born in Montreal, but we do not see why that should be used to prejudice him in the eyes of the Empire at the present juncture. He was in no way responsible for the event. It is equally undeniable that he was born in the year 1849 when some persons in Montreal were burning down the Parliament Buildings and others were signing an annexation manifesto. There is not the least evidence that he has inherited a tendency to do either of these things. He has shown no disposition to put a match either to a material or a constitutional structure. He bore himself while Viceroy of India with great dignity and sagacity and his term of office is not associated with anything that lacks wisdom and statesmanship. Montreal may feel disappointed with its son; may have looked for something more sensational or incendiary in his career; may have watched the cables anxiously for reports of massacres of natives and the destruction of temples. Lord Elgin nobly declined to respond to the insidious influences of the year and place of his nativity. He has proved to the world that a man may be born in Montreal and by careful attention to duty and a strict avoidance of mobs and annexation-mongers grow up a useful and respected citizen. If by some strange mischance the new Under Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. Winston Churchill, had come from Montreal there might be grounds for dread apprehension, but his characteristics being thoroughly homebred the outlook is favorable.

Dr. Oliver A. Blumenthal.

Dr. Oliver A. Blumenthal, of Syracuse, N. Y., who had devoted his whole professional life to the study of the treatment of tuberculosis, died on Friday at Saranac Lake, a martyr to the cause, having contracted the disease a few months ago through constant association with his own patients. Dr. Blumenthal had made himself the leading tuberculosis specialist in Syracuse. He was optimistic in his treatment and held out his patients the hope that the disease was curable. Dr. Blumenthal started a dispensary for the gratuitous treatment of indigent tuberculosis victims several years ago. Its failure was a great disappointment to the young practitioner.

The Physic Habit

The Result of Using Salts, Castor Oil, etc., Instead of Thoroughly Curing Constipation by DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

"Oh, a dose of salts will fix me up all right," you say, when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidneys sluggish and congested. And the temporary relief you obtain in this way deceives you for a time, but you are soon in distress again, and must increase the dose and resort more frequently to the use of this weakening and debilitating treatment.

Constipation and intestinal indigestion cannot possibly be cured until the liver is made active in its work of filtering bile from the blood and pouring it into the intestines, where it acts as a natural cathartic, hastening the process of indigestion, and the removal of waste matter from the body.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and specific action on the liver. They not only afford prompt relief, but positively strengthen and invigorate the kidneys, liver and bowels. Instead of encouraging the physic habit, they thoroughly cure constipation, liver complaint, biliousness and kidney disease.

If you would like to regain your old time vigor, and feel strong and well again, use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The backaches and body pains will disappear, your appetite and digestion will be good, you will escape sickness and disease because the filtering and excretory organs will keep the body cleansed from poisonous waste matter.

Mrs. James W. Belyea, Belyea's Cove, Queens Co., N. B.: "We have kept Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills in the house as a family medicine for years and find them the most satisfactory of any remedy we can get. I can personally recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney and liver derangements and stomach troubles."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Backache-Plaster drives out all pains and aches.

Have you seen Prof. Gableton, the scientist, lately? Yes, I listened to him for more than an hour last night at the club. Indeed! What was he talking about? He didn't say. —Puck

Echoes of Botany Bay.

One Sunday a few years ago, while attending Divine service in the Presbyterian Church of a New South Wales township, my attention was attracted by a little old lady, thickly veiled and clad in a dress of rusty black, who glided silently into the corner of an empty seat. There was something that was deeply pathetic in her manner, and her attitude throughout the service was a silent appeal for sympathy.

At the earliest opportunity I sought information regarding the lady's history. "She is one of the old 'lads,'" was my informant's astonishing reply. The little lady was, in fact, one of the last batch of convicts transported from England to the region of Botany Bay, and in course of time she had been liberated on ticket-of-leave. The old hotelkeeper in the township was another ticket-of-leave man, and my friend a colonist of fifty years standing, who had gained the confidence of several "lads" in his time, warned me that "convict" was an awkward subject of conversation, because one never knew when he might be touching a very raw spot indeed in his auditor.

One day while walking with the old colonist we halted to pass the time of day with another very old man. Resuming our walk, my friend quietly remarked:—"I imagine you have had a unique experience to-day. You have just spoken to a man who was once 'cast' for death!" "What do you mean?" I queried in astonishment. "I mean the old man was once sentenced to death, but was reprieved, transported, and, by and by, liberated on ticket-of-leave." —D. H.

Lovers' Confessions.

If there is one thing which lovers should not confess to each other it is their old love affairs.

Does this advice seem to run contrary to the usual principle that between betrothed lovers, as between husband and wife, there should be no secrets? It is nevertheless founded upon good reasons.

It is proverbial that no man marries his first love. It is also pretty generally true that a woman rarely accepts her first wooer. Over and above the tentative little affairs in the way of walking out or corresponding there are plenty of engagements which end in smoke; each finds that the other is not a true affinity, so they wisely seek freedom to resume the quest for the destined "second self."

Where there has been an announced engagement it should certainly be frankly confessed by either man or woman. The other party is certain to hear of it, probably in a distorted form, so the one concerned should make a clean breast of it, candidly giving a true account of its breaking off. That is just the point out of which a former betrothed, if bearing malice, might make mischief so transparent candour is the only safeguard.

With the other cases it is quite different. No true woman boasts of her conquests, nor reckons up the lovers she has refused and those whom she has driven off by discouragement. The story of their ill-fated wooing is one about which in honour she is bound to be silent, seeing it is a secret in which another is concerned. Least of all should she tell it to the man who has succeeded where they have failed. That he has won her is victory enough; let him be content to leave the conquered under the grateful shelter of anonymity. Never, unless to protect herself from any false insinuation, should a woman name an old lover to her betrothed or her husband.

LORD ROSEBERY GRATIFIED

Lord Rosebery, addressing the Council of the Liberal League in London on the 11th inst., referred to the change of Government. He congratulated the Prime Minister on the position he had achieved, a position which was entirely his due in respect of his long fidelity to and his continuous exertions on behalf of the Liberal party. He also welcomed the infusion of young and fresh blood in the Government, and especially congratulated the four vice-presidents of the League on their inclusion in the Cabinet. He still adhered to his interpretation of Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's stirring speech, and urged that if there had been any misunderstanding on his part the Liberal leader could easily have cleared it away. The presence of the four vice-presidents of the League in the Cabinet showed, however, that they had received assurances on the point, and, sweeping aside the Bodmin speech altogether, he appealed to all members of the party to use every effort to secure for the present Government such a majority at the coming election as would not only render them independent of the Irish party, but would ensure a complete and decisive victory for the cause of Free Trade.

"I'm Well

Because of Liquezone," is a Tale Told Everywhere.

In almost every hamlet—every neighborhood—there are living examples of what Liquezone can do. Wherever you are, you need not go far to find some one who has been helped by it.

Talk to some of those cured ones; perhaps your own friends are among them. Ask if they advise you to try Liquezone. Or let us buy you a bottle, and learn its power for yourself. If you need help, please don't wait longer; don't stay sick. Let us show to you—as we have to millions—what Liquezone can do.

What Liquezone Is.

The virtues of Liquezone are derived solely from grapes. The formula is sent to each user. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is directed by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide. Contact with Liquezone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquezone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in germ disease. Liquezone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquezone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. Today there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquezone has done. But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquezone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquezone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

Asthma
Acidosis—Anemia
Bronchitis
Blood Poison
Bowel Troubles
Coughs—Colds
Consumption
Contagious Diseases
Cancer—Catarrh
Dysentery—Diarrhea

Skin Diseases
Tuberculosis
Tumors—Ulcers
Throat Troubles

Also most forms of the following:
Kidney Troubles
Liver Troubles
Rheumatism
Women's Diseases
Fever, inflammation or catarrh—impure or poisoned blood—usually indicate a germ attack. In serious debility Liquezone acts as a vitalizer, accomplishing remarkable results.

50c. Bottle Free.

If you need Liquezone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the product itself show you what it can do. In justice to yourself, please accept it today, for it places you under no obligations whatever. Liquezone costs 50c. and $1.
