MR. CARVELL

Demands Justice for the Maritime Provinces.

Our Representation Must Not be Further Decreased.

In the House of Commons last week there was a lively debate on the matter of the representation of the Maritime Provinces. As Quebec and the West are growing faster than the lower provinces, the East is gradually losing its representation in the Commons. Mr. Carvell and others declared that the law must be changed so that our province will not suffer any further losses. His speech, which was listened to with deep interest, is as follows:—

M. F. B. Carvell (Carleton, N. B.): I consider this matter, Mr. Speaker, of so much importance to the province of New Brunswick, that I do not feel justified in allowing it to go by without giving my views on the question. It was considered so important in the province of New Brunswick that our provincial Government undertook to pay the expenses of laying this matter before the Supreme Court of Canada as a special case and of appealing from the adverse decision of that court to the Privy Council of England. Unfortunately—and I use the word advisedly because I think it was a great misfortune—the Privy Council upheld the decision of the Supreme Court and as the result the consequences of that decision have been able set forth by my hon. friend from Pictou (Mr. Macdonald). I need not refer to the legal side of the question, but there is another side which I think of much greater importance. It is within the knowledge of many hon. members of this House, it is in fact a matter of history, that many serious objections were raised by the maritime provinces against entering confederation. It is of course a matter of history that insuperable difficulties had arisen between the old united provinces of Canada, consisting then of the two provinces now known as Quebec and Ontario, which rendered it impossible to carry on government in these united provinces, and the best means that could be devised to get rid of the deadlock was to confederate all the British American provinces. For that reason mainly was confederation brought about. It is also known that the province of Prince Edward Island at first absolutely refused to take any part in confederation. It is equally of record that the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia at first refused and in fact it was only after considerable discussion and perhaps enlightenment that these two provinces were induced to join with the others; but I would like to ask the right hon. leader of the government and every hon. gentleman in this House if at that time any one supposed that these provinces could have been induced to join confederation had they ever imagined that the representation which they were given by the last draft of the Quebec resolutions would eventually become reduced below that number. I admit that the basis of representation from the different provinces was to be governed by population. There is no escaping from that proposition. I also admit that that is the stumbling block against which we are face to face. But I submit that the principle of representation by population was not held inviolable or unchangeable like the laws of the Medes and Persians. Because when Prince Edward Island afterwards came into the union that province was actually given six members, when, according to population, it was only entitled to five. And again when British Columbia joined the union it was given six members, and it was further provided that its representation should never be less. Therefore the principle of representation by population is not something which cannot be changed and which we need have any scruples about asking the imperial parliament to change.

SAFEGUARD THE CHILDREN.

There is no telling when a medicine may be needed in homes where there are little ones. Therefore, the prudent mother will always keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets on hand. These Tablets promptly cure indigestion, colic, sour stomach, constipation, diarrhoea and teething troubles. They break up colds, prevent croup, expel worms, and give the child sound natural sleep. Mothers have the guarantee of a Government analyst that these Tablets contain no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. J. C. Gildart, Prosser Brook, N. B., says: "Baby's Own Tablets act like magic when a little one is ill, and I would not feel safe without a box in the house." You can get Baby's Own Tablets from your medicine dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville Ont.

He cannot pray for himself at all who prays for himself alone.

Unfortunately the courts have decided that the legal construction of the sections in the British North American Act compels us to submit to a decrease in our representation, but as has been ably pointed out by the hon. member for St. John (Mr. Stockton) and also by the hon. member for Pictou (Mr. Macdonald), the great difficulty arose from the fact that the unit has been changed, that the boundaries of the province of Quebec have been increased very largely, and the question is not now so much what took place in the past when confederation was framed. It is not such a serious matter that New Brunswick should have lost two members, Nova Scotia one, and Prince Edward Island two. That could pass. While serious enough, that is not so very serious. It is not so serious that we could not get along if no further changes took place. But the thing I am afraid of, the thing which looks unavoidable, is that on account of the increase of territory of the province of Quebec, it is probable that within a few years the representation of the maritime provinces will be so materially reduced that we shall no longer occupy anything like the position we expected we would, and the provinces of Quebec and Ontario and the British government expected we would, when confederation was consummated. We have only to remember that not only are the boundaries of the maritime provinces circumscribed, but the chances for increase in population, the prospects of maintaining our own, are not nearly as satisfactory as are those in the provinces of Quebec. We have not in the interior of New Brunswick any large quantity of land fit for settlement such as there is in the province of Quebec. We have very large quantities of land immensely valuable as timber property, but unfortunately, while worth untold dollars almost, that does not increase our population. Nova Scotia fortunately is in a better position. That province has valuable mines and fisheries, but as an agricultural country can never hope to compare with the province of Quebec. On the other hand, while the province of Prince Edward Island possesses every advantage from an agricultural standpoint, its boundaries are so circumscribed that in these days, when by means of machinery one man can cultivate as much land as four or five could thirty or forty years ago, we can expect no possible increase in the population of that province to compare with the growth in the province of Quebec. Therefore the natural possibilities of increase in population in the three maritime provinces are very much circumscribed compared with those in the province of Quebec. We all know that an immense territory has been opened up in the northern portion of Quebec. This territory which has been added to that province since confederation is going to be traversed by the Transcontinental Railway. Lands have been opened up upon the headwaters of the rivers entering the St. Lawrence, which were heretofore considered unfit for settlement. Lands are being opened up to-day in that province which in 1866 were supposed to be barren and unfit for cultivation or the support of any reasonable amount of population. For these reasons it seems to me a great injustice to the maritime provinces that they should be compelled to submit to any decrease in their representation. Unfortunately the Act of Confederation has been construed against us by the courts but it seems to me that we can, with every right and claim to justice, ask this parliament to go to the imperial parliament and there have this wrong righted which has resulted from the British North American Act of 1866.

Editor's Troubles.

Many persons seem to think that editing a publication makes life one glad sweet song. Ring off! If we publish jokes people say we are rattle brained. If we don't we are fossils. If we publish original matter they say we don't give them enough selection. If we give them selections, they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church, we are heathens. If we do, we are hypocrites. If we remain in the office, we ought to be out looking for news items. If we go out, then we are not tending to business. If we wear old clothes, they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes, they say we have a pull. Now, what are we to do? Just as likely as not, someone will say that we stole this from an exchange. So we did. It's from the Waverly Free Press.

A Final Word.

This is the last chance. Two weeks ago we made a very special offer to new subscribers. To-day we have to sorrowfully announce that we can hold open our offer of THE SENTINEL to the end of the year for only fifty cents, no longer than the coming week, after the 19th inst we positively refuse to accept subscriptions save on our regular terms. If you have a son or a daughter, a brother or sister, some loved one far from the Old Home, you yet have six days to secure for them the Old Favorite Visitor, the CARLETON SENTINEL, at a very low rate. Remember, the curtain falls on Thursday evening, 19th inst, at six o'clock.

Dowie's Fall.

John Alexander Dowie ("Elijah") head of the "Christian Catholic Church of Zion," near the "Windy City," has fallen, and with a mighty crash. He has simply been "found out"—to be an arrant rogue and hypocrite—and the poor dupes whom he fooled and flensed have deposed him as their religious leader, have suspended him from membership in the Church which he founded, and have shorn him of all his temporal possessions in Zion City. All this he has been advised to bear patiently—to bear it all with a calm mind—lest worse things still befall him. If he should become obstreperous his own son, Gladstone Dowie, who has discarded him, threatens to make "startling revelations." His wife, too, has disowned him, and joined in the common cry that he is "crazy." It is not thought, however, that any action is contemplated against Dowie under the criminal law.

Nervous Women

Their Sufferings Are Usually Due to Female Disorders Perhaps Unsuspected.

A MEDICINE THAT CURES

Can we dispute the well-known fact that Canadian women are nervous? How often do we hear the expression, "I am so nervous, it seems as if I should fly!" or, "Don't speak to me." Little things annoy you and make you irritable; you can't sleep, you are unable to quietly and calmly perform your daily tasks or care for your children.

The relation of the nerves and generative organs in women is so close that nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous debility, the blues, sleeplessness and nervous irritability arise from some derangement of the organism which makes her a woman. Fits of depression or restlessness and irritability. Spirits easily affected, so that one minute she laughs, the next minute weeps. Pain in the abdominal region and between the shoulders; loss of voice; nervous perspiration; a tendency to cry at the least provocation—all this points to nervous prostration.

Nothing will relieve this distressing condition and prevent months of prostration and suffering so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Leah Stowell, of 177 Wellington St., Kingston, Ont., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Your Medicine is indeed a Godsend to suffering women, and I only wish that they all knew what it can do for them and there would be no need of their dragging out miserable lives in agony. I suffered for years with bearing-down pains, extreme nervousness and excruciating headaches, but a few bottles of your Vegetable Compound made life look new and promising to me. I am light and happy and I do not know what sickness is, and I have enjoyed the best of health now for over four years."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has sent sunshine into thousands of homes and hearts.

Will not the volumes of letters from women made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince all women of its virtues? Surely you cannot wish to remain sick and weak and discouraged, exhausted each day, when you can be as easily cured as other women.
