Townsend-Dalling.

At the home of the bride's parents, Richmond Street, at 4 p. m., Monday, Miss Estella Beatrice, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Horace V Dalling, was married to Osceola Allison Townsend. The service was performed by the Rev George D Ireland, pastor of St Paul's Presbyterian church, in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

The bride's gown, a gift of Captain the Hon Thomas and Mrs Ashburnham, of Fredericton, is a heavy cream Louise silk with embroidered chiffon trimmings. The bride carried a bouquet of cream roses.

Edith Pauline Dalling, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and was attired in a gown of white organdie with Valenciennes lace insertion and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and smilax.

William V Dalling, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Mable Glidden played the wedding march.

The parlours were tastefully decorated with cut flowers and vines. The bride's travelling dress was of dark tan cheviot with cream silk blouse beautifully embroidered, and tan velvet hat with pheasant trimmings to match.

After the ceremony luncheon was served. Miss Ida Burpee, niece of the groom, and Miss Gladys Glidden and Miss Hazel Atherton assisted.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, the groom's being a handsome bracelet set with rubies, sapphires and pearls. To the bridesmaid he gave a gold necklet set with amethysts, and to the groomsmen a pearl scarf pin.

The young couple left after the ceremony for a wedding trip that will include a visit by boat to Boston, New York and other American cities. Upon their return they will reside in Maple Street.

This popular young couple begin their new life under most favorable auspices and their hosts of friends are heartily wishing them many, many years of happiness.

A Clean Election.

Representatives of the two parties met in the office of A B Connell KC on Friday night and decided to do all in their power to urge upon the six candidates the necessity of running the coming election entirely free from bribery and corruption. A sub-committee was appointed to officially notify the candidates, with the understanding that they come to an arrangement as soon as convenient.

Those at the meeting were Thomas Bohan of Bath, Major J R Tompkins of East Florenceville, Dr I B Curtis and E O Morgan of Hartland, John McIntosh of Glassville, B B Manzer, Joseph Fewer, Colonel D McLeod Vince, E R Teed, A B Connell KC and N F Thorne of Woodstock.

Carrier-Baker.

A very pretty wedding took place in Albert Street Baptist church on Saturday afternoon when the Rev F Allison Currier, M. A., of Emmanuel Baptist church, Winnipeg, led to the altar Juanita Blanche, only daughter of Dr I W N and Mrs Baker. Miss Inez Burt was bridesmaid and Robt. J Fleming, teller of the Bank of Montreal, was groomsmen.

The bride looked very pretty becomingly attired in a Duchess satin plum colored suit with a lawn hat. She was given away by her father, and the ceremony was performed by her grandfather, the Rev J C Bleakney, assisted by the Rev Dr Kierstead.

As the bridal party left the church, which was beautifully decorated with hydrangeas, palms and ferns, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs (Dr) Pugsley.

The ushers were Lester Hall, Bliss Britton, Frank and Fred Hillman. The church was crowded and many could not gain admittance.

After the ceremony Mr and Mrs Currier drove to the train. On their way to Winnipeg they spent a few days in Montreal.

The young bride was very popular and received many costly and beautiful presents.

The Rev Mr Currier was pastor of the Free Baptist church here for several years previous to going to Winnipeg a year ago.

Letter from Mr Grosvenor.

Editor Sentinel,

SIR—I noticed in your issue dated Sept 27th an article entitled "Ex-Coun Grosvenor Turned Down," which I think calls for some comment on my part.

I am not given to writing letters for publication and seldom seek the columns of the press to air my views, but in this case I feel in justice to myself that I should answer the article.

In the first place permit me Sir, to thank you for your very flattering estimate of my worth,—exaggerated as it seems to me and must seem to a large majority of those who know me. As a Conservative I have always tried to be consistent and steadfast and have always voted that way, and nearly always worked as best I could, for the party.

Notwithstanding this fact I have tried to respect other men's opinions and accord them the consideration that I claimed for my own, even though they differed from me in political faith.

I am glad to number among my friends many staunch Liberals, who have in municipal elections honored me with their support, probably from personal friendship and personality—leaving party outside the question altogether.

Now in regard to your Caption—"Ex-Coun Grosvenor Turned Down" I cannot see the application. I was not a candidate, and my name was not put before the electors—in their meeting at Fredericton on Sept 19th, therefore as I was not turned up,—surely I could not have been reversed.

Some people persisted in thinking that I was a candidate, and when asked what I would do, I simply said "Wait for the Convention." Well Sir—the biggest joke occurred when the members of the party met at the Court House at Fredericton on Thursday morning, Sept 19th according to schedule, and found instead of a Convention, what do you suppose? Why Sir, a Ratification Meeting. The Convention had been held some days previous, they say in Jimmy Crockett's Office—You doubtless know Jimmy? Most everybody does now, because he's been attached to about every party I think, except the Socialists, and you can never tell with Jimmy what will happen next.

This time instead of being attached to the Conservative party, Jimmy promptly attached the party to himself and so we had that Ratification Meeting—Now this explains the "old ticket"—Don't tell Jimmy this—and say Mr Editor don't you wish your were like "Our Jimmy"?

Respectfully yours,
HEDLEY F GROSVENOR.

Complaint is made that there are too many doctors among the opposition candidates.—Moncton Times. (Come to think of it Mr Hazen cannot have too many doctors among his candidates. He and they will be sick enough when they get through the campaign to require the most skilled medical attention. Mr Hazen recognizes this, and it was not his fault that the York Tory ticket is without a doctor. However, the physician who wanted to get on is a coroner and his services will be in demand by Mr Hazen and his friends after the election. [Herald.]

The Candidates.

On Tuesday the election of County Councillors will take place. Here in town for the three seats there are four candidates:—

Wm Balmain, nominated by N F Thorne and Geo W Gibson.

James E Drysdale, nominated by Ald H G Noble and N F Thorne.

J Rankin Brown, nominated by Jos Fewer and Jas A Gibson.

Howard D Stevens, nominated by Jacob VanWart and J S McManus.

So far as we can judge there will be very little party politics in the fight, and this view is strengthened by the fact that each candidate has a Liberal as well as a Conservative on his nomination. Of course there may be some who will not vote for anyone on the opposite side, but their number is not very great. The indications are that the contest will be close and exciting, but you can never tell. May the best men win. They are all good decent fellows, and any possible combination would do the town no discredit.

An Empty Denial.

Mr Hazen denies that he has entered into a cut and dried arrangement to go into federal politics after the next local election. If he should by any accident become premier, he probably would feel like sticking to his berth, but that contingency will scarcely arise. Mark our words,—Mr Hazen will abandon the local field at the request of his federal leader, and any prestige he might gain in the local by the aid of liberal votes, he will use to the detriment of Sir Wilfrid's administration. Any liberals who may feel like voting for Mr Hazen should ask him what he has ever done for the liberal party, and what he might be expected to do were he placed in power. It's the old game of the spider and the fly, and it is too ancient to be played with success.

The Telephone.

This evening all who are interested in the formation of the new local independent telephone company are requested to meet in the office of J Chipman Hartley, at eight o'clock.

Left Smith Home.

Mr Hazen and his first lieutenant Mr Fleming have been spending the week in Albert County, speaking for their health, we presume, for there is no prospect of Opposition success down there. We regret to observe very little reference to Mr Smith in the opposition papers these days. Mr Hazen so far does not seem to have urged our other opposition member to tour the country. By all means give Frank a little show, Mr Hazen. Can it be that he has gone and resigned? Surely not. Then why not trot him out? Can't he spout quite as well as Kidd?

Shoe Firm in New Quarters.

Gibson & Ross, the popular young boot and shoe merchants, have taken a lease of the Upper Store in the Young Block, alongside Mrs J Loane & Co. These progressive dealers have already secured a lucrative trade, and in the new and larger quarters hope to merit a continuance of the same.

Back From Boston.

Miss Ida Hayden returned Monday night from Boston with her little brother Douglas, who was taken there to consult specialists concerning threatened hip trouble. It is good news to learn that the doctors hold out every prospect of complete recovery.

OBITUARY.

Adam J Beveridge, a leading merchant of Andover, is dead. He was a member of the local house for one term. In politics deceased was a Liberal.

On Sept 23rd at Richmond Corner of paralysis, Chester Allen Carpenter in his 47th year, leaving a widow, two sons and a daughter, together with a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

The remains of a man found in a barn near the Line Stores on the Houlton Road proved to be all that was mortal of one Kane, of Bangor.

Speaking of Flavoring Extracts.

Flavoring Extracts purchased in the Department Stores and others of that ilk are generally put up cheap by some one whose only thought is how low it can be sold. To do this they use the meanest and poorest ingredients possible, for if it is too much per gross it can't get into the stores.

Now we know how to make flavoring extracts that are right, and from the purest and best ingredients. The flavoring is pleasant, and it does not take a quarter of the quantity as it does of the cheap kind.
