Mr Carvell Will Not Retire.

Certain journals of the Conservative persuasion, not only in this province but in others as well, have been pretty broadly intimating that Mr F B Carvell is to retire from politics at the close of the present parliament, to go upon the bench. Indeed the impression with some seems to have gone very far in the direction of certainty. We are quite at a loss to understand why this should be the case, even if it be, as all will admit, that the member for Carleton is certainly well qualified for such a position. We are not at all impressed with the idea that Mr Carvell is to retire from public life so early in his career, and we shall be greatly surprised if when the next federal campaign is on, he is not found once more fighting in the foreground. We can readily understand why our Conservative friends, who recall past battles, would be very glad to see him step out of the political arena, and with them the wish is doubtless father to the thought. Be that as it may, the Liberals of Carleton may rest assured that all rumors of Mr Carvell's retirement are based entirely on fiction, and have utterly no foundation in fact. This we verily believe, and do not hesitate to proclaim.

That Arc Circuit.

Many long weeks have passed since Expert Vaughan in his report roundly condemned the Woodstock Arc Circuit, several Council meetings have been held since the finding was made public, and yet things are moving along as if the Council were blissfully ignorant of the overhanging brittle deaththreats which at any moment may snap and bring destruction to life and property.

Where, oh! Where, is our Chief Magistrate? Is he alive to the situation? If so, what will he do about it? Is Nero still fiddling?

Bank Changes.

H W Lunn of the Royal Bank Staff has renounced the life of a money changer, and is succeeded by Jack Arundell of Halifax. Mr Hall of St John is relieving the Manager, Mr Dickinson. Leo Scholey of the Bank of N S has been transferred to North Sydney. His brother Foster enters here as junior.

Advance in Milk.

The local milk dealers have agreed upon the following prices to take effect Friday Nov 1st, and to continue in force until further notice:—

Milk per quart, delivered to private houses, 7 cts. Odd Pints, 4 cts each. To Hotels, Restaurants and Boarding Houses, 6 cts per quart.

Judging from Mr Hazen's repudiation of the statistics concerning the debt of the province as contained in the press reports of his speech, somebody stands convicted of a barefaced attempt to deceive the public. Beware of opposition figures. They will not tell the truth in campaign time.

Frank Stephenson Crushed to Death.

Word of a most regrettable occurrence in which a young Saskatoonian, Frank Stephenson, lost his life on Tuesday evening of this week, was brought to town this morning by Constable Plomley of the Delisle R N W M P station.

Frank met his death at Zea'andia, and just how it came about can be surmised only as the body was not found until half an hour or more after the accident had occurred. When found the body was pinned between a wagon to which the dead man's team of oxen were hitched and the store of A N Swetman. The discovery was made about 7.30 Tuesday evening about half an hour after the young man had been seen driving that way. He was walking behind his team and it is supposed that when approaching the building the oxen were about to pass so closely that the wagon would catch the corner. Seeing this, Frank ran forward to turn the animals, but in passing between the building and wagon was caught and there received his fatal squeeze.

Fred Stephenson, a carpenter who has been engaged on the southside hotel all summer only this morning received word of his brother Frank's death, when the news was brought to him by Constable Plomley. This afternoon he and an old school mate of the brothers, Mr W T Townsend, left for Zealandia to take charge of the body, which is either at the Swetman home or has been buried. The remains will be taken to Woodstock, N. B., where a widowed mother resides. To her the blow will be a heavy one, for the two boys at Saskatoon were her only sons.

Frank Stephenson was about 20 or 21 years of age, and was a printer by trade. In the early spring of 1906 he came to work at The Phoenix, and remained a competent member of the staff for several months. He had a homestead in the Goose Lake country, about 70 miles southwest from Saskatoon.—(The Daily Phoenix Saskatoon.)

Mrs Harold G Cole.

Lillian N., wife of Harold G Cole, died at her home in Cushing, Friday at 1.15 p.m. after an illness of about two weeks. Deceased was in her 24th year, a daughter of John A and Mary Perry. On the 3rd of July, this year, she was married to Harold G Cole, who has since been engaged in farming at Cushing. Her sudden death terminates a happy married career and is a great shock to the many friends of the young couple. [Mr Cole's friends in Woodstock will deeply sympathize with him in his great bereavement.]

A Terrible Death.

While riding a velocipede on the track from Hannibal to Hughie, on the line of the Omaha Ry, in the State Wisconsin, Norris Buckley was run down by a log train, between six and seven o'clock Friday evening Oct 4, 1907. His body was terribly mangled and cut to pieces. He was in the employ of the Yellow River Lumber Co. An undertaker was called and the body was interred in the City Cemetery at Stanley, Wis. No relatives were present, but the services were carefully looked after by kind friends. The deceased was born at Holmesville, Carleton Co. and was in his thirty-seventh year. He was a son of the late John Buckley of that place, and had been West about nine years. He was unmarried, and leaves three brothers and two sisters. One brother resides in Washington State, U S, and the rest of the family here. (Woodstock and Houlton Me papers please copy.)

The Gleaner, no doubt recalling a certain convention nearer home, has wisely refrained from unduly making merry over the communication from Dr Hetherington. Can it be that these "ratification meetings" are becoming common? Is the custom spreading?
