One of the McKane twins, The Times, says "there is not in the Provincial Cabinet to-day a man of commanding personality." There is not we are certain, any man in the local government with the wealth of Tonopah at his command. If the riches of the Nevada desert had been at the disposal of the members of the provincial executive even The Times would quite probably still be singing their praises. The opinions of an organ which supports each successive owner, irrespective of politics, carry little weight. Of one thing we may be certain. If Messrs Robinson, Jones, Sweeney, LaBillois, Faris and Barnes are not of the very first rank, what can the Opposition put forth as suitable substitutes? Certainly not Mr Hazen,—most assuredly not B Frank Smith,—and scarcely any other member of that party.

The Engineers.

The engineers so kind and brave, While running on the track; So many lives depend on them, Must cast no glances back.

But straight ahead the darkest night, With care and courage blend; Until the dawn of the golden morn, Their journey then must end.
