MARRIAGE LICENSES.
WEDDING RINGS, Latest Styles.

The home of Mr and Mrs John Gregg Centreville was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding Wednesday June 26th at five thirty o'clock p.m., when their only daughter Edith Ainsley was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Hubert William Agnew of Centreville N.B. by the Rev B S Freeman in the presence of relatives of the bride and groom. The bride wore a charming costume of cream silk crepe de chene with lace trimmings and white flowers and maiden hair fern. The bride was the recipient of many costly and useful presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch.

Mr Draper Resigns.

Isaac Draper, principal of the Broadway School, has sent in his resignation. It is understood that he has decided, after fourteen years as a teacher, three of which were spent here, to abandon the profession and go into a commercial undertaking which will afford greater emoluments. Mr Draper is a quiet, unassuming young man, highly regarded by all, and as a teacher stood near the top in his calling. Mr Estabrooks of the College School will probably be appointed to the vacant Broadway principalship.
