

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry-bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

THE BEST Fire Insurance

It is that which gives PERFECT SECURITY at the most equitable rates. The Non-tariff Companies, which I represent, have more paid up capital in proportion to risks involved than any other Companies.

They do not take hazardous risks, and can therefore do a safe business at lower rates than other Companies can.

These Companies are noted for equitable adjustment of losses and prompt payments.

Many of the best business men in the Dominion, and in this County, insure in these Companies. These are the safest and best.

A Sketch of Sir Wilfrid.

This is how Mr T P O'Connor, the witty Irishman, who recently visited Toronto, and who has been the pioneer in the journalism of anecdotes, sketches Sir Wilfrid Laurier in P T O his new weekly. After speaking of the cares of the government, Mr O'Connor says:—

"And now what manner of man is he who bears upon his shoulders this Atlantean burden? The best description I ever heard of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was given to me by a very interesting Canadian personality, Mr. Ross, who was for many years Prime Minister of the Province of Ontario. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, said this dour, gnarled, kindly shrewd old Scotch-Canadian, 'is a picture gallery all in himself.' This praise—which I will always remember as witty and picturesque—gives you some idea of the impression which the appearance of Sir Wilfrid makes upon you. He is like some splendid portrait that has walked down from the walls of a mediaeval French chateau and is again stalking the earth. You could never mistake him for anything but a man of French blood. Nor could you at the same time, ever take him for a modern Frenchman. With all his intensely progressive and broad spirit, Sir Wilfrid looks the man of the chateau and of the eighteenth century; the French Revolution; one who had exchanged repartees with Voltaire; who had smiled benignly at some of Talleyrand's jokes on the gullibility of mankind.

Imagine a very tall, a very slight, almost a bony figure; imagine a face exactly the same—that is to say, long, narrow and bony—and you will have some idea of what Sir Wilfrid Laurier is like in the flesh. There is not a spare ounce on that body, which, nevertheless, seems as alert, active and enduring as that of some deerhound. The face seems to concentrate itself in the mouth, which is large—as is the mouth usually of the orator—mobile, slightly pursed. The face is clean-shaven, which also gives a certain look at once of academic distinction and of eighteenth century character. You could take him, if you did not know him, for a great scientific scholar, for a professor of letters, for a high ecclesiastic—one who was a Cardinal, and might be a Pope; or you might fancy that he was a brilliant wit and encyclopaedist—one of the band that prepared the French revolution. You could take him for many things, but you never for anything that was not intellectual, distinguished and well born.

And there is about the whole man a certain trimness and precision which are almost suggestive of France and of the eighteenth century. He dresses with a perfect appropriateness to his figure, his face, and even his position. The coat is usually a frock coat with spacious tails; the waistcoat—if I remember rightly is somewhat low cut, and his collars are, in their way, as prominent and remarkable as those of Mr Gladstone. Like Mr Gladstone's Sir Wilfrid's collars are stand-up, immense, slightly old-fashioned in cut and suggestion. These collars are so much a part of the man and of his dress they seem to fit in so splendidly that everybody remarks them and remembers them and they form as much a part of the stock-in-trade of the caricaturist of Canada as the collars of Gladstone did of Punch. They accentuate the length, the narrowness and the distinction of the long, thin, intellectual, somewhat, ascetic face; they increase your sense of looking at the man who—as Mr Ross put it to me—is a whole picture gallery in himself.

As an orator his English is perfect but at the same time there is just a remnant of the French accent of his boyhood. He speaks—in this respect being unlike the typical Frenchman—somewhat slowly and deliberately; but he is also French in the clear, and carefulness of utterance, and thus English when spoken by him sounds a little like French; every syllable gets full justice you have something of the feeling you experience when you are listening to Coquelin or some other great artist trained in the Comedie Francaise of listening even in private conversation to the melodious and poised cadence of the Alexandrine.

Finally, I should put among the qualities that have gained for Sir Wilfrid Laurier his tremendous hold over Canada the stainless and beautiful private character of the man. This great ruler lives with the simplicity of a professional man with a modest income. I slept during my recent visit to Canada in the house of a friend of mine—who has since been elected to the Mayoralty of Ottawa—and as I walked down from his modest and comfortable dwelling in the morning he pointed out to me the house of the Prime Minister—which was exactly like his own, the typical modest Canadian house—with logg verandah, its general impression of lightness, airiness and comfort. Here it was—in this small model house—that there dwelt a man who rules some millions of men and one of the vastest and most powerful countries in the world. Such a habitation bespeaks the character and also the career of the man. I dare not talk of the temptations that were open to a man in his position, for nothing could tempt him to defect integrity—but everybody will know that a man who lives in a country growing from hour to hour with gigantic rapidity and size might easily become a multi-millionaire if he so desired.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has remained the man with a modest income. He has preferred in life the greater and purer glory of serving his country and his Countrymen, with no other reward than the modest remuneration of their Ministerial salary and the immeasurable extent of their affection and respect.

ALL WEAK WOMEN

Will Find New Health and Strength in Dr Williams' Pink Pills.

The weak woman can depend upon it that her blood is out of order, for if her blood is rich and pure she will be strong, healthy and happy. Bad blood is the cause of nearly all the aches and pains from which women suffer. Deep the blood rich and red by the use of Dr Williams' Pink Pills and suffering will not exist. Mrs James R Kratz, of Jordan Station, Ont., has tested the value of these Pills and strongly advised other women to use them. She says "For more than a year I was a great sufferer from weakness. I was completely worn out. I lost flesh could not rest at night, and in the morning I arose more tired than on going to bed. I had taken doctors treatment with no benefit. I grew worse day by day and was beginning to look upon my case as hopeless when I was advised to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills. To my great joy before I had taken the pills a month they began to help and by the time I had taken eight boxes every symptom of my trouble had left me and I was once more enjoying perfect health and strength. I look upon Dr Williams' Pink Pills as a veritable life saver and never lose a chance to recommend them to my friends.

The success of Dr Williams' Pink Pills is due to their power to make new, rich red blood. This new blood strengthens the nerves and gives nourishment to all the organs of the body, thus curing anaemia, indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache and backache, and all the secret ailments of girlhood and womanhood. The Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had direct at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co, Brookville, Ont.

The Trustees.

At a meeting of the Board Friday night, Chairman Belyea and all the members present except Trustee Hayden, considerable important business was transacted. Principal Richards by request of the Board was heard concerning the grading. The Board expressed itself as not fully satisfied with the arrangement of the work in the High School, and the Chairman was named as a committee to confer with the staff in the hope of arranging matters.

Chairman Belyea and Trustee Balm were asked to look into the sanitary conditions at the College, and empowered to carry out any reasonable scheme for improvement.

The Chairman was instructed to address the High School Pupils at the opening of the schools and to urge greater effort during the coming year.

The Board by resolution requested the proper parties to furnish pictures of the late L P Fisher and Dr Hand, the recent Chairman H P Baird and the present official, to be hung in the principal's room in the Grammar School.

Newburg.

With this week, begins the haying season in this locality, last weeks frolics were the leading routine of business, beginning with a barn raising at Martin Frame's on Tuesday, the same at F L Ryan's on Wednesday, a chopping at John McGuire's on Thursday, and the same at George Smith's on Friday.

John M Gallagher cut his foot quite badly at the chopping frolic on Thursday and had to be taken home. Rev F Bradley, after Vespers Sunday evening, drove to Woodstock, whence he took the early train Monday morning for Memramcook, there to attend the Retreat of Clergy this week.
