

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Quebec and One in Beauport, Que

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws, all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Mlle. Alma Robitaille, of 78 rue St. Francois, Quebec, Que., tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Overwork and long hours at the office together with a neglected cold, brought on a very serious female trouble until finally I was unable to go to work. I then thought of a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, when her health was in the same condition that mine was, and straightway sent out for a bottle. I finished that and took two more before I really began to improve, but after that my

Month-Long Battle on Shipboard Between Chinese and Russians.

With nearly 1000 enraged Chinese and 200 maddened Russians rushing in mobs at each other, thirsting for blood and a fight to the death while a helpless crew of half a hundred English officers stood between the murderous assaults in an effort to stop the fearful carnage only to be set upon by both forces, while a crowded ship rolled wildly in a fierce storm—such was the awful experience on board the British ship Maori King, which sought San Diego Harbor, forced to run for refuge in order to prevent what appeared to be certain wholesale slaughter.

As a result of the race war six Russians and two Chinese lie dead and more than 200 are dangerously wounded from knife thrusts. According to Captain J W Duncan, in command of the stricken ship, the Maori King left Vladivostok with 921 Chinese, 417 Russians, a crew of fifty-six Chinese, who had long been in the service of the boat and their officers; Captain Duncan, First Officer T S Vernon and Second Officer T H Oxley.

It appears that a Chinese contractor, Lee Sun Sai, lured the Chinese on board the ship from the vicinity of Harbin on a promise to land them in San Francisco. When two days out he told them a mistake had been made, and the boat would land them at Guaymas, Mexico. On learning of this deception the Chinese broke out in mutiny, chased the officers of the ship into their cabins, attacked those of the Chinese crew who remained faithful and then started a race war on the Russians.

The officers finally fought their way out, and, after shooting a score of the Chinese, regained control of the ship. All of the horrors of mutiny rampant with a horde of rabid coolies of the lowest and basest type engaging in deadly combat all hours of the day and night for nearly a month, were intensified by the filth of the passengers and the rotten decks, unwashed and putrefying with a thick coating of offal, blood and foul garbage.

Disease broke out among the Chinese, making the situation worse. As they refused to allow the surgeon near them over a hundred died like rats and were thrown overboard. "It was a real hell ship," according to First Officer T S Vernon, "and I have seen some pretty tough lots in my time."

"Just a week ago we were caught in a frightful storm. Even with a free crew we would have had great difficulty in riding her out. But with a row going on between the Russians and the Chinese it was awful. The propeller shaft smashed through its steel case and it took us two days to repair it. All of this time we were being beaten to and fro in a raging storm, the waves washing clear over the decks. But the Chinese and Russians were bent on murdering each other, and the battle still went on. Then the Chinese called for the life of Lee Sun Sai, the contractor.

"During the blackest night, the Chinese, most of them stripped bare to the waist, their brown bodies slick and shining in the lightning flashes, surged back and forth, nearly a thousand of them, brandishing long knives and screaming hoarsely in their hideous gibberish like so many fiends on Walpurgis night.

"They rushed at the Russians again and again, cutting and slashing and stabbing. The officers were simply helpless."

British Vice-Consul Allen Hutchinson has appealed to the military authorities, and orders have been received from Washington that as many soldiers as necessary to quell the mutineers be detailed from Fort Rosecrans. Captain Duncan asks that the United States allow a guard to accompany the Maori King to Guaymas, as the Chinese cannot be landed on this side.

Found Guilty.

If a great many persons owe you a dollar each, the individual amount in each case is very small, but when the scores run into the hundreds, and the hundreds climb to over a thousand, the sum coming to you is truly a big one. That is just our position. If some day we were to go to the Post Office and find several hundred letters, each containing a crisp bank note, we would no more than get what is due, and mark you, that which we should have received months ago. Reader, are you one of those who should remit? Send that renewal to-day.

Coming Wedding.

The nuptials of Mr John A Lindsay, a well known citizen of Woodstock, and Miss Mary McCain, formerly of this city will be solemnized on June 5th. The honeymoon will be spent in the old country. The prospective bride is well and favorably known in this city where she worked at dress-making for several years. (Fredericton Herald.)

Spain's Royal Baby.

The youngster born to 'Fonsy and Ena is quite the talk of the whole Iberian monarchy.

The Queen insists that she will herself nurse the child, despite the opposition of the royal household to such a departure from custom, as she desires to insure its good health.

The Queen was the first to kiss the baby, and she was followed by the two grandmothers, Princess Beatrice of Battenburg and Maria Christina the Dowager Queen of Spain. Decrees were issued ordering a three days' national holiday throughout Spain.

The baby prince weighed 3960 grams, which is equal to eight and three-quarter pounds.

Queen Victoria, the mother of the royal infant born in Madrid, was married to King Alfonso at Madrid on May 31, 1906, amid scenes of the greatest splendor, followed by the horror of a bomb explosion which killed scores of people and narrowly missed the royal coach in which their Majesties were returning from church.

We hope the precious little youngster will grow up to become an honor to the country over which he will rule.

If attacked with cholera or summer complaint of any kind send at once for a bottle of Dr J D Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial and use it according to directions. It acts with wonderful rapidity in subduing that dreadful disease that weakens the strongest man and that destroys the young and delicate. Those who have used this cholera medicine say it acts promptly, and never fails to effect a thorough cure.

Baby Swallowed Safety-Pin

The four months child of Mr and Mrs Sterling Peabody swallowed a safety-pin one day last week. The infant was very ill for some days afterwards, and on Saturday Dr Sprague removed the pin. The child is now well again.

Church Dedication.

The Fort Fairfield Reformed Baptist Church, of which Rev Percy Trafton is pastor, was dedicated to the worship of God on Sunday last, Elder S A Baker, editor of the Highway, preaching the formal dedicatory sermon. Revs A H, G B and M S Trafton, as well as several other clergymen, participated in the exercises.

Newburg.

Summer has come again after the late spring; farmers are busily engaged scattering the seed; a number of them have got new seeders this spring.

We are sorry to say Mr Sparrow does not improve very much, and Mrs Thos Abbot of Millinocket who is staying with her father, took a sudden sick spell, but is now better.

Arbor day was celebrated, according to the regulation, in this section on Friday 17th inst.

Miss May Burke arrived from Bangor 18th inst, to spend the summer at home.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CO., LIMITED.

Yarmouth, N.S.

GENTLEMEN,—In January last, Francis Leclaire, one of the men employed by me, working in the lumber woods, had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

An Interesting Document.

Major John J Troy has an interesting relic of the past in the shape of his certificate of entrance to the Old Carleton County Grammar School, under the hand and seal of the late Theodore H Rand D C L, the first Chief Superintendent of our province under the Free Schools Act. The gallant Major highly values the document, and very much doubts the existence of another in the county.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

UNBREAKABLE FIRE-POT

The lower portion of a fire-pot is usually nearly or partly filled with dead ashes, leaving the live, red-hot coals in the upper part. The result is that the upper portion expands much more than the lower.

This uneven expansion causes a strain too great for a one-piece fire-pot to stand. Sooner or later it will split, allowing precious heat and sickening gases to escape.

But the fire-pot of the Sunshine is constructed to meet this condition. It is in two sections. The upper half expands, as much as necessary, independently of the lower. When cool, it contracts back to its original size, fitting to the lower half perfectly.

And this strong, unbreakable, gas and heat-tight, two-piece fire-pot is just one of the many superior features of the Sunshine.
