

POLITICAL.

The Opposition organ seems to be shedding crocodile tears because Major Good is not a government candidate. When he did occupy that position the Press had no kind words for him.

The leading editorial in Monday's Press is a labored defense of that first-rate orator, though erratic politician, Mr. John Morrissey. The Press should be an excellent authority in discussing the grievances of former Liberals, and in giving the reasons why some of them are courting with the Conservative party. Another chapter, please.

The Press says the SENTINEL editor boasted before the nominating Convention that a certain gentleman could not get a place on the government ticket, and that the Carvells, with the assistance of Mr. Jones and the SENTINEL man, forced him aside. Well this is interesting. The Carvells and Mr. Jones were not on the committee, and Mr. Thorne had very little to do with the work of selecting candidates. To say that any one, or any group of persons controlled the Committee would be a gross libel on the intelligence of at least as representative a body of men as could be collected not merely in Carleton but in any County in the Province.

The Press says we know Morrissey is a regular political worldbeater in Northumberland. We know nothing of the kind, in fact we know it isn't the case at all, despite the Press and the alleged authority it cites.

The Press says Good and Shaw in the 1903 election were sacrificed in every spot a vote could be had for Jones. What about another gentleman who contested that same fight unsuccessfully? There has always been a lingering suspicion that he got the cold steel from at least one of his colleagues, in certain parishes.

We all agree with the Press that Mr. Simms is a high-minded gentleman, but we verily believe he got a pretty bad turn-down in the house of his friends. Simms was a fine fellow when his conservative friends wanted to use him. Now that they have no further use for him, he is gently brushed aside.

The Press wants to know if the government ticket is the strongest the party could name. It may, or may not be, but is easily strong enough for the occasion.

Some of our conservative friends, the red hot ones too, freely admit the Solicitor General's re-election.

The Press, with the ethics of a horse thief, says the SENTINEL didn't favor Major Good as a candidate. We were not aware that the gallant Major gave anyone permission to use his name in that connection.

The Press is at its old game of accusing Mr. Carvell of writing the SENTINEL editorials. For the twentieth time we deny the accusation, and ask Mr. Balmain, et al, to accept it once for all. Mr. Carvell doesn't find it necessary to edit the paper that supports him.

Will the editor of the SENTINEL permit us to remind him that it was quite his privilege to attend the town meeting called to discuss the fire engine matter. Had he done so he would have had an opportunity of airing his views and of discussing any references made by the Mayor or any other. However he did not adopt this course. He had his fling—a most uncalled for one too—at the mayor and some of the councillors and then crawled under the barn, and now when the mayor gives him what was coming to him he whines.

The Sentinel editor does not complain of any comment upon his doings anywhere when he is there to take his part. What he does object to is an attack of slurring nature when he is not present to defend himself. To legitimate criticism in any place where there is opportunity for reply, the SENTINEL is not averse, and will not wince under the lash.

Mr. Hazen, in his Woodstock speech, told his hearers he would surely be the next premier of the province. The Opposition leader, as a prophet, never did shine, and this was only one of his golden dreams, the kind that seldom emerge from the nebulous stage, and always fail of realization.

The valued and learned Press sagely chastises us for inadvertently referring to Messrs. Jones, Carvell, and McCain as the opposition ticket, but in the very same column refers to its "King Street" contemporary. Isn't the agricultural editor aware of the fact that the SENTINEL for over a year has been domiciled in Queen Street, or did the Smart Aleck fall into one of the little traps he was warning others to avoid?

It is at least a remarkable coincidence that the price of potatoes immediately went up from $1.10 to $1.25 following the increase in the duty from 45 to 60 cents per barrel. We will not call it a case of cause and effect, but all the same the facts cannot be controverted. At any rate the farmers are deeply grateful to Mr. Carvell, through whose efforts the added protection was secured.

JOHN R. RONALD.

We regret to announce the death of John Reid Ronald, Esquire, who died at his home West Glassville, the 26th February 1907, aged sixty eight years.

The late Mr Ronald was born at Cumnock, Ayrshire, Scotland, on the 12th of January 1839, and when a young man emigrated to New Brunswick. He was married to Miss Catherine Elizabeth Brown at Woodstock, N. B., the 4th of May 1863 by the Reverend James Salmon, and the children of this marriage are John Reid Ronald, Andrew Ronald and William R. A. Ronald.

His wife died 5th November 1865, and he was again married 23rd February 1880 to Miss Marjorie A. King, the issue of this marriage being Miss Kate A. Ronald and Robert J. Ronald.

The remains were interred in the Presbyterian Cemetery, Glassville, on the 2nd March 1907; the officiating minister being Reverend Mr. Anderson of Florenceville. The large concourse of people who attended the funeral testified the esteem in which Mr Ronald was held by the community.

Mr Ronald was a man of first class ability and held many positions of trust; his sudden death will be mourned by his numerous friends throughout the County of Carleton and in St. John.

Among other positions held by the deceased was that of a member of the Board of Valuers for the County of Carleton, which position he has held uninterruptedly for a number of years. (Com)

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed. If all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enters into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop's package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. We have had several severe snow storms and our road master James Leslie Kennedy has had to break roads more than ever before for some time. The snow plough with four span of horses and men had to work steadily and faithfully to make a road to get the Doctor from Woodstock to attend a sick man in Monument Sett. The Doctor was carried on a double sled about ten miles from Debec Jet where he came by train from Woodstock.

Attempts to Deceive The Ladies of Canada

Attempts have been made by some makers of weak and adulterated package dyes to have the ladies of Canada believe that their common products are as good as the popular DIAMOND DYES for the work of home coloring.

Some agents of the crude and worthless dyes referred to, have made statements that their miserable dyes are made according to the formulas of DIAMOND DYES. All such statements are false and have resulted in loss and trouble in many homes.

The manufacturers of the celebrated DIAMOND DYES would warn the ladies of Canada to beware of such common dyes being substituted when DIAMOND DYES are asked for. All progressive merchants in Canada sell DIAMOND DYES which are the only guaranteed dyes in the world.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

La Grippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

LA GRIPPE spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are all subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

La grippe is well-named. The original term, la grippe, is French, but it has been shortened by the busy American to one word "grip."

Without any intention of doing so, a new word has been coined which describes the disease exactly.

The ailment clings to the patient as tenaciously as if some terrible giant had clutched him in a fatal clasp.

Men, women and children—whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of this terrible monster.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip caught you? If so, read the following letters.

These testimonials will show you the quickest and best means of ridding yourself of this tenacious disease and its after-effects.

Suffered Twelve Years From After-Effects of La Grippe.

Mr. Victor Patenaude, 28 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., a well-known carpenter and member of Knights and Ladies of Security, writes:

"Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and I never really recovered my health and strength—but grew weaker every year, until I was unable to work."

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again."

"This winter I had another attack of la grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system."

"My wife and I consider Peruna a household remedy."

Pneumonia Followed La Grippe—Pe-ru-na, the Remedy That Brought Relief.

Mr. T. Barnard, West Aymer, Ontario, Can., writes:

"Last winter I was ill with pneumonia after having la grippe. I took Peruna for two months, when I became quite well, and I can say that any one can be cured by it in a reasonable time and at little expense."

"Every time I take a cold, I take some Peruna, which makes me well again."

"I also advised it for my daughter who was so ill with prostration that she could not follow her trade of dress making."

"A bottle of Peruna made such a change in her that she has been able to follow her trade ever since."

"I also induced a young lady, who was all run down and confined to the house, to take Peruna, and after taking Peruna for three months she is able to follow her trade of tailoring."

Distressing Headaches

CURED BY

Life of Man Bitters, and Syrup.

Upper Burton, N. B., Jan'y 1907. MESSRS. C. GATES, SON & Co., Gentlemen—Ten years ago I was suffering with distressing headaches caused by biliousness. I used doctor's medicine and other medicines with little benefit. I was induced to take a half dozen bottles of your

and Syrup in connection, which effected a cure of it so that I have had very little trouble in that way since, occasionally taking a little to regulate the liver. In fact we have kept and used all of your medicines in our family since that time and can conscientiously recommend their use to the sick. I have known of their having cured other cases at Shurley where I formerly lived.

Yours very truly,
