THE CARLETON SENTINEL, WOODSTOCK, N. B., MAY 3, 1907.

Copper.

There is a great boom in Northampton Copper. Sheriff Hayward has bought the controlling interest for himself and a gentleman named Hovey. The stock is soaring skyward. Oue man, a very shrewd fellow at that, made an offer of $100 to the due to an attack of pneumonia, folholder of one of the original $10 lowing the measles. He had been shares giving a fortieth interest in sick about ten days. Mr Hale. who 25 per cent of the output. The concern is to be capitalized at a million, and a big crew put to work. Thomas W Lawson will, it is understo d, be given an opportunity to boom the the late William Hale. The symmine. The Cobbler-Sexton may some day put even Trinity in the shade At any race the stuff is there, and p enty of it.

BIG APPLE TREES.

To the Editor of Carleton Sentinel :-Sir: Which locality in New Brunswick has the largest Apple trees? There is on the farm of Charles P Bull, Northampton, Carleton County, a small orchard of seedling apple trees some of which are of large size, one girthing seven feet nine inches, one six feet nine inches, and another six feet three inches. If there are any larger trees in New Brunswick I should like to have the owner give the measure in the papers. The girth of these trees was taken two feet from the ground. SUBSCRIBER.

MOVING What are you moving for Housekeeper ? Bad neighbors ? The chances are that no matter where you move the neighbors will be just as bad. Did not you like the pattern of the wall paper? Ceiling to high or too low? Kitchen too large or too small? Or did you have no intention of moving until your lady friend asked you to go and help her select a house and you could resist that temptation to go shopping with your country friend, and then you get dissatisfied with your own house and tease your husband until he has to move to stop your nagging. Is that not the reason why you are moving the first complete. of May?

The moving habit is nearly as destructive as the drink habit, and it grows on one 'ust as drink does; and after a while you can no more pass a house "To Let" than your hus-I mean, than some husbands can pass a saloon without going in to drink. Take the advice of one who has moved and wished he hadn't and don't go with your friend house hunting. You are sure to be discontented and for a year or more you will be dreaming and mourning about that 'lovely house and only five dollars a month more than we are paying for this old shack. John" Did you ever hear your husband growl about the taxes? You tax him more with that moving habit of yours than the city does. Moving vans don't move for fun you pay dearly for them, for it is the harvest of truck men, and things will get broken and carpets will not fit, and so the expense of moving and all the breakage, loss of time and temper mounts up to fifty per cent more than you estimated.

MUSIC AND FUN.

These qualities are the chief charms of "THE TOYMAKERS." Music and fun-this is what everyone enjoys, providing, of course, that the fun is clean and wholesome and that the music is bright and catchy.

In "THE TOYMAKERS," a new musical absurdity, written by Charles Felton Pidgin, author of "Quincy Adams Sawyer," these two qualities are so successfully blended, that the result is 150 minutes of un-

Resolution of Condolence.

This resolution was passed at a session of the Woodstock Deanery at Centreville, April 25, 1907:

"Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His good Providence to take to Himself the soul of our dear brother, Thomas Neales, priest, master of arts, rector of Woodstock, archdeacon of Frederucton, and rural dean; therefore

Resolved, That we, the clergy of the Deanery of Woodstock, in chapter assembled, desire to hereby place on record our appreciation of the noble character of our departed brother, and our sense of the great loss sustained by the church at large in his death, as well as by ourselves and by the church members of his own parish.

"We gladly bear witness to the untiring zeal, wide learning and marked ability which he brought to the service of the diocese of Fredericton, and of the Canadian church. Still more strongly do we testify to the reverent care and constant diligence with which he performed his parochial duties, to his pure and blameless life, and to the influence for good which he exercised upon all with whom he was brought in contact."

Delbert Porter is working with George Porter at the carpenter trade.

And yet there are men who have no imagination, no sentiment, who say it is cheaper to rent a house than to build a house. Well, suppose you can. "Can a man live by bread alone?" Is not the association of a home worth something? How can a man's children love a home when they know it will only be theirs for a year? How much drawing power have such "rents" to bring the children back from a "far country?" Imagine them singing "My own Canadian Rent" and Be it ever so humble, there is no place like rent." "Rent, rent, sweet rent," etc. Go to. I am very weary. Why do you move, trader? Business dull, going where there is more trade. Yes; why didn't you bring trade to you by skilful advertising; keeping good goods, etc. I think hard times will follow you wherever you go. You are trying to find the gold at the foot of the rainbow.

Why are you moving, preacher? "A cranky deacon, salary behind, more than one cranky deacon, and there are several parsonages that away from trouble. You will find alloyed pleasure. On Saturday May twenty-fifth "THE TOYMAKERS," produced by a clever company of as "THE JOLLITIES," will come to Opera House, Woodstock for One night only and everyone, no matter whether they are old or young, should not fail to see it. It is an elaborate production and "THE JOLLITIES" bring all their own scenery and costumes. The scene is laid in a typical old English toy-shop. "John Senior Stubbs" an old toy-maker, has invented a mechanical doll, which through the aid of electricity, comes to life and then arises innumerable shriekingly funny situations. This is in brief the plot of the piece, there is just enorgh to hold the attention and not too much to tire anyone. Those who have read Mr Pidgin's greatest New England story, Quincy Adams Sawyer," will want to see "THE TOYMAKER" and to read the book from which it was taken, for it has that same bright, cheerful style which characterizes Mr Pidgin's writings.

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM CURED

For a period of twenty years I was troubled with rheumatism, acute chronic and rheumatic fever, was treated by different doctors but got no relief. When Gates' traveller agent came along I was in bed unable to get up without assistance. He persuaded me to use which I did and soon found it wa helping me. I continued its use un were "sp'eeny and fussy and that til I had taken twenty four bottle (cost $12.90) and have never bee laid up with it since, but I alway keep the medicines in my house an if I feel any symptoms of rheuma tism I take a few doses and it soo drives it away.

Life of Man Bitters and Invigorating Syrup
