LOOKED FOR DEATH IN A SHORT

Entirely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives."

"Gentlemen,—The days of miracles are not all past and I feel that my complete recovery, from what seemed inevitable death, is practically a mircle. I suffered from severe Indigestion and Dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without earful distress and I became almos skeleton as the result of the suffer-ng. I could not do any work and beame so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors. They both pronounced my case heart failure and incurable, and I looked forward for death in a short time. I not only had the doctors but after they gave me up I tried many remedies and treatments but got no better

The Records Compared.

(Continued from second page.) of maintaining these is alluded to as extravagance. In 1896 there were under the Conservatives 1,310 postal notes and money order offices, and in 1907 these have been increased to 9,091. Was this increased growth or extravagance? In 1896 the post office savings bank numbered 755, and in 1907 these were 1,043. SHOULD THE EXTRA EXPENSE OF THE PUBLIC ACCOMMODATION BE DESCRIB-ED AS EXTRAVAGANCE SHOULD IT BE REGARDED AS A PROPER EXPENDITURE OF PUB LIC MONEY? And with all this over $1,000,000 of a surprise.

INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

When the Interior Department expended a quarter of a million in Conservative days, and had practically no revenue, this was careful management, when the Liberal Government spends a couple of millions and has a revenue approaching three millions, this is subject to criticism and described as extravag-

When the Conservatives collected $20,000,000 in taxes at an expense greater in proportion to what it costs the Liberal Government to collect $70,000,000, they charge the latter with extravagance.

WHEN EVERY DEPARTMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT WAS CON-DUCTED AT A LOSS IN CONSER-VATIVE TIMES, they claim careful management of public affairs, but when the Liberal Government shows how it is impossible to administer the departments at a profit, they meet with criticism.

There must always be a proportionate increase in expenditure in any business which is enlarging year by year, it is the same with a Governmens as with an individual. The LIBERAL GOVERNMENT HAS BUILT UP THE INDUSTRIES OF THE COUNTRY TO AN EXTENT THAT HAS MADE IT IMPERATIVE be such a carnival of crime and TO EXPEND LARGE SUMS OF looting that would put the Pacific MONEY ALL OVER THE COUN-TRY, AND THE COUNTRY HAS of the people of Canada will prevent RECEIVED THE DIRECT BENEFIT -This is not extravagance it is increased expense the direct result of CAREFUL AUDIT

OF ACCOUNTS. Every dollar of money expended in the country is carefully audited by the Auditor General and the accounts are afterwards scrutinized by the House, and it is a remarkable fact that last session with all the talk of scandal and extravagance NOT IN A SINGLE INSTANCE WAS A CASE OF UNNECESSARY EX. PENSE DEMONSTRATED BEFORE was based upon items to which the Auditor-General had himself objected, showing that all criticism had its origin, with the proper Government official, and the Opposition

The Conservatives made their insinuations against the Government on extravagance and scandal. THEY HAVE PROVED NEITHER THE ONE NOR THE OTHER. With regard to the scandals they have faded away under investigations, and as to extravagance the desire is to obscure the real fact of the great progress made under a Liberal Administration which has made increased

If the people want to return to the days of the old national policy of the Con-1896 and an expenditure of $40,000,-000 a year THEN TWO THIRDS OF THE POST OFFICES SHOULD BE | Tupper in 1897, who predicted that CLOSED, THOUSANDS OF CUST-OMS HOUSES SHOULD BE ABAN-DONED, PUBLIC WORKS SHOULD CEASE, NO FURTHER TRANS. PORTATION FACILITY SHOULD PROVIDED, AIDS TO NAVIGA TION SHOULD BE REMOVED, LIGHTHOUSES LEFT IN DARK-NESS, HARBORS AND CHANNELS SHOULD FILL UP, AND NO MORE CROPS SHOULD BE RAISED IN THE WEST, BECAUSE THEY COULD NOT BE TAKEN TO MAK-KET. This would return to the Concomplete stagnation in every branch | ly. of national life.

A SPLENDID SHOWING. All of this, and after twelve years only $19,000,000 added to the public debt for the purpose of making a lucrative investment. Is this extra vagance?

What man who compares the poverty stricken days under Conservative rule, when the order of the day was, borrow more money, can glance at the record of the Liberal Government, and come to any other conclusion but this one, that the Liberals took charge of public affairs none too soon, and that the great prosperity of the people and marvellous development of Canada are attributable in a large degree to the statesmanlike policy of Sir wilfred Laurier and those gentlemen whom he has from time to time called to his council board. To deliver over the affairs of Canada to the present rabble masquerading as an Opposition now would be to invite calamity. The increased value of the public domain would but excite the cupidity of the men who did not hesitate to appropriate the peoples' property at a time when its value was comparatively small, and now that it is great, there would scandal to shame. The good sense such a calamity.

The Tariff.

Conservative papers now claim that the Fielding tariff is simply servative party, Such, however, was not the opinion of Sir Charles dire ruin would follow in the wake of the trade policy as enunciated by Mr Fielding. It was not until time had practically demonstrated the success of the Liberal tariff that the Conservative party desired to claim it as "a son of their loins."

Anyone who will compare the two tariffs will be able to note the difference between them:

The benefits arising from the Fielding tariff may be thus briefly sum-

(1) Materially reduced duties on servative days of small things, small many necessities and staple comreceipts, small expenditures and modities used by consumers general> articles of prime necessity to the farmer, the miner, the fisherman and the manufactory. (3) Reduced duties on iron and

(2) Placed on the Free List certain steel, which form the staple raw material of many industries, duties on other raw materials were all lowered.

(4) Simplified the classification of articles for duty purposes, and thereby ensured more uniform administration.

(8) And last, but not by any means least, gave a substantial preference to the products and manufactures of Great Britain over the rest of the world.
