Another Shooting Affray.

(Special to Sentinel.)
Sunday night at Plaster Rock another shooting occurred. It seems that one McKinnon who had been drinking and looking for fight was the cause of the whole disturbance. After a lot of big talk he came out of the house and an Italian who had had some hot words with McKinnon previously was sitting just outside of the door. When McKinnon came out of the house he caught the Italian up and slammed him down again at the same time hitting him. The Italian got up and went to his boarding house over half a mile distant. Securing a revolver he came back with the intention of shooting McKinnon. A crowd that had gathered got around McKinnon so he would not be shot and

F.A. Currier Under Arrest

Rev F A Currier was arrested here on Sunday morning at 10.30 before Police Magistrate Dibblee. Rev Mr Currier had as his counsel Col D McLeod Vince, while F B Carvell M P represented the complainant. Miss Blanche K Dibblee was stenographer.

Judson Burpee, sworn, said that he resided at Upper Woodstock. He had known Rev Mr Currier for two or three years when he was the pastor of the United Baptist Church in Woodstock. He had had a conversation with Mr Currier in January of 1909, in the presence of Mr Everett, regarding the purchase of land in the Watsham Valley. He said the defendant had a plan of the valley, with the lots numbered, and in describing it to them, said it was the greatest fruit raising land in British Columbia. He had discovered this Valley while looking, for a place to build a church. He said that the first crop on the land could be potatoes and the second turnips all in the same year. He also said all fruit grew there in abundance and he showed pictures of the fruit raised there.

Mr Carvell then read a private letter from the defendant to Mr Hamilton, in which he described the land as a paradise. The witness said he was only at one meeting and Mr Wm Everett bought land that night. The sons of the witness bought land and also Mr Dow. The sons later paid the money to Mr Currier and went to the Watsham Valley, taking everything with them to start a farm. They are still there.

Roy Dow, sworn, said—He resided at Upper Woodstock. He met Mr Currier at the Conference at Upper Woodstock. His father and Mr Byerett were there. Mr Currier told that he had been over the land, and that it was such a wonderful place, they would have no trouble with early or late fruits. He said turnips could be grown during December. He understood the picture shown by the defendant were scenes in the Watsham Valley.
The defendant told them hay could be sold from $20 to $30 a ton. He told them of pears growing there six inches long. He said the valley was seven miles in length and as good a road as the town of Woodstock has. There was a good wagon road from the town of Needles to lot 4 in the Valley. Lot 4 was supposed to have ten acres.
He and Herb Burpee had left here on March 10th and arrived here on April 1st. The examination was then adjourned until 2 o'clock, and Mr Currier was allowed out on bail, furnished by Mr Vince. At 2 o'clock Colonel Vince requested that no witnesses be heard and Magistrate Dibblee granted the request and the hearing was again adjourned until 9.30, Tuesday morning. On Tuesday morning no witnesses were heard and the hearing was adjourned until Thursday morning.

It is thought that arrangements are being made for a settlement. It is alleged that Mr Currier has been "taking in" the people through Nova Scotia of late, and has, through his glowing description of the land, disposed of hundreds of thousands of dollars worth to people there.

Earl Grey Lost on Hunting Trip.

While Earl Grey was on a visit to Dawson and Skagway he had the misfortune to get lost in the woods near Jarvis Inlet. He had gone out hunting alone with his dog and lost his way in the bush. He had been wandering around for about five hours and a half, when he was found by a search party. He was utterly exhausted and his clothing was badly torn. He fired his rifle and this attracted the attention of the search party, and they were guided to him by shouting. Latest reports are that his lordship is none the worse for his adventure.

Thanksgiving Day Monday October 25.

OTTAWA, AUG. 31.—The government has fixed the date of Thanksgiving for this year on Monday, October 25.

St John Valley Road.

To The Editor of the "Sentinel."

DEAR SIR,—Your correspondent had the pleasure of driving down the St John Valley from Woodstock to Hawshaw little more than a week ago, and it surely is a beautiful country and as fair a prospect as ever graced the sight of man. It was a very fine day with a clear road and on the round trip, down one day and back the next, we only met two single teams and a man walking. The whole countryside was sleeping in all its beauty—it was indeed a glorious prospect—I say a prospect because it has not yet reached the stage of development. The people do not appear to realize what a noble heritage has been handed down to them by their forefathers—the Loyalists.

On venturing to suggest to the only man seen straying among the ruins of Hawshaw, that a railroad might aid them in the development of their resources, he stared at us wide-eyed and replied "our country is in debt enough at present—the government is doing everything it can to cut expenses—didn't our secretary have to take his chances in getting up to Ottawa last winter? We have been living too fast—didn't we get a bridge put across the river two miles above that cost a lot—there is no one to cross it, but it is so much shorter and cheaper than if it was put down here where the people could use it—you know it costs a lot to keep one of them big bridges in repair and people can only visit it on Sundays now and look down at the water. I tell you we have got to economize! A railroad! I tell you that would cost a lot!"

We did not ask what his politics were but moved on.

At the hotel where we dined somebody mentioned the St John Valley Road and certain guests became very enthusiastic over a steamer, that was being fitted up to ply between Fredericton and Hawshaw during the summer months, and which in the course of a few years would be completed and be able to compete with a one horse stage that seemed to have a monopoly of the carrying trade. At this a young lady of some thirty summers began to romance on being old enough by that time to take advantage of the improved methods of travelling to take a trip to the "Celestial" about once a month to improve her harmonious propensities by a few lessons on professor so and so's piano.

Hawshaw is thirty miles from Woodstock—thirty-five from Fredericton. The tannery there which once employed about 150 men is closed, surrounded by an abundance of Hemlock, because of lack of communication with the markets. It is understood that the mill at Pokiok is running its last season, and the vast lumber limits in connection with the property have passed into the hands of foreigners. The power at Shogomoc is not being utilized of late, while right from the river's bank extends miles and miles of practically forest primeval.

On the opposite side of the river is Middle Southampton and Lower Southampton that might easily develop into the "Garden of the Province" had it the means of marketing its produce. The principal crop at present is hay because it can be hauled long distances while the snow is on the ground, without being injured by the frost. At this time of the year Southampton is a beautiful sight in contrast with the wooded hills on the opposite side of the St John Valley.

If any one wishes to enjoy the beauty of nature and the balmy air of this season of the year I would strongly recommend a drive to Hawshaw—you can't get there any other way—unless you walk.

Sincerely Yours, C G.

Marriage and Divorce.

The true solution of the marriage and divorce question lies with the home more than with the legislatures. It is more a matter of education and training than of legislation. The girl whose early education has been gained on the street, whose selfishness has been gratified at the expense of her parents and whose preparation for marriage has lacked an acquaintance with the common duties of the home keeper is a standing candidate for the divorce court. The young man who has grown up without responsibility, who has wasted his youth and panned his manhood to idle and dissolute habits is another. The ministers who are asking the state to prevent divorce and repress marriage have their responsibility in these cases, many of whom have been of their flock and under their spiritual supervision. The parents are mostly responsible for the negligence and mistaken kindness that unfits children for the duties of life. Good fathers usually train good husbands and good mothers usually produce good wives. Like prohibition, the question of marriage and divorce seems to rest more upon the early training of the individual than the law. Educate not legislate, is the north for the reformer.

Successful Vocal Recital.

A most successful recital was given in Beveridges Hall, Monday night Aug 30 by Miss Mary B Stewart, of Andover, who is at present vocal teacher at Halifax Ladies College, Master Eldon Henshaw of Acadia College, Master Eldon Henshaw of Acadia College, Miss Lamb of Woodstock, pupil of Halifax Ladies College.

The song "I cannot Help Loving Thee" was a beautiful melody written by C B Howley and was rendered by Miss Stewart in a delightful manner as was also two others in the first part of the program, entitled "Little White Sun" and "I Love Thee." She sang two solos entitled "Sing me To Sleep" and "O Dry Those Tears" with violin obligato by Master Henshaw. That beautiful song "Once" was rendered in splendid manner and "Marguerite" was a beautiful flowing melody that sung as it was by Miss Stewart held the audience spell bound. The opening piece "The Flower Girl" a difficult number showed the wonderful range of voice of this talented young artist. Miss Lamb who is a Woodstock lady, played the accompaniment in a beautiful and very artistic manner following the singer in all the different moods as interpreted by Miss Stewart. Miss Lamb is certainly a very accomplished musician.

For a boy of sixteen years of age Master Henshaw's equal would be hard to find throughout the province. His rendition of the numbers played by him was a great treat for all who had the pleasure of listening to him. He played the "Swan" "Six Soles" Op 41 no 2 by H Leonard, and his rendition the Fantasia "Villag-coise" was another beautiful number. His imitation of the bag pipes was very beautiful and brought forth round after round of applause.

Andover and Perth must be congratulated on the fact that they have such accomplished artists within their borders, and it certainly must be very pleasing to be able to listen to such artists from their own homes.

We Can Paddle Our Own Canoe.

Its queer how some persons make the business of others, theirs. In the case of the coal strike in Cape Breton, the American Union had better stay home. We are thoroughly capable of running the affairs of this country without outside assistance. What right has the American Union ordering a strike here? Because the miners of this country belong to the International Miners Union. Then let us see what this strike has done, it has closed Canadian miners, turned Canadian miners out of work, while the American miners are taxed to their utmost to furnish coal. Its a game of playing against the Canadians, both miners and owners into the hands of the Americans. Killing an industry in Canada and helping the outsiders. It must be clear to all that the Americans are laughing in their sleeves at us. It is also very clear from this that it would be a wise thing for the miners of the Dominion and the Canadian laborers and Canadian Unions to be allowed to run their own affairs instead of being dictated to by foreign institutions.

Serious Accident.

Mr Benjamin McIsaacs was working on the roof of his house at Hartland, on Monday morning last, when in some way he tripped and fell to the ground. His shoulder was dislocated and his spine fractured. Although the Doctors have done everything they could for his recovery. Mr McIsaacs is a very popular man and has only been married a short time to Miss Anna B Miller of Waterville. The sympathy of the community will go out to both him and his wife.

Veritable Lucretia Borgias

So says Dr Harvey W Wiley, head of the United States Chemist Bureau at the Pure Food and Dairy Convention held in Denver.

"The modern Lucretia," he said, "hands out poison from the ice box, from the broiler, and the little tins of dinner she buys when breathlessly rushing home after her exciting bridge games at the club. 'It is the duty of every housewife to interest herself in the laws of hygiene. The average ice box is a charnel house which not only holds death but spreads it. And too many houses allow disorder and uncleanness to prevail in their kitchen and larders through ignorance or indifference."

"They would rather pick out a Beethoven sonata, read an Ibsen play or memorize a bridge rule than trace a pomatone to its lair and eradicate it in the interest of family safety."

He is rather hard on the ladies we think.

Surgeons Got New Eyebrows For Girl.

New York, Aug 27.—To her remarkable vitality no less than science Miss Elizabeth O'Rourke, of First avenue, owes her life and the fact that some day she will have back her good looks. Until last Friday, when her hair caught in a belt on a grinding machine in a factory on Fulton street, Miss O'Rourke was a pretty girl, whose black hair fell below her waist. A breeze caught a long braid as she bent over the machine. The next instant the girl was scalped.

At St Gregory's Hospital the surgeons declared he could not survive. But she has recovered sufficiently to undergo the first of a series of skin grafting operations that will remove all traces of the accident.

The entire upper part of Miss O'Rourke's skull was stripped of the bone. The upper part of the cheek and ears were robbed of their skin tissue and the back of the neck an inch below the hair line was bared.

For four days no attempt was made to do more than stop gradually the oozing of blood from the slowly closing arteries and veins.

Dr J Edward Downey, house surgeon at St Gregory's, determined to begin with the most difficult part of the work first, and gave the patient new eyebrows, new eyelids and skin covering half her forehead stretching back to the hair line in front of the ears. For the eyebrow were two curved strips as nearly correct in width and curved shape as possible, from portions of the patient's body. For the other surfaces we used strips cut from her thighs.
