Interesting Letter From Dr Kirkpatrick.

to remain there and he will shrug his shoulders and say he does not know, but some one apparently knows, and there would seem to be good reasons that the true story of the tragedy should never become known. It is a gruesome sight to see and one is soon glad to turn his attention to brighter things.

The city of Havana is a strange mixture of the new and the old, the modern and the ancient. On one hand you see customs prevailing that have been handed down from the centuries and on the other you will meet with modern conditions such as are not excelled anywhere in the world.

The former is first noticeable in the fact that steamers entering the harbor do not tie up at any dock but anchor in the channel about three hundred yards from shore. From here all the cargoes and passengers are transferred to the shore by means of lighters, some of which are propelled by means of oars, and others by sail, steam or gasoline. This business itself is a very large one and the powerful interests behind it apparently discourage any attempt at modern methods.

It does not much matter how you get to shore or when. There is no hurry. If you do not get there today you possibly may to-morrow, and even before you arrive you have learned your first Spanish word, "manana," meaning to-morrow.

(pronounced manyana with a Spanish inflection over the first N.)
Manyana is a comfortable kind of word to learn here and if you do not grasp it the first day you probably will the second and must eventually master it in order to exist. You can not hurry here, for if you do you will simply butt into everyone you meet and would be taken in charge as an irresponsible person. It would be something like hurrying at a funeral. If you do you would not remain in the procession and would arrive at the tomb before you were due.

The individual, however, who imagine that the Cuban people are asleep and deals with them on that principle will pay for his folly in proportion to that belief. I believe them to be the shrewdest business men that are to be found anywhere and they are, as well, a united people, and although competition among them is keen they deal honorably by and stand by each other. In one of the guide books published here is the statement "The Cubans are not drunkards," and I will add to that—the Cubans are not dishonest.

Their methods of doing business must be understood, and when understood they are the best people to deal with on the face of the earth, for they pay their bills promptly and are able to do so and conduct their business almost invariably on a cash basis.

There are a great many things, Mr Editor, of which I should like to write you in reference to Cuba and its people if I felt that my friends would care to hear of them. I will send you one more letter at least in the course of a week and any further ones will depend on your wishes.

Very Sincerely,

E S KIRKPATRICK.

Continually on their feet, the "Peelers" are invariably troubled with corns and bunions—but not very long, because they know of a quick cure, Putnam's Corn Extractor; it cures painlessly in 24 hours; try "Putnam's".

Danville.

Much sympathy is extended to Mr and Mrs David McLaughlin, who buried an infant boy on 6th inst. Heart failure was the cause of its premature death.

Word has been received here of the serious illness of Mr Michael Burke of Newburg. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Messrs Gregory, Cassidy and J M Crowley of Houlton, Me, were guests at Daniel Gallagher's a couple of days of the past week.

All are eagerly looking forward to the social dance to be held in Osbornough Hall soon.

A number of young people from surrounding districts spent Sunday evening with friends in this place.

Mrs Solomon Knapp of Amity, Me, is spending a few days with relatives and friends here.

Mrs A Culbert and daughter Lena, of Lowell, Mass, accompanied the former's brother, George Gallagher to his home here to which he is returning in an ill state of health.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Do you know the difference between working and having the work done for you?

Sunlight Soap actually makes the dirt drop out—saves you time and money—but injures neither hands nor clothes. That is just the difference between Sunlight Soap and ordinary soaps.

Follow Directions

Messrs J J Hale and J Yorke of Grafton, N B, spent Sunday 6th inst at the home of D Gallagher.

Helen Gallagher spent a few days recently with friends in Newburg. Our boys from Upham's Mill make their weekly trips as usual.

RAINBOW.

GOLFERS: E W Mair is again to the front with a large assortment of the celebrated "MacGregor Golf clubs," and is offering their first quality, "wooden socket clubs" at $2.00. Nickle plated irons at $1.75 and putters at $1.50. All players who are desirous of procuring special clubs would do well to call early as he is now making up an order for the factory and can now procure any length, weight, lie, etc, at no extra charge.

They are also selling Golf balls at a small advance on cost.

Johnville.

The farmers in this place are all busy putting their crops in and have already finished.

Bridget Cummins of this place died at her home, May 25th. She had been an invalid for over twenty years though this last few years she has been gradually sinking. She always bore her trouble with patience and took it all for the best. She leaves to mourn her loss, three brothers, Mathew and Christopher of this place, and Simon in Butte, Montana, and four sisters, Mrs O C Gallagher of Bath, Mrs Dr McManus, Washburn, Me, and Annie and Lizzie at home. Her funeral was held from her home Friday, May 28th, to St John the Evangelist church where high mass of requiem was held by Rev Father Coughlin. Her three cousins, Joseph and Simon Brunnan, James Holden and her three nephews, Simon, Charles and Matthew Gallagher acted as pall bearers.

Lewis M McGuire, who has charge of the school in this place spent the 24 of May at his home in Newburg.

Mr Daniel Rice, White Glen, visits friends in this place quite often. I think I hear wedding bells.

Theodore T Gallagher has been doing a rushing business this spring going around planting potatoes with his Evan's Planter.

Miss Winifred Griffin of Benton was visiting friends in this place a short time ago.

Mrs Shaw Cronin, who has been in Melrose, Mass, for a short vacation has returned home.

Mrs Ellen O'Brien and her niece, Mary O'Brien, who has charge of the Carlow school, spent a few days in Houlton, Me, a short time ago.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this place intends holding a swell Ball, the latter part of this month.

Edward Boyd of this place is having an elegant white marble monument erected over the grave of his son the late Charles E Boyd. James W Gallagher of Woodstock who has the order is expected up in a few days to set it up.

Eliza Dinney, who has been up to Stockholm, Me, on the drive has returned home.

Alice Kane, who has been in Portland, Me, for some time has returned home to spend the summer with her parents, Mr and Mrs Thomas Kane.

Mrs J Z Everett.

Margaret Ann, wife of J Z Everett, Phillips, Me, died at her home on Wednesday, 2nd inst, aged 62 years. Mrs Everett had suffered from rheumatism for a number of years. Tuberculosis finally set in which caused her end.

She was born at Jacksonville, May 12th, 1847, and was the daughter of the late Adam Kearney. She was twice married, first Feb 2nd, 1867, to Joel S Henderson of Debec. Mr Henderson died in 1891. S.e married secondly, March 25th, 1897, to John Z Everett. She is survived by her husband and six brothers, John A, Butte, Mont; James A, Coronado, Cal; Robert H and William G, South Wakefield; B Franklin, St John; Rev A Hastings, Upper Woodstock; beside a large circle of friends and relatives and acquaintances. Though an intense sufferer toward the close of her sickness she at last fell peacefully asleep. She was buried at the cemetery Phillips, Friday, June 4th, to await her recompense at the resurrection of the just.

"I wish that I had bought Amatite Roofing. It needs no Painting."

WHY should you buy a roofing that needs to be painted every little while to keep it tight, when, for the same money or less, you can buy Amatite which needs no painting?

Amatite is waterproofed with Coal Tar Pitch—the greatest waterproofing material known. Water can't get through it. It gives the kind of protection that only the ideal roof can give.

he outer surface is composed of real mineral matter, which makes painting unnecessary.

SUNK IN QUAGMIRE.

Started For Boat on Other Side of Pond—Not Seen Since.

BROOKLINE, Mass, June 4.—The unusual and slow death caused by sinking into a quagmire is believed to be the fate of Geo McKay of this town. McKay and Leroy Easton went fishing yesterday. Seeing a boat on the other side of the pond McKay started after it saying he would meet Easton on the highway. The latter was delayed and on arriving at the appointed place and not finding McKay, went to town, believing his companion had preceded him. It is supposed that he sank in the morass which borders the pond and was suffocated.

The Ceiling For Looks--And All Else

You wouldn't put anything BUT a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling in any building of yours if you really knew how far ahead of every other kind of ceiling mine really are. Just as a matter of economy—for a Pedlar Ceiling costs no more to start with than the very best decorated plaster; and yet it will be a perfect ceiling long after the best plaster has become a dangerous network of cracks. Economy is the first thing to think of in ceiling any room, of course; for it can't be a low-priced ceiling if you have to repair it every year or two. My Art Steel Ceiling will last as long as the building. Why shouldn't it last?—it's STEEL. It can't crack, no matter how unevenly the building settles. Its surface can't flake off. Moisture can't possibly get through it. The heaviest jarring overhead cannot loosen it. It is THE permanent ceiling. Which one of those facts is true of a plaster ceiling? And, as for the looks of a plaster ceiling compared with the beauty of a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling—comparison simply isn't possible. For my ceilings, designed by notable artists—some Two Thousand Designs—are absolutely correct from an artistic viewpoint.

The patterns are doubly stamped by huge and very powerful special Pedlar machinery, into sheet steel, in a way that embosses the design in clear, sharp, high relief, with every detail wrought out to perfection. Some metal ceilings are blunt from the most delicate pastel shades to color-schemes fairly Byzantine in their strength and strikingness.

And, of course, my ceilings are fireproof,—which is one reason why anybody who carries insurance will save their whole cost in a few years time, simply through reduced premiums.

I wish you could see some literature I would like to send you—free, of course—upon this ceiling question. Between the illustrations and the text I guess I could show you that Pedlar Art Steel Ceilings are the kind of ceilings you really want to get the next time you build or repair any structure worth ceiling at all. Tell me your address (write to our nearest place) and I will see you get the information you ought to have about the ceiling you ought to buy.

G. A. Pedlar

Pedlar products include every kind of sheet metal building materials—too many items to even mention here. You can have a catalog—information—estimate—prices—advice—just for the asking. We'd like specially to interest you in our Art Steel Ceilings and Side Walls—they are a revelation to many people. More than 2,000 designs. May we send you booklet and pictures of some of them?

PEDLAR ART STEEL CEILINGS

For Churches, Residences, Civic Edifices, Schools, Libraries, Hotels, Club Houses, Office Buildings, Factories, Shops, Stores

and vague in design,—stamped badly. Mine are not. There is a Pedlar Art Steel Ceiling for every style of architecture or fashion of furnishing,—Gothic, French Renaissance, Louis XIV., Greek, Colonial, or whatever; and in each architectural period you can have a choice of patterns that is wider than the whole range of some makers' output. With paint and judgment, my Art Steel Ceilings lend themselves to color effects as dainty or as brilliant as one might wish,
