

A Combined Treatment That Really Cures Catarrh.

Canadian weather, with its extreme cold and sudden changes, gives almost every one Catarrh, and makes it hard to cure. Some recommend internal remedies—some external applications.

Father Morrissey used both—tablets to be taken three or four times a day to invigorate the system, purify the blood, and help it throw off the disease, and a soothing, healing, antiseptic salve to be applied inside the nostrils. This combined treatment known as attacking the disease from within and without, soon cures.

"Father Morrissey's No. 26"

Mr. F. L. Mills, Box 131, Springhill, N. S., wrote on August 31st last:

"I have had two prescriptions for catarrh from Father Morrissey, No. 1 Course and No. 2, but I think No. 1 has done me the most good, and that is the one I am getting filled from time to time.

I would recommend this prescription, a full for Catarrh, as his tablets are the only remedy I can get to help me. The No. 26 Tablets are a great tablet."

Don't trifle with Catarrh—cure it with Father Morrissey's No. 26. 50c for the combined treatment at your dealer's.

THE OIL OF THE PEOPLE.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.

Danville

DELAHANTY-CULBERT.

Word was received here of the marriage of Miss Agnes Culbert of this place on Feb. 23, to Thomas E. Delahanty of Auburn, the service being performed by the Rev. Thomas F. Butler at St. Joseph church.

The bride couple were attended by Miss Nellie Harrigan and Michael Sullivan.

The bride was beautifully gowned in pale blue sheen silk with picture hat to match, while the bridesmaid wore a dainty gown of Champagne voile over pink silk with a hat of white lace.

A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony to about twenty-five of their friends at 3:18 Main St. Auburn, the future home of the bride and groom.

Among the many beautiful wedding gifts were two fine chairs and a rug from the machinist at the Lewiston Bleachery and Dye works where Mr. Delahanty is employed, and a china cabinet from the A. O. H. Mr. Delahanty is vice-president of this order, and a large mirror from the Ladies Auxiliary, Mrs. Delahanty being recording secretary of this order. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Delahanty gave a reception to their friends at A. O. H. Hall. They left on the noon train for a trip to Boston. We wish the young couple every happiness.

Below are some of the useful presents received:

Parlor lamp, parlor table, five rocking chairs dining room table and four chairs, two pair blankets, four bed spreads, two feather pillows, two doz napkins, set flat irons, set silverware, four enameled kettles, silver cold meat fork, two hand painted cake plates, two fruit dishes, a silver crumb tray, and brush, salad dish, a beautiful chair from the weavers and loom workers where Mrs. Delahanty was employed besides many other too little presents not mentioned here.

We wish to bring before the minds of the public the very special Easter meetings which will be conducted by the Army. Colonel and Mrs. Turner, the Provincial Commanders of St. John City, will honor Woodstock with their presence. See ad in shop windows everywhere. Don't fail to attend the special meetings for you are cordially invited to attend them all.

RHEUMATIC LIVER OVER STRAINED KIDNEYS

Caused Sickness that puzzled able Physicians. Was Cured by Ferrozone.

A Real Miracle.

"My doctor told me I had gouty or rheumatic liver and kidneys," writes G. O. Forde, from Halifax. "I guess he was right for I was a mighty sick man and felt the game was pretty nearly up. So many remedies failed that the doctor was completely puzzled. As for symptoms—I had bus of them in the morning a sort of nausea. Sometimes the bowels were constipated, at other times quite relaxed. I felt dull, and a sense of weight in the back and over the liver was very distressing."

Lost 15 pounds in weight.

"My color resembled a yellowish pallor, and gradually I lost weight to the alarming extent of fifteen pounds. I looked jaundiced and felt sure I would die."

"Then I read of the wonders worked by Ferrozone and in desperation I bought six boxes. At once I began to mend. Ferrozone must have put a peg or two into the nervous system for things at the end of the month began to look up. In three months I felt like new, but kept on taking Ferrozone. In six months I was cured."

Ferrozone saved his life.

"Were it not for Ferrozone I wouldn't be alive to-day. I am sure it will cure any weakness, rheumatism, gout, debility poor blood or nervousness. My condition embraced all these, and Ferrozone cured me." Reader, get Ferrozone today, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

Premier Scores Mr. Foster.

Sir Wilfred Exposes the Ex-Finance Minister.

Ottawa, April 2.—The most sensational scene of the session occurred in the commons tonight when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Geo. Foster clashed in a heated exchange of plain spoken opinions, which at one time threatened to almost require the intervention of the sergeant-at-arms. As on previous occasions Mr. Foster's desire to say bitter and cutting things, led him a step too far.

In concluding at 6 o'clock his speech on the opposition resolution proposed yesterday by Mr. Doherty relative to the demand for the appointment of a commission to investigate all the other departments of the government, Mr. Foster had the temerity to impute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier personal profit in connection with a refusal to prosecute men found guilty by the Cassels commission.

Sir Wilfrid, in replying immediately after recess, gave the ex-finance minister a reply in kind and the display on both sides led to a deadly exciting few minutes before the squal passed over. Mr. Meighen, who resumed the debate, addressed himself regardless of the tribute paid to Mr. Brodeur by the mover of the resolution of trying to bring home to the minister of marine and fisheries personal responsibility for irregularities disclosed by the Cassel commission. In one breath he declared that the commission had been manacled hand and foot, and in the next he gloated over the excellent work it had accomplished.

FOSTER SCORED BY LAURIER.

"What are you going to do about it?" was the way Mr. Foster concluded, addressing the premier. What are you going to do with the men who have robbed the public treasury? What is the first minister going to do about it? Why has he not prosecuted these men? Does he intend to try and get back the money and if not it is because the first minister himself has shared in the proceeds for party purposes?"

After he had used the words, "Is it because the first minister has shared in the proceeds?" the speaker arose evidently with the intention of calling Mr. Foster to order. Anticipating the speaker's intention Mr. Foster exclaimed: "Wait a moment," and then added the words "for party purposes."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, replying after recess said: "It was not my intention to intervene in this debate except in so far as it was necessary for me to explain to the house the policy of the government and the reasons for the attitude we have taken. The house is already aware of that attitude, and it is entitled to know what are the motives which have impelled us to oppose the present motion, but before I proceed any further I may be permitted to offer the mover of the resolution, Judge Doherty, my very sincere congratulations upon the manner in which he has presented this question to the house. I do not admit his premises, still less his conclusions, but after an experience of many years in parliament I can say it was impossible to present such a motion, involving some irritation, in a better and more dignified parliamentary style. Having paid this deserved tribute Sir Wilfrid proceeded:

"I am sorry I cannot extend the same compliment to my honorable friend, the member for North Toronto, Mr. Foster. His speech was clever, very clever, to a certain extent unimpeachable, to a certain extent fair criticism, witty and pungent, but my honorable friend could not close his remarks without showing us his nature in all its naked deformity."

"My honorable friend, in the course of his observations, after having offered a very pungent criticism, stated that certain persons had profited by their dealings and had put into their pockets money which belonged to the people, and then, striking an attitude, he said: 'Are you going to prosecute and if not why not? Is it because you have shared in the proceedings?'"

"I have only this to say to Mr. Foster that, having now spent a long life in the public service, I never had a man suggest that I profited by the people's money."

HOT SHOT FOR FOSTER.

Mr. Foster rose to interrupt the premier, but there was loud cries of "sit down." Mr. Foster stood for some minutes, but could not get a hearing. When he resumed his seat and order was restored, Sir Wilfrid proceeded:

"There is no man more ready to make an insinuation than Mr. Foster, and no man who smarts so much when he receives a blow." He added: "I never manipulated the people's money. I never manipulated trust funds."

The Liberal side of the house broke into a storm of cheering, while from the opposition came angry protests. Mr. Foster, amid the angry hubbub, exclaimed: "The rules of order of this house demand that no man shall say an offensive thing of another." This protest from the chief sinner in the house in this respect was greeted with Liberal laughter. "The right honorable gentleman has put a statement in my mouth which I never made, and in his anger he refuses to allow me to correct him," continued Mr. Foster in disjointed sentences. Amid the greatest disorder Mr. Foster managed to be heard to say: "The prime minister prefers to make an argument from a false statement rather than take a true statement, and then he threatened to insinuate something with reference to myself."

During the renewed disorder which followed, Colonel Talbot exclaimed: "Did you share in it?" "Did I share it?" shouted Mr. Foster. "Did I share it?" Let that man get up on any platform and make a statement that I did and I will let him know whether I shared in it."

The whole house was now in uproar. From the Liberals came cries of "Take your medicine." The Conservatives replied with "Take it back."

Mr. Foster again rose, but was interrupted by the speaker, who had been for some time endeavoring to make himself heard.

"Order should be enforced, exclaimed Mr. Conmee at this juncture raising his voice above the cries from both sides of the house.

"Send him back on a special train," said Mr. Foster, referring to Mr. Conmee. Both Mr. Foster and Mr. Conmee remained standing each attempting vainly to make himself heard.

"Order, order," cried the speaker. Several members were now on their feet, attempting to speak, but the noise was so great their words were lost on the house.

"Why all of this excitement?" exclaimed Mr. Foster during a momentary lull. He was so excited himself at the moment that members on both sides laughed.

"What is your point of order?" asked the speaker.

"My point of order," said Mr. Foster, "is that in order to keep the debate decent there is a rule that no member of this house is allowed to

Spring Blood

Is Bad Blood

How Best to Get New Health and Strength in Spring.

The winter months are trying to the health of even the most robust. Confinement in doors in over-heated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the home, the office the shop and the school—taxes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery or clogged with impurities. Sometimes you get up in the morning just as tired as when you went to bed. Some people have headaches; other are low spirited; some have pimples and skin eruptions. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order. You can't cure these troubles with purgative medicines, which merely gallop through the system leaving you still weaker. What you need to give you health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine, and the one always reliable tonic and blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring ills but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervous debility, rheumatism, indigestion and kidney trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, rich blood which strengthens every nerve, every organ and every part of the body. Try this medicine this spring and you will have strength and energy to resist the torrid heat of the coming summer. Mr. J. R. Johnson, Loch Broom, N. B., says:—"Some two years ago I began to feel that my constitution was weakening. I could not stand any exposure or knocking about. I finally sought the aid of a doctor who said my system was very much run down, and that the trouble might end in nervous prostration. As his medicine did not help me I decided, on the advice of a friend, to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I had used less than a half dozen boxes when my health was fully restored, and I think no other medicine can equal these Pills when one is run down and out of health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Doctor's First Question

"How are your bowels?" This is generally the first question the doctor asks. He knows what a sluggish liver means. He knows what a long list of distressing complaints result from constipation. He knows that headaches, bilious attacks, indigestion, impure blood, and general debility are often promptly relieved by a good liver pill. We wish you would talk with your own doctor about this subject. Ask him at the same time if he approves of Ayer's Pills. Do as he says. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
