Stung Again.

According to the change in the time table of the C.P.R. Woodstock has again been left out in the cold. The Plaster Rock train has been taken off leaving us with one train each way a day. The early morning train that used to leave at 7:15 is now scheduled to leave at 6:45 a. m. leaving hours wait at McAdam before any train comes along to pick up the waiting passengers. The late train arrives any old time after 11 p.m. The scaly way the C.P.R. is treating the people of this section of the country must make our N.B. legislators from this county sit up and take notice. Another railway we want and another one we must have. We are at the mercy of the Octopus the C.P.R. They hold the whip hand at present but its a long lane that has no turning.

The Enterplan Concert Co.

Only a fair sized audience greeted the Enterplan Concert Co in the Hayden Gibson Theatre on Wednesday evening. Although all took their part well, Miss Furlong, violinist, captivated the audience from the start. Mrs. Scovil, the pianist, is also a star in her profession, and Mr. Kelly has a good rich tenor voice. The concert was well worthy of a larger crowd.

The Rev. Mr. McConnell, Fredericton, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist Church Sunday next at both services. On Monday evening he will deliver a lecture in the school room of the church entitled "Here and There in Continental Europe." The lecture will be illustrated by 100 beautiful views.

H. WILMOT YOUNG AND MARJIE ADAMS.

In New Plays All Next Week—Thorns and Orange Blossoms Monday Oct. 11th.

The H. Wilmot Young and Marjie Adams Company will open an engagement of three nights at the Opera house, Monday Oct. 11th. It will be with great interest that our local theatre goers will learn of this popular and successful company's annual engagement. This year Mr. Young has surrounded himself and Miss Adams with what he considers the most capable company, artistically speaking, that he has ever had. Miss Adams, who has the reputation of being the best dressed actress playing at popular prices today, will this year surpass all previous efforts, having purchased some of the most costly and handsome gowns of Parisian model. The plays this year are such that will give Miss Adams ample opportunity to display these gorgeous costumes with startling effect.

The ladies who intend patronizing this Company should not miss the opening bill as Miss Adams will wear some of her most costly dresses.

Mr. Young has this year made a special effort to select his company from actors and actresses who are ladies and gentlemen on and off the stage, with wardrobe that will be a revelation to the patrons of popular priced attractions.

The plays presented will be the latest New York successes that appeal to an enlightened and intelligent mind and in addition to an excellent dramatic show specialties and vaudeville features, far above the ordinary, and somewhat amusing, will be interspersed between acts. There will be special features by the very best vaudeville talent direct from New York's leading theatres. There are a good many surprises in store for the patrons of the Opera House on Monday night next, during the engagement of the Young-Adams Company, for Mr. Young has spared neither pains nor expense in securing the best talent obtainable.

The opening play will be "Thorns and Orange Blossoms."

Town Council.

The Council met on Monday evening, all the councillors were present.

The town treasurer's report for the month of September showed receipts of $284.26 and expenditures of $124.27.

Coun Ketchum read a letter from D. McNicol, vice president of the C.P.R. in regard to the building of a new station, and asking the council to name a site that would be suitable to the townspeople. Coun Ketchum thought it would be a good move for the Council to take some action in the matter.

Coun Dugan spoke of the revision of the voters list and said there had not been any revision appointed by the Council as the law calls for. He moved that J. W. Gallagher and Stephen Green be appointed—Carried.

Coun Ketchum said that Mrs. L. P. Fisher had waited on him in regard to the floods in Mexico in which many people had been drowned and the people there were badly in need of help, as they were homeless and destitute. He felt that the town could not legally give a grant but thought perhaps they would be able to assist them in any way they possibly could.

His Worship said that Mrs. Fisher had called and he had intimated that perhaps a public meeting might be called.

Coun McManus seconded by Coun Hagerman, moved that the catch basin on the institute hill be closed and the surface water run into the creek. Carried.

Coun Fawcett said he had some complaints to make. When he was appointed chairman of the street committee he thought he would have something to say in regard to the work being done, but he found that he had not. Work was being done at the Bull Creek and when he went away he left Mr. Graham, to make the necessary repairs, but he had been taken off the job by Mr. Kelly. The public would blame him for that but it was not his fault. If the job had been done as he had laid it out, the money would not have been wasted as it has been. He thought if Mr. Kelly would attend to his duty as Marshall there would be better order in the town. If he is going to cater to drunken men he had better be put in some other position. When he (Fawcett) went away he had his work laid out, and he found that Mr. Kelly had taken upon himself to lay down an asphalt sidewalk in front of the Victoria Hotel, one of the biggest rum holes in town. He knew a man in town who had a receipt for his taxes from Mr. Kelly and it did not appear on the town treasurer's books. He spoke of drunken men being arrested by the lockup by the Marshall in the night. He wanted the public to know that he stood in the matter.

His Worship said that in regard to the Bull Creek job, it was through his orders that he was asked to stop work there and do some work on the sidewalks. Mr. Graham had said that he would rather give up his job than work under Chief Kelly, and he felt there was nothing to do but let him go, which he felt he was perfectly justified in doing.

Chief Kelly said there was nothing said to Mr. Graham except what His Worship had told him today. Coun Fawcett had asked him to look after the work on the sidewalks when he was away and he had consented to do so. In regard to laying the sidewalk in front of the Victoria Hotel, he told Mr. Boyer if he would put in the curbing he (Kelly) would see the proper authorities and ask them if they would lay the sidewalk. He had never done any work unless he got an order from the town officials. He had never catered to any drunken men, and had always tried to do his duty conscientiously, and showed no partiality to anybody. He did not know about any man having a receipt for his taxes which was not credited on the treasurer's books. He was no thief. If he had taken any money out of the town by mistake he stood ready to make it good. When the council thought that he was not the right man for the position he occupied, it was their privilege to discharge him.

Coun Ketchum thought that Coun Fawcett should be a little more guarded in his language. He talks to us as if we were all black sheep and he was the only white one. If he would devote his energies to a better channel it would be more profitable for the town. When I am called away from town, I am very glad to have Coun McManus take my duties and feel that everything is all right. But not so with Coun Fawcett. He comes up from St. Andrews once a month to see that the town's business is properly conducted. His remarks about Chief Kelly were extremely severe and uncalled for. His (Ketchum's) experience with Chief Kelly and the Police Magistrate had convinced him that they were both capable and efficient officials.

Coun Fawcett said he did not mention Mr. Dibble in his remarks. He felt that he had been turned down. If the Mayor had taken the matter out of his hands he was to blame. From this time forward Mr. Kelly can do the work. If he (Fawcett) had pinched any man at the board he would have been excused.

Coun Ketchum seconded by Coun Hagerman, moved that the catch basin on the institute hill be closed and the surface water run into the creek. Carried.

NICHOLSON, Cor King & Main Sts.

erman moved that the assessors be paid as follows: $100.00 to the principal assessor and $25 each to the two assistants. Carried.

His Worship said he would sign cheques up to the amount of money in the bank and after that was exhausted he would sign no more cheques.

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week, Mrs. Willard Roy McLauchlan received at the home of Mrs. John McLauchlan, Main Street. The rooms were brightened by quantities of flowers. Mrs. Willard Roy McLauchlan received in her wedding gown, an exquisite creation of Swiss eyelet embroidery over white taffeta silk made princess style. She was assisted by Mrs. John McLauchlan who wore a charming green silk trimmed with cream lace. In the dining room Mrs. Geo. Storey McLauchlan poured coffee, assisted by the Misses Bessie McLauchlan, Helen Foster, Elsie Everett and Hazel Welch. Miss Marguerite McLauchlan who wore a white frock trimmed with pink ribbons looked very pretty as she opened the door to the many callers.

FROM THE PULPIT TO OAR PLATFORM.

Lawrence, Kans. October 2—"don't believe a minister of the Gospel can lead an honest life now," was the startling statement made today by Rev. D. H. Carrick, who has just resigned from the pastorate of the North Lawrence Christian Church. Mr. Carrick has accepted a position with the Lawrence Street Railway Company as a conductor.

"The public never sees behind the scene of the pastor's home," said Mr. Carrick, "or it might realize the trials, the griefs the pangs which the pastor and his wife cannot even make a pretense of dressing or dining well or the people will think they are paying the pastor too much, or that he ought to save part of his salary and give it to the missions. He cannot put on a pair of patent leather shoes without every single person who has contributed towards his salary, looking at them as if to say 'I helped to pay for those shoes.'"

"No, sir, I don't believe a minister can live a really honest life. If he preaches the truth he will be condemning the lives of most of his congregation and offending them. Thank God, I am earning an honest living now and nobody can criticize."

THE CENTREVILLE FAIR.

The Centreville Fair has come and gone. Preparations which had been going on for some time to make this one of the best fairs ever yet held in this section succeeded. The display of live stock, farm and industrial products, manufactured articles, etc., were credit to the parishes which held this fair and an attraction to the large crowds that were in attendance.

Fine weather was all that was necessary to make a large turn out. Early in the day the weather looked threatening but by eleven o'clock the sky lightened and everything pointed to a successful time.

The three Woodstock papers were represented. Mr. Malaney for the Press Mr. Upham for the Dispatch and Mr. McLauchlan for the Sentinel.

Mr. Wilmot Hay kindly tendered the use of his excellent automobile for the "pencil pushers" which was gratefully accepted. Mr. Hay has a 22 horse power McLauchlin Brick machine and he knows how to run it to perfection.

Leaving Woodstock at 9:20 a. m. we bowed along the road towards Centreville. As we struck the main road leading to Exhibition town (in fact every road led to Centreville, Woodstock, we could see long lines of teams loaded with gay and happy people gaily bedecked making for the same destination as ourselves.

After a short stop at the pretty village of Lakeville and having a chat with Mr. Wilson, Lakeville's busy merchant, we continued our course and arrived at Centreville after one hour and twenty-five minutes on the road.

Going immediately to the fair grounds we were surprised at the large gathering already assembled. Immediately after dinner which by the forethought of the management was served on the grounds, the judging commenced.

Although not able to give a complete list of the prizes that were awarded we mention below some of the prize winners of the cattle and some of the horses.

In the short horn class they were awarded as follows:

SHORT-HORN BULL, W. J. Emery, 1st; Mr. Hargrave, 2nd. HOLSTEIN—Cows, 3 yr old, W. J. Owens, 1st.

AYRESHIRE—Bull, 1 yr old, Isaac Cronkhitte 1st; Cow, 1 yr old, Isaac Cronkhitte 1st.

GEN PURPOSE MARE—Geo. Cronkhitte, 1st, J. E. Long 2nd, W. Tweedie 3rd.

GEN PURPOSE BROOD MARE—Geo. Tracy 1st, Howard McGrath 2nd.

GEN PURPOSE 3YR COLT—George Lamoreau, 1st; 2yr colt, W. J. Emery, 1st.

Lee Bros captured the prize at the horse pulling.

One of the finest specimens of horseflesh shown through the province and which is well known from Maine to California, from the Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico, was Ostrich. This horse, the royally bred son of Order and Plumage was presented to the National Bureau of Breeding by Mr. Algernon Dalgerfield, of New York, and shown by its handler, Mr. B. N. Shaw, of Victoria. He would be a blue ribbon winner wherever shown. He was bred by Jas. B. Haggin and his long life on the turf is a testimony to his fashionable ancestry.

There was a fine display of Agricultural products, Fancy work, Manufactured articles, Seeds, etc. Poultry, sheep, swine, etc. It was impossible for the scribes to get a list of the prize winners, but which will appear later.

The Judges were fair and impartial and general satisfaction was given and accepted.

The following Judges, who they were and what of: Wilmot Hay, Donald Innis, Fruit, Jas. Graham, J. R. Tompkins, Horses.

E. Plummer, Jas. Good, Cattle. John Lindsay, Chas. F. Boyer, Sheep and Hogs.

Donald Innis, Boots, Vegetables, Grain and Field Seed. Cooley King and wife, Mrs. Lee, Fancy Articles, Woolen and Cotton. Ward Barker, Manufactured Articles.

W. J. Owens, President, Julian E. Long, Sect., N. T. Scholey, Treas. There is something we would like to call to the attention of the management of the Fair. Wouldn't it be a good idea to have some means that newspaper men could get the list of the prize winners the day of the Fair, which could easily be done. Then the public would not have to wait two or three weeks for the list as it has heretofore. We hope the management will formulate some plans whereby this object might be achieved next year.

In closing we would wish to thank Mr. Wilmot Hay very heartily for his kindness to the scribes. It was a pleasant day he made it possible for them to enjoy by his automobile ride.
