Advertise the county.

Some time ago we drew attention to the benefit to be derived from a booth in the Big Fair to be held in St John this September. The time is fast approaching when it will be necessary for definite action to be taken in this matter if the County Council are at all desirous of giving the great possibilities of Carleton County any publicity.

The Fair in St John, under the management of Mr Good promises to be the biggest and best of its kind ever held in the Maritime Provinces. Mr Good has been in the different cities of Upper Canada and in all of these places he has stirred up an interest in this fair. Exhibits have been promised from the largest manufacturers of Canada. With the coming of exhibits from these places visitors will also come. The attendance will not be from local sources only. What better opportunity can be found for placing wealth of this great county before the public. No better grain, fruit, cattle or horses can be raised anywhere in Canada than in this county. Not only from the point of quality but from that of quantity do we also excel. What would look better or do more to advertise our county than a well arranged display of our farm products. A small grant by the County Council, the selecting of the right man would give the matter a start. If the County Council would decide to aid in the matter no doubt the Agricultural Society would be glad to render any assistance possible. With the matter definitely settled the farmers could cultivate the different products with a view to exhibiting. We hope the Warden will see his way clear to take up the matter and have some action taken.

Time to Stop It.

We recognize that it is impossible for one man to police the town of Woodstock in the day time with any degree of satisfaction to himself or the people. No better officer can be found than either of the men employed by the Town. But we think that it is time for the Town officials to render Chief Kelly assistance if necessary and put down the drinking and loafing which occurs every Sunday in the neighborhood of the highway bridge. Every summer as soon as the air warms the least drunks and loafers congregate in that section. It is not a pleasant place for anyone to pass and oftentimes it is made doubly unpleasant for ladies by the remarks of these men. For a small town we excel in the number of places where loafers congregate. Why not give the Chief the necessary assistance upon Sunday, at least, and stop this matter. Now that the new Park has been opened many ladies and children will pass by the old wrapper factory. If the same old gang holds out in that vicinity it will be decidedly unpleasant.

The decision in the Dunbar case will be gratifying to the town. This large concern is an important factor in our commercial life.

Street cleaning is going on under the supervision of the new Superintendent. It will take more than the mud from the gutters to make good streets. We hope the town will take action toward permanent work.

Mr Carvell won an important case at Fredericton last week. The Press has failed to give it the publicity it did the case he lost.

The past week has been productive of great fish stories. 'Tis a pity the big ones always get away.

THE DUNBAR CO CASE.

The people of Woodstock will be pleased with the decision given last Tuesday by Judge Barker in the case of Dunbar Co. vs the Lombard Engine Co. As it will be remembered the Lombard people brought action against the Dunbar Co. for infringement of patent. The case was argued before Judge Barker in the Equity Court. Messrs L E Young and J Hersey for Lombard and F B Carvell for Dunbar Co. Judge Barker dismissed the bill with costs. This settles the question concerning the right of the Dunbar people to manufacture the log hauler they have been putting upon the market and they are proceeding at once to build a large number. They have five engines now under construction and Mr Dunbar says that the output will be doubled immediately.

"Dave Holcomb."

At the Hayden-Gibson Theatre on Monday next "Dave Holcomb" will be offered in this city for the first time. "Dave Holcomb," with William Lawrence in the title role. The play is entirely new and original in plot and different in conception from anything heretofore offered by this popular star. Mr Lawrence will never be forgotten for the Uncle Josh he gave us in "The Old Homestead," succeeding Denman Thompson for the past five seasons in that play "Dave Holcomb" is now in its first year, comparatively new to the public, but wherever it has appeared, the public sentiment has run high in its favor. Lawrence has spent his summer vacation during the past three years up among the hills of old Vermont. It was there he met characters he is using in "Dave Holcomb" drawing them from real life. The character he portrays, "Uncle Dave," lives on a farm near Rutland, Vermont; his good wife, Haris, in the same household; his drunken brother, also finds shelter beneath the same roof, "Squire" Jackson runs the village hotel and sells "wet goods" intended to tickle the palates of the Green Mountain youths. Hank, the mischievous boy; Phoebe, the village organist; the village choir, in fact all those who contribute towards the success of "Dave Holcomb" met Lawrence face to face in real life in old Vermont before he ever thought of introducing them into a play. Nothing has been overlooked to make the play a veritable country outing, in fact you can almost smell the fragrance of the meadow and hear the babbling of the brook as the curtain ascends on this masterpiece of rustic offering. Lawrence as "Uncle Dave," the good-natured, easy going, old honest farmer, is a Chinese puzzle. You can never tell when he is going to make you laugh, and you never suspect when he is going to make you cry. It is the best part he has ever had in his entire starring career and fits him more admirably than Uncle Josh in "The Old Homestead." The play will be seen here in its entirety exactly as presented this season in Boston, Providence, Philadelphia and other big cities.

CHURCH UNION MAY SOON BE ACCOMPLISHED

Dr Inch Believes that All Barriers Have Been at Last Broken Down.

The New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Conference of the Methodist church will convene in Sackville the third Tuesday in June. The Nova Scotia Conference meets the same time in Amherst, just across the border. There will be fraternizing, and as a result the proceedings will be of an interesting nature.

In August the session of the General Conference will be held in Victoria, B.C. This is the Dominion Methodist Parliament, which meets once in four years. The leading question to be discussed at the coming session is the one of union with the Presbyterians and Congregationalists. The Presbyterian General Assem. bly meets in Halifax in June, and their action regarding union will largely determine the attitude that will be taken by the members of the General Conference.

Dr Inch is of the opinion that the matter will go through. A survey of the situation seems to have impressed upon him the fact that most of the laymen of the denominations interested are in favor of the movement. The rock that is most likely to cause a wreck is the one of sentiment, which embodies an objection to giving up the denominational names. When the subject of a name was up for discussion at the last session of the General Conference, Dr Inch suggested that "United Church of Canada" would be a good name for the combined forces. "Better wait till the child is born before you name it," said the President, and the Doctor halted. In the face of such a remark coming from the presiding officer, he thought it wise to say no more, feeling that time would bring about a solution of the difficulty. The name, however, sounds good, and if union becomes a reality, it is not improbable that Dr Inch may have the pleasure of seeing his suggestion adopted.

In regard to church policy, Dr Inch and Prof Walter Murray, then of Dalhousie University, Halifax now president of the University of Saskatchewan, went over the Presbyterian and Methodist systems four years ago, and found on comparison that there was no essential difference—nothing, at all events, to keep the two bodies apart. For instance, the Presbyterians have their presbyteries, which correspond with the Methodist district boards. The Methodist Conference is similar to the Presbyterian Synod, and the Presbyterian General Assembly has its counterpart in the Methodist General Conference.

Passing, then, to the itinerancy system in force in the Methodist denomination, it was agreed by Prof Murray that there was much to be said in its favor. A clergyman in the Methodist denomination is stationed for three years in one circuit. If the congregation want him, he can remain four; then he must remove to another circuit. Four years is the limit in one place. The plan proposed in the event of union is a five-year residency in one circuit. This should be satisfactory to ministers and congregations, because if a minister is a misfit he and the congregation are satisfied to make the best of it for five years, when a transfer can take place. In the majority of cases there is a place for every man and the employment of the itinerancy plan is likely to have the effect of a minister reaching his sphere just as water reaches its level.

Dr Inch is heartily in favor of church union, and he is in hopes of seeing it an accomplished fact before Halley's comet comes again.

It is stated that The Montreal Standard which, from its commencement, leaped into the first place among the illustrated papers of the continent, will this year, publish a Christmas Number, which promises to be a marvel of beauty and a credit to Canadian enterprise. It is said the best artists in Canada, England, and the United States have been for a year at work on this superb number which will be the highest expression in artistic excellence. Newsdealers and Book Stores are already booking orders.

The World's Sunday School Convention.

Interesting Letter From C W Manzer.

Washington, D C.

The Sentinel, Woodstock, N B, Canada.

On stepping off the train at Washington the attention is directed to a booth of The World's Sunday School Convention in the depot where the stranger obtains information concerning the Convention. The new union depot, terminal for all railroads entering Washington, is said to be one of the finest in the world, costing about thirteen million dollars.

As the stranger sallies forth into the city he is impressed by its attractiveness, beautiful foliage, imposing buildings and beautifully paved streets, practically every street in the city is smoothly paved and kept clean by constant sweeping. This is not an industrial centre but is distinctively a governmental city. The writer has covered the principal portion of the city but has not yet seen a building bearing the least resemblance to a manufacturing establishment.

I will not utilize your space by describing any details of the Convention but will mention only some of the general impressions it gives one.

1ST—ITS BIGNESS.

No one building can accommodate the crowds. Convention Hall is the largest auditorium, a placard on the side of the building shows its seating capacity as 6000 and standing capacity 10,000. On Thursday evening when President Taft addressed the Convention there were thousands turned away unable to gain admittance. At the same time, overflow meetings were being held in two of the churches, seats were reserved until 7.30 for the delegates. Although previous announcement was made as to this, many did not understand it and piteously implored the police to allow them to enter, saying they had come from distant parts of the world and greatly desired to hear the President but they could not prevail with the police who guarded the iron gates saying, "we are sorry but the people inside are packed together like sardines."

2ND—ITS REPRESENTATIVE CHARACTER.

Practically the whole world is represented, every delegate is provided with a badge, the different nations being represented by different colors. North Americans wear red. At one or more sessions each day there is a roll call of nations responded to by either a missionary or native worker of that nation giving a short address.

3RD—ITS MISSIONARY SPIRIT.

It would be rather difficult for the uninitiated hearer to distinguish by the addresses whether it is distinctively a Sunday School or a Foreign Missionary Convention. The following two phrases will give the reader a correct idea of the aim and purpose of the Convention.

"The Field The World" "The World For Christ."

The World's S S Association has never solicited funds to carry on missionary work, but at this Convention it was decided to carry on more advanced work by placing field workers in different parts of the world. It was announced in this Convention that the World's Sunday School Convention was now twenty one years old and ought to begin to do a man's work in the world and $25,000.00 per year was asked for to carry on this work. $22,000.00 of this amount was pledged during Saturday morning's session and the balance of $3,000.00 during Monday morning's session, thus $25,000.00 per year for three years (the period intervening between this and next Convention) was pledged, equivalent to $75,000.00.

Nothing on this wise has ever before been witnessed on this earth. Christian workers representing the whole world, in session, making up a fund of $75,000.00 to carry forward the Gospel of Christ throughout the world.

4TH—ITS SPIRIT OF HARMONY AND BROTHERLY LOVE.

While the nations of the earth are adding to their equipment for warfare at immense cost in preparation for the destruction of life, here are representatives of Christ from different nations of the earth, heralding the Gospel of Christ, the acceptance of which gives life, Peace on earth, Good will toward men, is an ideal condition. It is refreshing to note the spirit of unity existing among the leaders representing different nationalities. Rev FB Meyer, D D of England, is the President. Mr (Continued on fifth page)

BIG MUSICAL SHOW.

"The Japanese Honeymoon," [the success of the past season, is the unexpected announcement for presentation at the Hayden-Gibson Theatre this Friday and Saturday night. It is a brilliant type of the prevailing fashion of New York successes, oddly costumed and picturesquely mounted, abounding in clever comedy, amusing situations and original music of the jingly kind that sends you home whistling its bright, catchy airs. The original Pony Ballet, the big hit of the season, are with the company. Beatrice Turner has just been transferred from the Wizard of Oz and plays Dorothy. J A Beall sings his original role of Ensign Neville. Russell Roushorne, the basso, loaned to Dockstaders Minstrels, is back in his old part, and the comedians, Hamilton and Ramsey, are as funny as ever. To those who have already seen the Japanese Honeymoon no inducement to enjoy it again is necessary, for those who have not been so fortunate, a welcome evening's entertainment is in store.

The company, which was idle owing to change of route, having been secured by telegraph today. Seats are now on sale.

Managers Revolt.

Three Hundred Theatres Declared Independent.

The sudden determination of the New England theatrical booking offices to throw off the yoke of the "syndicate" is of special importance to local playgoers. In the future producers, managers and stars are free to arrange their own playing dates and select the towns in which to present their attractions, while opera house managers may accept or decline the various amusements offered and can insist upon moderate prices in keeping with the times.

Although independence was declared but a few days ago, two well-known companies are already in the field and will probably be seen in this province within a few weeks.—The Shuberts, leaders of the independent movement, have booked James T Powers in "Havanna" for a short Spring trip into Canada, and the Herald Square Company is sending "The Japanese Honeymoon" and "A Trip to India" into the one-night-and-out cities of this vicinity.

The effect of this "open door" policy is far-reaching, and will result in many other high class attractions appearing here at reasonable prices during the balance of this and next season.
