

BLOOD WILL TELL!

The Complexion Faithfully Mirrors Its Purity or Impurity

Massage, cosmetics and the like sometimes improve a good complexion, and occasionally mitigate the badness of a bad one. But there is only one way to get that clear, satin skin, with the rosy tint of health glowing through, and that is by keeping the blood pure.

Impure blood will show itself. It makes the skin "muddy" or sallow, with pimples, blackheads or boils breaking out. It takes away the clearness from the eye, coats the tongue, makes the breath bad. It saps the energies and brings on headaches. It is fatal to good health or to the highest happiness or usefulness.

Purifying the blood is simply a question of keeping the four great eliminating organs—bowels, kidneys, the pores of the skin and the lungs—in good working order. These organs should throw off all the worn-out tissue and other impurities which the blood is continually gathering up throughout the body, and all the waste matter from the food.

The failure of any or all of them to perform these functions should be remedied at once, and it can be, quickly and certainly, by the use of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. One of the ingredients of these splendid Pills open up the pores of the skin, another regulates the bowels, a third gives ease and strength to the kidneys and a fourth clears the mucus membrane of the lungs so that the gaseous impurities in the blood can pass freely through into the air.

Thus whatever may be the cause of the impure blood, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills remove it, and soon the veins are filled with pure, red, life-giving fluid. Then, and only then, will you have a clear eye, a clean tongue, a sweet breath and a perfect complexion.

Mr. Richard Wilson, of Middlesex Co., Ont., writes:

"For some time I have been in a low and depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointment, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood. At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen one-third larger than natural, water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

Changed Her Mind.

Story of an Extravagant Husband and a Saving Wife.

"Hello, Harry, is that you?" "H'm, yes, dear. What's up?" "Oh, nothing. I just thought I'd call you up and tell you I was coming down town this morning to do a little shopping and ask you if you'd take me out to lunch. Just where you usually go you know. Please I'll be so nice to eat where you always do."

"Oh, all right! What time will you be down?"

"At about 12:30."

"All right. I'll be there. Good-bye."

Then this happened at the restaurant, records the Chicago Tribune.

"Oh, so this is where you usually come?"

"Oh!"

"Nearly always, dear. The service is good and music rests me."

"Yes. Don't you like it?"

"It looks quite elegant and expensive."

"Not particularly expensive. In fact, I think it is quite the reverse. You can get a splendid meal here for 75 cents."

"Seventy-five cents! Charles Morton Harris, do you mean to tell me that you spend 75 cents every day for your lunch?"

"No, I don't. I'm just telling you that you can get a splendid meal for that amount. Now, my dear, what are you going to have. Would you like a little appetizer?"

"Do you mean a drink?"

"Yes. A-r-cocktail or something."

"And so this is the way you spend your money! On appetizers! Chas Morton Harris!"

"My dear, I was merely asking you if you wanted one. That does not necessarily imply that I drink them every day."

"You mentioned them quite as if you were in the habit of it. No, I do not want an appetizer. My appetite is quite good enough just as it is."

"Well, let's see. What would you like to eat?"

"Oh, I don't know. I haven't made up my mind."

"What do you say to a nice little steak for two—with mushrooms? You are so fond of them."

"What you usually eat for lunch? Do you feel that you can afford things like that? I don't. I have a sandwich and cocoa and manage to get along quite well. It is all I ever have. Sometimes I only eat bread and butter."

"My dear girl, there is no use of your making a martyr of yourself. I am willing and able to pay for everything you want to eat. I never dreamed that you had been stinting yourself on lunches, and I don't see why you have done it."

"That's always the way. No matter what a woman does to help her husband along, it is never appreciated. She might as well go ahead and enjoy herself. I don't know what I want to eat."

"Well, let's see. Perhaps a salad will be nice."

"Salad! Forty cents!"

"My dear child, will you please stop worrying about prices? When you come down to lunch with me I want you to have what you want, regardless of price. Now what will you have? Hurry up, the waiter is getting impatient."

"The waiter! H'm! Has he anything on you?"

"No, dear, but you see the time is slipping by. Now, what will you have to eat?"

"I don't know. Go ahead and order."

"Would you like a club sandwich?"

"Just as if I didn't get enough of sandwiches during the week? No, sir; if you can afford to eat here every day you can certainly give me something to eat that I can relish on the day I come down."

"Will you have a steak with mushrooms?"

"Yes, I will."

Mending With Plaster.

In lieu of drawing the torn edge of a dress together with silk thread or even with frayed threads of the material an excellent plan lies in your medicine chest.

That sounds a trifle startling to the needle worker, but listen. A piece of court plaster will form a good working basis upon which a comparatively invisible repair can be made.

If the tear be on the plain width the skirt should be laid upon a table, the edges pulled together and pinned down and finally the strip of court plaster applied. A hot iron will press the edges together, and the frayed threads should be cut away as a finishing touch.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case with Many Woodstock People.

Too many Woodstock citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest, and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief, but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Booth's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt Woodstock evidence. Mrs. E. B. Churchill of Connell St., Woodstock, N. B., says:

"I was nervous and restless and could not sleep but very little and then I would wake with a dizzy headache. I would be scarcely able to dress myself and I would suffer with pains and soreness in my eyes. Spots would appear before me and there seemed to be particles of sand rubbing under the eye lids. Many forms of kidney trouble began to show themselves but I could find nothing that would check the disease or benefit my condition. My back became very sore and weak and I suffered with it constantly. My daughter, Mrs. Clarke recommended Booth's Kidney Pills and procuring a box for me at Mr. Mail's Pharmacy I commenced treatment. I soon found relief from the dizzy head and gradually each symptom of the dread disease disappeared. I have been well and strong ever since and can recommend Booth's Kidney Pills very highly."

THE HOME PHYSICIAN

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills
Cure Most of the Family's Ills.

Perhaps if the children, and the "grown-ups" too, always ate exactly the right quantities of exactly the right things, at just the proper times, and in every other way obeyed the rules of health, there would be no sickness in the family, and no need of medicine.

But they never have and probably never will, so in every family there are sure to be more or less frequent attacks of sick headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, and kidney and liver troubles, and occasionally some one is "sick in bed."

It is worth a good deal to the mother, then, to have on hand that perfectly safe and reliable remedy for these ills—Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

They invigorate those organs which cleanse the body of waste and impurities, regulating the bowels, stimulating the kidneys and opening the pores of the skin.

Thus Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cure the common ailments and keep the family healthy. This they have been doing for over half a century in every part of the world.

OBITUARY.

In loving memory of John Gillin, who died at his home in Hartland on Saturday, February 12th and whose remains were interred in the Williamstown cemetery on Monday, with a high mass of Requiem.

Another sod has been upturned, Another one laid low

His soul has up to Heaven flown His body lies below.

A new clay mound is made for him, Near, where nine years ago—

Two sisters were laid side by side 'Neath the drifting falling snow.

We do not wish thee back John! And yet we mourn for thee.

Oh! that we mortals here below Were now as bright as he.

Death's mighty trumpet now has borne, Three loved ones from our home,

But when its final beat shall sound Our souls with them will join.

A gloom has o'er our home been cast; Since Deaths loud trumpet blew,

And silenced one to join thy band From out our scattered few.

A brighter crown is given him Than this world could bestow,

He has gone to be with Jesus In his Heavenly radiant glow.

And when this earth has ceased to be, And the mistic clouds rolled o'er;

May we meet again to part no more On that shining far off shore.—M. L. G.
