

AFTER DOCTOR'S FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Melgie Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSHUA W. HICKS, Midgie Station, N. B.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good your advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—MRS. FRANK COOPER, Box 448, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

FAMOUS LIBRARY

TO BE DISPOSED OF.

Most Notable Private Collection in England to Be Sold Next Month.

(New York Times Review of Books)
The sale of the remarkably fine and valuable Huth collection of old and rare books will be held at Sotheby's in London on November 15, and will last eight days. This will be only the first part of the library dispersal. It will comprise the letters A B and probably C, and the Huth Shakespeareana, which is one of the most notable things in the collection.

Henry Huth, merchant and banker, the son of Frederick Huth, of Andover, who became a naturalized British subject, began forming his library about sixty years ago. It was his habit, continued up to the day of his death, to call daily at all the principal booksellers in London, and he was also represented by an agent at most of the important book sales. After his death in 1878 his collection was added to by his son and heir, A. H. Huth. The latter died a few months ago, and it was then decided to sell the famous collection at public auction.

It is the only extant private collection in Great Britain that can compare favorably with the Robert Hoe library. Each of these celebrated libraries was appraised some time ago by the book experts at worth $2,000,000, but, as the first part alone of the four parts of the Hoe collection has realized close to $1,000,000, the total figures for the whole of it in all probability will exceed by a considerable amount the $2,000,000 appraisement. It remains to be seen whether the prices at the Huth sale will average as high as those of the Hoe sale; in other words, whether London will prove itself to be at the present day as good a book mart as its great younger rival, New York.

Henry Huth confined himself to no particular subject in forming his library, but bought anything of real interest, provided it was perfect and in good condition. Imperfect books he called "the lepers of a library."

The Bibles, without being numerous—there are more than fifty rare ones—include nearly every edition specially prized by collectors. The most valuable of them all is the famous Sykes-Perkins copy of the Gutenberg Bible on paper. This is described as perfect, clean and partly uncut. Its value is greatly enhanced by manuscript memoranda of signatures and numbers of chapters in the margins, which some think are in the autograph of John Gutenberg himself, written for the direction of the workmen in his printing office at Mainz. This Bible was at one time owned by Sir Mark Masterman Sykes, a Yorkshire Baronet, famous as a bibliophile and possessed of one of the finest private libraries in England. He died in 1823.

The work was subsequently obtained by Henry Perkins, another famous English book collector, for about $975. Perkins died at Dover in 1855. His library, sold at auction in 1873, produced $130,000, which was the largest amount ever realized for a library of the same extent, ten volumes alone going for 10,000 guineas. Two of these were the Gutenberg Bible, one printed on vellum, the other on paper. The former, which cost Perkins $2,500, sold for $17,000. This is the same copy for which Henry E. Huntington paid $50,000 at the Hoe sale. The paper copy which cost Perkins $975, sold for $13,450. This is the Huth copy.

Another rare Bible in the Huth collection is the Biblia Sacra Latina, two volumes, printed upon vellum at Mainz by Fust & Schoeffer in 1462. This is the first edition of the Latin Bible with a date. The Gutenberg Bible is undated. The copy owned by Perkins sold for $3,900, and resold at the Crawford library dispersal brought $5,125. There is also a Miles Coverdale English Bible dated 1535. It has some fac simile leaves, but it is said that no perfect copy is known. It is the Perkins copy. He paid $446.25 for it. At his sale it fetched $2,000. It is the first edition of the English translation by Miles Coverdale, and was probably printed at Zurich by Christopher Froschouer. The Appleton copy of this addition, some leaves mended and others supplied in fac simile, brought $15,000 at auction in 1903.

The Huth copy of the first edition of the "Pentateuch, or Five Books of Moses," translated by William Tyndale, is one of three perfect copies known. One of these three is in the Grenville Library at the British Museum. The work was issued from the printing house of Hans Luft at Marburg in 1530. There are also rare additions of the Great or Cranmer Bible, Mathew's version, the Bishops' version, and the King James version, printed by Robert Barker in London in 1611. Other rarities are various illuminated manuscript Bibles in Latin and early examples in French, Dutch and German.

Among the rarest of the Shakespearean first quarto editions of "The Tragedie of King Richard the Second," printed by Valentine Simmes in 1597, of which the only other copy known is in the Cappell collection, and "The Tragedie of King Richard the Third," 1597, by the same printer, of which the only other copy known is in the Bodleian Library. Both of these rarities are among the fifty books which, according to the terms of the Huth will, are to go to the British Museum. It is said that of Shakespeare's works only two—his narrative poems, "Venus and Adonis" and "Lucrece"—were published with his sanction and co-operation. The Huth copy of "Venus and Adonis" was printed by Richard Field in 1594. Only two other copies are known. One of these, the Daniel copy, sold for $1,200 in 1864. The first three Shakespeare Folios of 1623, 1632 and 1633 in the Huth collection have been long known as remarkably fine copies.

I. C. R. TIME TABLES

The Fall and Winter Time Table for the Intercolonial Railway will go into effect on October 29th. There will be practically no departure from the time schedule of last winter. The Ocean Limited will be discontinued until next summer, and the through service between Halifax, Sydney, St. John, Moncton and Montreal will be perfected by the Maritime Express which will leave Montreal at 12.05 and arrive at Halifax 17.15. The night express between Halifax and the Sydneys will be continued for the present. No. 3 and 4 Expresses between St. John and Pt du Chene will be discontinued.

When the linoleum or oilcloth has been washed and thoroughly dried make a little starch in a pint basin with boiling water and rub lightly over with a clean cloth. It will dry very brightly without any further rubbing or polishing, and has the advantage of being glossy without being slippery.

Sickness is usually caused by the accumulation of waste matter and impurities within the body.

THOUGHT IT WAS CANCER

"Fruit-a-tives" completely restored me. SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Jan. 25th, 1910. "For many years, I suffered tortures from indigestion and dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited my food constantly. I also suffered with constipation. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief.

I read in the 'Maritime Baptist' about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the cures this medicine was making and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say 'Fruit-a-tives' has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say 'Thank God for 'Fruit-a-tives'."

EDWIN ORAM, Sr.
"Fruit-a-tives" sweetens the stomach, increases the actual quantity of gastric juice in the stomach and ensures complete digestion of all sensible food. ### A Prize Contest

open to the Farmers of Canada

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

READ the conditions of the Prize Contest we are conducting for the farmers of Canada. $400.00 in prizes will be awarded to each Province. These prizes will be divided into four groups, consisting of:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement for the greatest number of purposes. PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furthest uses with the photograph showing the best of any kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work (shown by photograph sent in) was done.

Every farmer in Canada is eligible. Therefore, do not be deterred from entering by any feeling that you would have little chance against your neighbor. For remember, Prizes "C" and "D" have no bearing whatever upon the quantity of cement used.

As a matter of fact, your success in this contest will depend to a great extent on your careful reading of our 160-page book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." In this book—sent free on request to any farmer, full instructions are given as to the uses of concrete, and plans for every kind of farm buildings and farm utility. You'll see the need of this book, whether you are going to try for a prize or not. If you have not got your copy yet, write for it tonight. Simply cut out the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—sign your name and address thereto and mail it to-night.

Please send Circular and Book.
