

Thomas A. Edison
did another wonderful thing
when, having brought his Phonograph to a point where not even the most critical could ask for improvement, he multiplied its entertaining ability by two.
He did this by producing a Phonograph Record that plays, sings or talks twice as long as the Standard Edison Records.
He did this without increasing the size of the Record, making it a Record that can be used on old instruments as well as new.
He did it without affecting in any way the clear, rich, musical tones for which Edison Records have always been famous.
He calls this double-length Record "Amberol."

THE BARRIER

"Yes, John. And, if I don't believe, what is a stranger to say? No man knowing you would believe the tale without proof. Suppose she doubted. Have you ever thought of that? Would you not rather have her die still loving you than live and disbelieve?"

"Yes, yes! Of course I—I've thought of that, but— Woman, you're worse than a rattlesnake!"

"Even if he knew, he might not marry her. You at least are clean, and that other man was a devil. A brave man's life is too great a price to pay for a grief that will die in a year." Alluna was speaking swiftly in her own language, her body tense, her face ablaze, and no man seeing her could ever again have called her people stolid.

"You think time will cure a love like that?" he said.

"Yes, yes!"

"That's all you know about it. Time may not that way perhaps in cities and such places, but out in the hills it is different. When you've got the breath of the forest in you, I say it is different. Time! Why, I've lived fifteen years in the open with a living memory. Every night I've dreamed it over; every day I've lived it through. In every campfire I see a face, and every wind from the south brings a voice to me. Every stormy night a girl with eyes like Nelia's calls to me, and I have to follow. Every patch of moonlight shows her smiling at me, just beyond, just in the shadow of the edge. Love! Time! Why, Alluna, love is the only thing in the world that never dies, and time only makes it the more enduring."

He took up the white slouch hat he had thrown down when he came in and stepped to the door.

"Where are you going?" inquired the squaw fearfully.

"To the barracks to give myself up!" She flung herself at him, with a great cry, and seized him about the waist.

"You never loved me, John, but I have been a good woman to you, although I knew you were always thinking of her—and had no thought of me. I have loved this girl because you loved her. I have hated your enemies because you hated them, and now I remember, while you forget."

"Forget! What do you mean?"

"Stark!"

The man paused. "I did almost forget him—and after fifteen years!"

"Let us kill him tonight; then we will go to the soldier together, side by side. I am your woman. Nelia will look after the little ones."

Gale stared at her, and as he gazed the red pigment underneath her skin, the straight hanging, manlike hair, the gaudy shawl she never went without, the shapeless, skin shed feet, the slovenly, ill fitting garb of a miscast woman vanished, and he saw her as she was on a day long past, a slim, shy, silent creature, with great, watchful, trusting eyes and a soul unspoiled. No woman had ever been so loyal, so uncompromising. He had robbed her of her people and her gods. He had shifted hither and yon at the call of his uncertain fortune or at a sign of that lurking fear that always dogged him, and she had never left his side, never questioned, never doubted, but always served him like a slave, without asking for a part in that other love, without sharing in the caresses he had consecrated to a woman she had never seen.

"By heaven, you're game, Alluna, but there's a limit even to what I can take from you," he said at last. "I don't ever seem to have noticed it before, but there is. No. I've got to do this thing alone tonight, all of it, for you have no place in it and I can't let the little girl go on like this. The sooner that soldier knows the better." He leaned down and touched her brown mouth with his grizzled lips. "Thank you, Alluna, for making a man of me when I'd nearly forgotten. Now, you stay here." He knew he could count on her obedience, and so he left her. When he had gone she drew the shawl up over her face and crouched in the doorway, straining her eyes after him through the dark. In time she began to rock and sway and then to chant until the night moaned with the death song of her people.

Nelia had no idea whither she went. Her only thought was to flee from her kin, who could not understand; to hide under cover in some solitary place; to let the darkness swallow her up, so that she might give way to her grief and be just a poor weak woman. On she stumbled blindly through the murk like some fair creature of light cast out and banished.

She had not succeeded in thoroughly isolating herself, however, for a man who was steering his course by the sense of feel and the wind's direction heard her and paused. His steps were muffled in the soft footing, so that she had no warning of his presence until he was near enough to distinguish her dimly where she leaned

EAST AND WEST FLORENCEVILLE AND CONNELL.

Very cold and backward spring is the verdict heard on all sides, as the spring advances.

The Misses Kate and Ruth Appleby of Woodstock were in the village on Thursday last attending the funeral of their late aunt Mrs Wm Peters. They returned home by the 4.30 train.

Candy parties sawing wood and making maple honey into sugar is the order of the day.

J A Good and son David from Good Corner were callers at C E Stephenson's on Monday last. Mr Good is still suffering a great deal of pain from his hand that he had jammed on the bridge a few weeks ago.

Roland Semple of the East Side is passing the cigars freely. It's a girl.

Mrs Sam McMullin had a very severe attack of hemorrhage of the lungs on Monday last and at this writing is in a very weak state.

Owen Birmingham spent Sunday with George Perley. Owen thinks it a very dull spring for millinery business.

Mrs G C Turner who has been very ill with heart trouble had a very ill turn again on Monday.

All the normal school students that were spending their holidays at home have returned again to school.

Charles N Morgan made a flying trip to Woodstock on Friday last.

We missed Ben's smiling face among us on Sunday, and the roses did not seem to bloom as fair as on other Sundays.

John Boone left today for Dover, Me, where he will work at the barber trade he learned in Montreal last winter.

Mrs Jos Grant and Mrs Fred Turner, of Stickney, spent last Sunday with friends in Connell.

Fay M Stephenson spent last week with her grandmother, Mrs Andrew Stephenson, and is now quite convalescent after three weeks sickness.

A sad death occurred this morning (Tuesday) at 1 o'clock, in the death of Mrs Wm Boyer on the West Side. Mrs Boyer has been sick for the past seven weeks, but her death was a distinct shock to the whole village. She leaves a husband and three small children to whom the sympathy of the whole community goes out. Mrs Boyer was a Miss Wallace of Centreville and a niece of Sam Dingee with whom she made her home before her marriage.

CHATTERBOX.

WILMOT.

The young people of this place have been enjoying a series of "Sings", one being at Mrs Phoebe Turner's on Wednesday evening, at Mr James Delong's on Thursday evening and at Mr Charles Gardiner's of Charleston on Saturday evening.

Mrs Samuel Prosser who recently moved from Monticello is very ill, appendicitis being feared.

Miss Lottie Lawrence has been visiting her aunt Mrs Oliver Baker at Victoria.

Mr and Mrs George Peterson have moved in the home of her brother Stephen Estabrooks.

Miss Vida Gardiner spent Sunday at her home.

We sincerely hope that the Rose mentioned in the last issue will flourish, there is no reason why it should't, it is being transplanted to Good soil.

There was a splitting frolic at Mr Allan Delong's Saturday afternoon.

ANGEL WITHOUT WINGS.

BLOOMFIELD.

Mrs George Gartley passed through here one day last week.

Mr Jim Porter of Monticello, Me, passed through here yesterday.

Mr Milton Briggs of Monticello, Me, spent last Monday with his sister Mrs Wm Dunn.

We are sorry to hear that Kitty Harris is in poor health again.

Mrs Young of St John was calling on relatives here one day last week.

PILLS OF ATTESTED VALUE.

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the result of careful study of the properties of certain roots and herbs, and the action of such as sedatives and laxatives on the digestive apparatus. The success the compounders have met with attests the value of their work. These pills have been recognized for many years as the best cleanser of the system that can be got. Their excellence was recognized from the first and they grow more popular daily.

WON FAME ON ITS MERITS.

The unbounded popularity that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil enjoys is not attributable to any elaborate advertising, for it has not been so advertised, but is entirely due to the merits of this Oil as a medicine. In every city, town and hamlet in the country it is sought after solely because of its good qualities.

Spain has more sunshine than any country in Europe. The yearly average is 3,000 hours; in England it is 1,406.

Dysentery corrodes the intestines and speedily eats away the lining, bringing about dangerous conditions that may cause death. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial clears the intestinal canal of the germs that cause the inflammation, and by protecting the lining from further ravages restores them to healthy condition. Those subject to dysentery should not be without this simple yet powerful remedy.

K. Okura has given $500,000 to be devoted with a similar amount, donated some time ago by the Emperor, to the relief of the poor and sick of Japan.

AN ALWAYS READY PILL.—To those of regular habit medicine is of little concern, but the great majority of men are not of regular habit. The worry and cares of business prevent it and out of the irregularity of life comes dyspepsia, indigestion, liver and kidney troubles as a protest. The run-down system demands a corrective and there is none better than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple in their composition and can be taken by the most delicately constituted.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medical forest plants.
