This done, he so improved his opportunity that the two were soon on the best of terms, and he to move about without one, felt the awkwardness of his position very much. This gave Sweetwater his cue. ing the present trip and for the handling of affairs quite apart from personal attendance upon the gentleman himself, he showed such an honest desire to fill the place, and made out to give such a good account of himself, that he found himself engaged for the work before reaching C-. This was a great stroke of luck, he ventures it was going to lead him. Once on the platform of the small station at which Mr. Grey had bidden him to stop, he noticed two things-the practical matters and his extreme anxlety to see all that was going on about him without being himself seen. There was method in this curiosity, too much method. Women did not interest him W. B. HOWARD, D. P. St. John N. B in the least. # The Tenderfoot Farmer was one of these experimental farmers, who put green spectacles on his cow and fed her shavings. His theory was that it didn't matter what the cow ate so long as she was fed. The questions of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

It's only a "tenderfoot" farmer that would try such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feeds himself regardless of digestion and nutrition. He might almost as well eat shavings for all the good he gets out of his food. The result is that the stomach grows "weak" the action of the organs of digestion and nutrition are impaired and the man suffers the miseries of dyspepsia and the agonies of nervousness

To strengthen the stomach, restore the activity of the organs of digestion and nutrition and brace up the nerves, use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an unfailing remedy, and has the confidence of physicians as well as the praise of thousands healed by its use.
