

Prescriptions

are orders from your doctor for certain ingredients to be made into a medicine.

Whether these are put up just as your doctor desires or in some hurried, careless way, will mean considerable as to the beneficial results obtained.

What's the use of having a doctor and getting the medicine unless you know it is filled up just as it should be?

Bring your prescriptions here. We are cranks on filling prescriptions exactly right.

This means more than we are exact on measurements and weights of the different ingredients. After the articles are weighed there is a right and a wrong way to mix them.

We are careful to mix them to secure the best results and don't dump them carelessly together.

Bring your prescriptions here if you would be sure of getting the best possible results from your doctor's advice.

Row is on Between Gould and The Local Government

Mr. Flemming's Demand That Contracts Be Given To His Political Friends Is Turned Down--Money and Votes Sole Object Without Regard to Financial or Transportation Interests of the Province--An Interesting Game.

The Gleaner of the 23rd inst., comes out with a remarkable admission on the Valley Railway or, rather, on Mr. Gould's connection with it; and no person who has been at all familiar with Valley Railway matters will be surprised to learn that the inevitable fight has begun. The difficulty arises from the fact that Mr. Gould and his C. P. R. friends are in this scheme to make money. They are to receive $6400 per mile from the Federal Government by way of subsidy and a bond guarantee from the local government of $25,000 per mile. Any money, if required over and above this amount, must be furnished by them, and whatever can be saved on the construction out of $31,400 per mile, and we should judge from the little hint thrown out in the Gleaner's article as to the character of the work as mapped out, it will be considerable, goes to them as clean profits over and above the ownership of the road, after it is completed. Therefore Mr. Gould wants to build the road as cheaply as possible. Mr. Flemming and the Government, on the other hand, are viewing it purely as a "book-keeping" transaction for the purpose of making money first, and votes secondly, without having any regard whatever to the future of the province, either from a financial stand-point or that of the transportation interests of the community. In the month of July last the Federal authorities were able to exert enough pressure on the local government to compel them and Mr. Gould to agree to build the road through to Grand Falls as part of the Intercolonial. As soon as the liberals were defeated in September, however, then the old C. P. R. scheme from Presque Isle was revived and it was not very long until Mr. Gould saw trouble staring him in the face. He had a number of stormy interviews with Flemming, the great bone of contention being as to who should receive the financial interests were obdurate. Flemming demanded that the contract from Fredericton to Woodstock be given to the Fredericton localities who were working through "Jack McMartin," and that portion of the road from Woodstock north to Centreville was to go to the St. John Valley Construction Co. who had an agreement, first with Johnston Bros. and secondly with Kennedy and Macdonald, a responsible firm of contractors on the G. T. P. from Grand Falls north, who were to do the actual work, the story crowd receiving a rake off in the way of commission. Gould finally yielded upon condition, however, that they must take the work at Corbett's prices. When the actual contractors, namely, McMartin, Johnson Bros. and Kennedy & Macdonald, were brought face to face with these conditions, Johnson Bros. immediately ordered their plant from Woodstock to Western Canada, Kennedy & Macdonald snapped their fingers in the face of the Woodstock crowd, and old Jack McMartin, who never had a plant of any kind, was simply dumfounded, because none of them could do the work at Corbett's prices, let alone allow a big rake off for the politicians, and there the deadlock exists today, and this is the reason for the Gleaner's howl against Mr. Gould. It is pretty hard to tell exactly where this little family quarrel will land. In all probability, however, Gould will have his way, the contract will go to the man who will do it for the lowest price, and Mr. Flemming no doubt can make Gould's masters, the C. P. R., look better, sound better, and will be much harder to detect, but the rake off will come just the same. It will be interesting to watch the developments. In the meantime the Gleaner will back down as it has done in the past on so many occasions over this railway question, but we hope the public will take note of the fact that evidently the surveys have followed up the banks of creeks to such an extent in order to reduce the cost, and made the road so crooked that five miles have been added to its length between Woodstock and Fredericton and ten miles between Fredericton and St. John, thus allowing Mr. Flemming's friends $375,000 more bond guarantee than is necessary, but of course it means at least $375,000 more profit than necessary, of which no doubt Mr. Flemming and his friends will receive the lion's share. It is an interesting game to watch.

The contract for the Woodworking Co., factory has been awarded to Stephen Green. The building will be rushed to completion. On account of scarcity of carpenters a number will be brought by the contractor to work on this job.

The At Home given by Mrs. A. G. Bailey and Mrs. I. B. Merriman in the Hayden-Gibson theatre Tuesday evening, 18th inst., was a very pleasant affair. There was a dance program of 18 numbers and from the time the orchestra began the strains of the grand march till the "wee sma hours," everyone had an enjoyable time. At midnight a dainty lunch was served. Every attention was paid the guests and it was the constant endeavor to see that each and all had the best time possible, which combined with the efforts of the ushers caused a spirit of good fellowship to prevail. The pretty gowns of the ladies added much to a picture of beauty and gaiety.
