NATIONALISTS WILL MUTINY ON THE MANITOBA BOUNDARIES EXTENSION

Half of Them Will Bolt if Provision is Not Made for Separate Schools

The Rest of Them, it is Expected, Will Be Held by Patronage Plums —The Government Scheme to Sidetrack the Question for Two Years

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—The Nationalist south as fifty miles below Port Nelson. It is believed, however, that this is but a tentative draft to allay discontent in Manitoba for the time being, possibly until another Provincial election is held there, where, in view of the existing conditions in the Province and the discontent with the Roblin Government, may have to be brought on before very long. If, as the Government then goes down to defeat, the added territory could be given to Ontario with less political inconvenience, since the incoming Liberal Government at Winnipeg would then take the blame.

TRYING TO DODGE THEM.
As a matter of fact, the Government does not wish to have to heal with the matter this session, nor even for a couple of years yet, if possible excuses can be found for postponing the grasping of either horn of the dilemma with reference to Separate Schools. Meanwhile the belief is gaining ground that what the Government has in view is to spring an election after the coming redistribution next year, before the necessity has arisen for dealing with tariff matters, with the Naval policy, and with the religious questions involved in the extension of the Manitoba boundaries, and the Ne Temere Decree. Thus they hope to avoid the necessity of offending one class or other of their supporters, and to ride back into power again before the tide, which swept them in on September 21 has ebbed too far.

RUPTURE AT THE CAUCUS.
This is the outlook as indicated from a caucus today of the Ministerial supporters from Quebec. Just what plea for support bore weight with some of the Nationalists to induce them to agree to support the Government, in any event, is not yet divulged. The most astute political prognosticators state that the temporary submission of some of the recalcitrants is based on the understanding that a quid pro quo, which will square them with the Ultramontanes will be forthcoming later and that the necessity for voting against an amendment guaranteeing the right of Roman Catholics to Separate Schools in the territory to be annexed will be staved off until next session at least. Meanwhile, an apparent harmony in the Ministerial ranks is regarded as absolutely necessary if the Government is to remain in power.

THREE MAIN FEATURES.

There are three main features in the resolution, as worded by Premier Borden. In the first place the consent of the Manitoba Legislature to the terms must first be secured. In the second place the boundary line is not definitely defined although it is stated that the proposal is to follow the lines in the Bill introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1898 which defined the boundary as running from the northwest corner of Manitoba to Island Lake and then to the intersection of the 89th meridian of west longitude to the shore of Hudson Bay, at a point some fifty miles southeast of the mouth of the Nelson River. In the third place the resolution contemplates a change in the financial agreement as to subsidies which prevailed when Manitoba entered into confederation.

LIBERAL FINANCIAL TERMS

The financial terms are so liberal to Manitoba that there is little doubt that the Legislature will consent to them. The only question as to the difficulty of securing the consent of the Province to the terms of the Bill is in regard to the alteration of the boundary line. It is persistently stated that Ontario's demands for the Hudson Bay coast line, as far north as Port Nelson, will be insisted upon and will ultimately be granted, although the Bill as drafted does not allow of this, and gives Manitoba the territory as far son. It is believed, however, that this is but a tentative draft to allay discontent in Manitoba for the time being, possibly until another Provincial election is held there, where, in view of the existing conditions in the Province and the discontent with the Roblin Government, may have to be brought on before very long. If, as the Government then goes down to defeat, the added territory could be given to Ontario with less political inconvenience, since the incoming Liberal Government at Winnipeg would then take the blame.

MR. CARVELL ASKS ABOUT SUBSIDY FOR ST. JOHN VALLEY RY

No Agreement to Grant Subsidy
Has Yet Been Reached is Reply
of Minister of Railways

In the House of Commons on Wednesday, Mr. Carvell asked:

1. Has an agreement or understanding been reached between the federal government, or the Minister of Railways and Canals, and the government of New Brunswick, or the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, regarding the granting to the said company of a subsidy for the St. John Valley Railway, so-called, from the city of St. John to Grand Falls; or for the lease and operation of said railway from St. John to Grand Falls, as part of the Intercolonial Railway system; or for the granting of and toward the construction of bridges across St. John river at or near Andover, across the St. John river at or near the Mistake, so-called, and across the Kennebecasis river at or near Perry Point?

2. If such an agreement or understanding has been reached, will the Minister of Railways and Canals lay a copy of the same on the table of the House for the information of members?

Hon. Mr. Cochrane:

TRIBUTE TO MR. COPP

(Evening Times.)

In a sketch with portraits of Mr. A. B. Copp, leader of the Liberal opposition in New Brunswick, the Canadian Courier has this to say of "the eloquent young fighter from Westmorland county."

"Mr. Copp has been worthy of a big job for some time. He has been long recognized as among the first lances in opposition to the government now headed by Premier Fleming. Copp has a way of saying things which 'gets to you.' On the stump with his coat off, he is a whole battery of oratory. He speaks to the people in the language and wit of the lumbermen, millmen and farmers of the province. He has an honest homespun face, which never needs a dress rehearsal to wreath its roundness into a smile. He looks down at you with his broad shoulders and subtly suggests inherent strength. He moves as if he meant business. Mr. Copp is young, forty-one. He has lived all his life in New Brunswick. Professionally he is a lawyer; Copp and McCord, Sackville. He is a farmer's son; educated at Mount Allison, and the law schools of Dalhousie and Harvard. Since 1901, he has been a member of the legislature."

WEDDING BELLS

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr and Mrs J W Ellsworth, Wednesday morning, Feb 21st, when their daughter Miss Reta V Ellsworth was united in marriage to Ralph B White of St John, N.B. Rev F S Todd performed the ceremony at which only the immediate relatives were present.

The young couple left on the early train for St John, where they will reside, followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends. A very large number of elegant and useful presents were received, including fifty dollars in gold from the groom, and an elaborate piece of silverware from the members of the choir of the United Baptist church.

LOCAL MINSTREL A DECIDED SUCCESS

Chief Kelly's Company of Artists
Makes a Big Hit—The Strongest
Local Attraction Seen Here in Recent Years

The second appearance of the local minstrels, Monday evening, drew a capacity house, and the show was a decided success from start to finish. Thirty of the towns best singers appeared in the circle, the ends being held down by Messrs. Wm. Blake, A. Taylor, A. Jones, Norman Loane, Geo. Britton, and Jasper Blake. Mr. John McDougall, as interlocutor, filled the bill to the minute. The jokes were new and breezy and kept the audience in an uproar. The end songs were most of the genuine "coon" variety, and called for repeated encores. The hit of the evening was made by Master Carl Risteen, the four year old son of Mr. Fred W. Risteen, who played a program of national and popular airs on the Zylophone. The little fellow played like a veteran, and although the large audience fairly raised the roof with applause, he was as cool as ice. Solos by Messrs. Archie Burden, Fred W. Mooers, Don A. Payson, Mr. Sawyer, were exceptionally well rendered, and Mr. Harry Dunbar in his highland costume made a great hit with his Harry Lauder songs. A baritone solo, "Down on the Farm" with variations by Jas. P. Hull, with hand accompaniment, was also a pleasing feature of the program. "Smiler" Blake, the veteran showman, kept up his reputation as a stump speech artist, in his views of Woman's Suffrage and other topics of the day. Mr. Octave Lavoie, and the little McGuire Bros., in the Irish jig dancing, proved good entertainers, and the crowd certainly kept them busy. A trio by the Troy Bros., although the last on the program, was not by any means the least enjoyed by the audience. The show closed with the entire company singing the National Anthem. The company's own orchestra furnished music for the overture and songs. The company will probably show in Houlton in the near future.

TWELVE MONTHS AND TWELVE LASHES FOR WIFE BEATER

Norman McIntyre, a colored gentleman of a pugilistic nature, when in his home, with a mania for beating his wife, was sentenced Tuesday in the police Magistrate's Court to twelve months in jail with hard labor and twelve lashes at expiration of sentence if his behaviour is not up to the standard demanded by prison regulations. Chief Kelly assisted by H. Lindsay captured the prisoner at Red Bridge, Monday morning, after a ten days chase. McIntyre has already served time for beating his wife, but on this occasion he beat her up unmercifully and richly deserved the sentence handed out by the police Magistrate.

The following appears in the report of the S. P. C. A. at the annual meeting held in St. John Tuesday. "I am pleased to report that the Woodstock branch of the Society has been re-organized and the following officers were elected at a public meeting held at the police office in Woodstock, the 6th of February, 1912: President, George L. Holyoke; secretary-treasurer, Cook Hall; agent, John Arnold."
