P. B. GARVELL, PRESIDENT.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1912.

GENERAL WILLIAM BOOTH

The death of General Booth removes a man who did a great work in the world, and won the respect and confidence of all men and women in every civilized country who are striving for better things, and who are in sympathy with every effort in that direction, without regard for the special form which the effort takes.

As an organization the Salvation Army has done a vast amount of good, not only in a religious way, but in charitable ways. Like the founder of the Christian religion it has sought out the poor, the lonely and the suffering and has ministered to both body and soul. Its peculiar methods at first made the Army an object of ridicule on the part of the unthinking, but the time came when the worth of its work and the worthiness of its motives were recognized by high and low, and under General Booth's direction the work has gone forward for many years with the approval and assistance of the churches and the best people in every community in every country.

And so, all unsought, fame came to General Booth. He was not striving for the praise of the world. He strove to do as best he could his part towards making the world better, towards lifting up those who were cast down in sin, poverty and degradation. And the measure of his success is the record of his achievements of the Salvation Army in all parts of the world.

General Booth performed a great and valuable service to society and the cause of religion, and his name will live in blessed memory.

FISHER MEMORIAL SCHOOL

Woodstock's magnificent new school, which was opened Monday, is a most striking monument to the generosity and public spirit of the late L. P. Fisher. This new building is imposing in appearance and when the equipment and other appointments are complete will be modern in every respect. It will be adequate for the needs of the town for some time to come. The demands of the day are for well equipped commodious buildings for thorough and practical training.

All this with many other important features will be found in the Fisher Memorial School.

THE ARROGANT AMES

(From the Hamilton Times.)

Mr. H. B. Ames, M. P., has probably by this time been convinced by party friends more prudent than himself that his expression of contempt for "the clamorous consumers" who object to the tariff on the ground that it increases the cost of living, was very ill-advised. If Mr. Ames had to live and support a family on the proceeds of his own exertion, perhaps he would be less censorious on those who object to the increasing of the cost of living to favor the interests.

"The Tory hunger for office is such that in one sub-department at Ottawa it takes four men to do one man's job. For instance one man marks the press notices in the newspapers, another comes along with the scissors and clips, a third pastes them in a scrap book, and a fourth takes them into the Minister to look at," says the Toronto Star. While this incident is unique in itself, it must not be forgotten that the Tory Government have already appointed a dead man to office, dismissed a dead man from his job as postmaster, and bestowed at least three jobs on a man who was at the time, and still is incarcerated in jail.

It will be fortunate if there is not a bad accident one of these days resulting from the practice of little girls and boys catching on to passing teams. There may be lots of fun in it, but some day serious consequences will follow if the practice is not stopped. Parents, police and drivers, should strive to stop it before trouble comes.

It is announced that the farm settlement board is ready for business. Why should not some of the men who know so much about what can be accomplished on the farm get out and demonstrate, thereby placing themselves in a position to say, "Come on," instead of "Go on?"

The Farm Settlement Board will bring out farmers from the old country. These efforts might be directed along lines to improve conditions that will bring back farmer's sons who have been driven from this country.

A western man who has a ranch is reported to have sold a black fox for $1,300, the animal to be used by another fox farmer for breeding purposes. With such possibilities in black foxes, it seems as if there ought to be something in white woodchucks.

Bears are reported from the berry patches. Stories of bears, bulls and big snakes in the vicinity of berry patches come with the regularity of the berry season and serve to protect the berry pickers from the competition of some timid people.

It rained on July 15th and it rained since until the forty days were completed. Don't scoff at the St. Swithen's day superstition—it is entitled to as much consideration as other theories set up by the weather men.

In the shorthand contest in New York Tuesday the speed range was up to 280 words a minute. It would take a rapid talker to get away from that.

The race to see which nation can build the most battleships keeps right on. And the people pay for it with money which they need far more for other purposes.

Politicians will soon visit the country fairs. There is no time when the politicians are so greatly interested in the farmers as at fair time.

The Library Voting Contest continues to grow in interest. The Tekah Lodge takes a good lead week, with Eastern Star next. The hospital and Brighton Engineers are neck and neck.

Watch the Sentinel for standing of contestants as it is the only paper publishing the voting results.

BRAMWELL TO TAKE COMMAND

General Booth Appointed Him Twenty-Two Years Ago, says Ranger.

London, Aug. 22.—Bramwell Booth, son of the late General, was designated by the latter as his successor in a sealed document which was opened yesterday afternoon. Bramwell accepted the position.

All the Salvation Army Commissioners who were present in London were convened to meet A. W. Ranger, one of the Army's attorneys, at the international headquarters on Queen Victoria street.

At this meeting Mr. Ranger produced a sealed envelope, which he stated the late General Booth handed to him 22 years ago this very day. The envelope bore in the General's hand writing the inscription:—"The appointment of my successor."

OBITUARY

One of the most respected citizens of the town passed away Wednesday morning, at 7 o'clock when Benjamin Griffiths entered into rest.

Mr. Griffiths returned home a little more than a week ago after an absence of a couple of months in Fredericton and adjoining communities. And few in the town knew even of his return until they were startled by the announcement of his death.

The immediate cause was typhoid fever with complications of pneumonia and heart failure.

Mr. Griffiths was born in Cardigan, York County, removing in earlier life to Keswick Ridge, and subsequently after his marriage settled in Woodstock where he has resided for several years. He was one of the choice spirits admired by all for his Christian character, his business ability and integrity, his generally conduct and attractive, kindly disposition.

As a prominent member of the Methodist Church and for several years the Recording Secretary of the official board, his duties were performed with marked success and great satisfaction.

Mr. Griffiths was for some time bookkeeper in the employ of J. D. Dickinson & Son of this town, removing about a year ago to Amherst, where he was engaged in the business of Douglas Bros, in both of which concerns he won the confidence and respect of all.

He is survived by his widow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bird, one son—Edmund—one sister, Mrs. Wilson of Upper Keswick, and four brothers residing on the Keswick, who have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their great sorrow.

The funeral will be held this (Friday) afternoon at half-past three, interment being made at mouth of the Keswick.

MRS. MARY E. HANSON

Mrs. Mary E. Hanson of the Parish of Woodstock, died after an extended illness from cancer of the stomach, on Friday, Aug. 2nd, aged 68 years and three months. She is survived by a husband, three sons and three daughters, Bert of Calais, Stillman of Woodstock and William at home, Mrs. D. L. Miller, Mrs. Chesley Carr and Miss Evie Hanson at home.

The funeral which was largely attended took place on Sunday, August 3th, interment at McKenzie Corner. The services were conducted by Rev. Robert Miller. The pallbearers were James H. Forrest, James T. Atkinson, Joseph Merrithew

MARRIED

At the home of the bride, Coldstream Car Co, N. B., on Aug 21st, by Rev. Jos. A. Cahill, Rev. Allan L. Tedford to Miss Maude O. Page.

While driving the Fredericton ball team from the park Wednesday afternoon, Allie Riordan was thrown from his seat and sustained a compound fracture of his leg. He was taken to his home where Dr. Griffin set the broken limb. The young man showed remarkable nerve, holding the leg himself during the drive home. He is resting as easily as possible and has the best wishes of hosts of friends for a speedy recovery.

Two very fine carcasses of beef at R. S. Phillips market attract a lot of attention. The beef is from the farm of C. L. Smith ex M. P. P., and is convincing evidence of the possibilities of Carleton County in raising cattle for beef purposes.

Among those who attended the A. O. H. Convention in Milltown this week were Misses Elizabeth McCartin, Mary McDade, Ida Hall, Mary Brophy and Alice McManus.

Miss Alice McIntosh is visiting in St. Stephen.

RAY MAKING WINNING PUTT

HARRY VARDON, RUNNER UP

RAY BUNKERED

English golf players, although they have joked a great deal about it, have been a little chagrined among themselves that the open championship very frequently has been won by one of three men.

It was a standing joke on the part of the golfers of the British Isles to refer to this combination as the "corporation of three." The three players who were so successful were Harry Vardon, "Jim" Braid and John Taylor.

Conjointly they are three of the best golfers in the world, and that is one reason why they won the open championship so often.

This year in the open competition there was a new rival in the field. That does not mean that the three players had not had plenty of rivals in their time, but they found a rival in this tournament who was too much for any one of them.

He is a Middlesex player, and his name is Ray. He comes from the Oxhey club, and he played so well that he beat Harry Vardon in the finals. Of course, it had to be one of the three of the close corporation who was the runner-up, but that mattered little to Ray, who was overjoyed to think that he had been successful enough to capture the title, and Mr. Ray's victory is a popular one at that.
