Purse is Presented to the Archbishop in St. Stephen

In St. Stephen Sunday His Grace Archbishop Casey officiated at mass in the Catholic church there, it being his last visit to his home town before his departure to Vancouver. On behalf of the congregation, A. T. Dwyer read an address and presented to His Grace a purse of gold. The address expressed appreciation of the worth of His Grace, of the esteem in which he was regarded, and the love and respect borne him by the faithful of his old home town.

The archbishop spoke in reply, thanking his friends for their kindness. His grace was at vespers in Milltown where he worshipped as a boy.

Mr. James M. Scott of this city, has purchased a portable mill from Mr. Alexander Watson, of St. John, and plans to operate it on the St. John river about eight miles below Woodstock. Mr. Scott is in St. John to-day on business connected with his new mill. Work has been begun on the erection of the mill building near Woodstock, and Mr. Scott will manufacture laths and ties during the winter.—Ex.

Coun. Balmain said it must be vile stuff that is put out, for it makes the unfortunates utterly helpless. There would seem to be some agency at work that manufactures and sells and he would advise a campaign against pocket peddling. He could not name anyone engaged in the pocket traffic but had his suspicions and strongly urged that an effort be made to stop the evil.

Chief Kelly in reply to a question said the conditions were bad and he attributed it to pocket peddling. The arrests were many and a number were out of town victims of the abundant supply of booze that is retailed by some one.

MISSIONARY INSTITUTE MEETINGS

Returned Missionaries and Others Make Effective Addresses

MISSION CLASSES FORMED

Despite the heavy downpour of rain on Thursday, the above named meetings, as held in the Baptist church, were well attended. Rev. Mr. Baird occupied the chair at all the meetings. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. LePage read the scriptures and offered prayer. After the stating of the object of the meetings, Rev. M. E. Fletcher of St. John addressed the meeting on the "Supreme motive in Missions." The speaker declared that "love" was the supreme motive, that missions is the biggest business proposition that has ever been placed upon men, and they who love Christ must bring the lost sheep to Christ and feed them.

Following was an open conference led by Rev. H. C. Priest of Toronto, on the "Great task that is before us and the solution of the same," expressing the idea that we need the aid of the Sunday School, and emphasizing the aim of the Sunday School in respect to missions.

Mission classes were formed, and taught by Messrs. Priest, Fletcher and Hennigar. At 6 o'clock tea was served to over 100 persons. 7 o'clock mission classes resumed. At 8 o'clock the public meeting opened with a good attendance. Rev. Mr. Weddall read the scripture and offered prayer. Rev. E. B. Wyllie of St. Stephen gave an interesting and helpful address on the "Economy of Missions." Messrs. Fletcher and Priest also spoke briefly.

The United Baptist choir rendered special music.

After the showing of pictures, illustrating scenes in mission lands, the meeting closed with benediction by Rev. A. C. Berrie.

The afternoon session Friday, Nov. 8th, 1912, was held in the school-room of the Methodist church, under the direction of Rev. F. Baird, A.M.

After devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Mr. Shortt of the Adventist Christian Church, a very interesting address on "The Religion of Japan" was delivered by Rev. E. C. Hennigar, for seven years a missionary there. His brief outline of Shintoism, Confucianism and Buddhism, the three religions of Japan was educative and clearly pointed out the crying need for the higher ethics and more practical results of Christianity.

As he pointed out ethics was taught from the primary stages of the school upwards, but the practical results were very little in evidence and this Mr. Hennigar enforced from some striking examples. The interest of the new Japan in its choice of religion was well exemplified by a large painting in Tokio and by a Japanese artist too, who has depicted a young child gazing at four venerable men—the impersonations of Shintoism, Confucianism, Buddhism and Christianity and the anxiety depicted on the child's face as to what would be the choice.

After a brief interval an open conference was conducted by Rev. H. C. Priest, Toronto, which was most helpful and most practical in character.

The concluding meeting of the Missionary Institute held in the Methodist church was largely attended and had for its chairman, F. B. Carvell, M. P. Mr. Carvell in his opening speech emphasized the importance of Mission work amongst the vast host of immigrants coming to our shores.

Very instructive addresses were given by the Rector of Woodstock, Rev. A. S. Hazel and Rev. Mr. Priest of Toronto. Both being returned
