HON. F. D. MONK'S RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

Intimates That Statement of His Belief That an "Emergency" in Britain's Affairs Exists is Not Correct--Hon. Geo. Perley Will Administer Department During Temporary Crisis

Ottawa, Oct. 22—After one year and twelve days in office, as minister of public works, Hon. Frederick DeBartels Monk at noon today took away the last of his personal papers from his office in the west block drove to Rideau Hall and took formal leave of the governor-general, and this afternoon left as a private independent member of parliament for a three week's holiday at Atlantic City and other points in the United States.

"I shall return to take my seat at the opening of parliament," he said to your correspondent before leaving. "Meanwhile I welcome this respite from the constant worries of office. I am going where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

As has already been forecasted the public works department will be administered by Hon. George E. Perley, minister without portfolio, until Premier Borden succeeds in straightening out the present troubles of finding a successor to Mr. Monk and of securing a seat for that successor.

"Frankly I do not know who my successor will be," said Mr. Monk this afternoon, and he intimated that Premier Borden himself could not say just at present who would fill the vacancy in the cabinet.

MONK DOUBTFUL ABOUT "EMERGENCY."

There is good reason to believe that Mr. Monk's objection to the proposed naval policy of the government is based not only on the refusal of a plebiscite but also on the doubt as to the reality of the emergency and the urgency of any immediate direct contribution by Canada to the British fleet.

Mr. Monk's personal loyalty to Premier Borden and his desire not to unduly embarrass his former colleagues make him reticent in discussing, for publication, his real views as to the alleged "emergency," but his own words to your correspondent today are significant.

"While I think," he said, "assistance from Canada would be gladly welcomed by Great Britain at the present time. Yet I do not believe the need is so urgent that the government would not be justified in waiting long at least to consult the people before embarking on any naval policy."

It is also significant that following Mr. Bourassa's interview with Mr. Monk here on Sunday, the editor of LeDevoir now states in his paper his doubts as to the correctness of Premier Borden's declaration of Mr. Monk's belief that the situation now confronting the empire is "grave and critical."

LeDevoir says practically that such an avowal of the emergency cannot be relied upon as coming from Mr. Monk himself. And it is further worth noting that Mr. Monk is presumably in possession of all the facts learned by Premier Borden in England last summer and placed before the cabinet here.

Miss Kate Stevenson who was prevented from repairing her building by injunction proceedings, has made application for arbitration and selected her arbitrator. It is understood that the town has selected a St. John man but up to hour of going to press he has not put in an appearance thus delaying the settlement of the matter. It may, however, come up for settlement Saturday.

DUTIES DEFINED IN SOME CASES

So Says Correspondent in Reference To Building Inspector. Some Explanation Required

Mr. Editor:—

The citizens of the town will note with pleasure that the apathy that has been the predominant feature of the Town Council completely vanished when brought face to face with conditions that the members appear to think alarming to the welfare of the community.

It is difficult to account for this awakened interest among the members of this august board, who a short time ago were unable to define the duties of one of their town appointees, I refer to the Building Inspector, Mr. Stephen Greene. This gentleman on more than one occasion has appeared before the council asking that his duties be defined so that he would be in a position to act when called upon; he was referred, very properly, to the Town Clerk and consequently the citizens are apprised of the fact that Mr. Stephen Greene, Building Inspector, is at work. It might be noted at this point that when complaint was made in reference to the "Home Theatre," from rather a doubtful source, in so far as the welfare of the community was concerned, the council hastened to act and the whole board, with Mr. Stephen Greene, building inspector, was on the ground the following morning at nine o'clock.

When for reasons, that are well known, certain interests decided that a lady in town must not erect a building, in a certain place, we find the building inspector, Mr. Stephen Greene, and the council right on the job again, and taking prompt and effective measures to prevent further building operations being carried on by the lady mentioned. To the ordinary citizen this seems very much like persecution, and no quibbling on the part of the members of the Council or Mr. Stephen Greene, building inspector, can change the opinion that now prevails in the community, in view of the fact that infractions of the building law have been going on with the knowledge of all concerned since the by-law in reference to buildings was passed.

Far be it from the writer to insinuate that Mr. Stephen Greene, building inspector, is prompted in this action by other than the highest motives. His attitude on every question of town and national affairs has always been consistent, and this, all good citizens, who are familiar with "things," will vouch for.

If by-laws or any other laws are to be enforced, only in individual cases, it is certainly creating a state of affairs that will work to the detriment of the town's progress. It is about time that the leading business men in this town awakened to this fact.

It will require some pretty fine explaining to explain away this recent action of the Building Inspector, backed by the Town Council. If deemed advisable some startling "reasons" will be produced for this tyranny.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

NORMAN WILLIAMS KILLED BY TRAIN WEDNESDAY EVENING

No Explanation of Just How Accident Happened—Body Horribly Mutilated

Norman Williams went out on a train going north Wednesday night at 7.55. His horribly mutilated body was found on the track near Hayden's mill, about eleven o'clock. Persons at the station noticed blood and pieces of clothing on an engine standing on the track and began an investigation. Chief of Police Kelly was sent for and walking up the track found the body of Williams as already stated.

Information as to how the man happened to be in the vicinity is not obtainable, but report says he was put off the train and met his death by being struck by the Gibson which is due here at 8.40 and was afterwards run over by a special freight. The pieces of clothing were found on the engine of the Gibson train, which would indicate that he was first struck by this train.

Portions of the body were picked up along the track—the head was completely severed also the legs and arms. For a time it was not known who the unfortunate man was the body was so frightfully mangled, but identification was made by papers found in a pocket and by the clothing. The remains were tenderly picked up and taken in charge by undertakers from the Henderson Co.

Williams is well known in town and general regret is expressed over his untimely death. He was about 35 years of age and lives with his parents.

Constable Wolverton seized a quantity of liquor at Bath a few days ago, on a Scott Act warrant.

RETIRING PRINCIPAL LEAVES WITH GOOD WISHES OF TEACHERS AND PUPILS

Mr. C. D. Richards, principal of schools, who has resigned his position to devote himself to law, was waited upon Wednesday evening by the teachers of the town and presented with a handsomely bound set of Dickens. The presentation was made by Mrs. Slipp on behalf of the teachers, who expressed regret at Mr. Richards' departure, as the most friendly relations had always existed between the teachers and the retiring principal.

On Friday Mr. Richards was presented with an elegant set of military brushes by the pupils of the Fisher Memorial School. The gift was accompanied by an address by Douglas Balmori on behalf of the pupils.

Mr. Richards was surprised and deeply affected at these expressions of good will tendered him and said he would always recall with pleasure his teaching days in Woodstock and he was grateful indeed for the kindly remembrances and good wishes extended by his associate teachers and pupils.

Boys, and small ones at that, industriously puffing cigarettes is a common spectacle around the streets. It is contrary to law to sell these dope-sticks to minors.

"BOY FROM CARLETON COUNTY" WRITES FROM "UP AROOSTOOK"

Earns One Hundred Dollars in Potato Fields—Farmers Sure of a Market—Both Farmers and Lumbermen Should Wake Up

To the Editor of the Sentinel:—

I was interested in a letter in a recent issue of the "Sentinel" from "Up Aroostook." The writer certainly hit the nail on the head when he stated that he would remain in Carleton Co., if the farmers were in a position to pay reasonable wages. I have been here about four weeks and expect to get in another week at the end of which time I will have earned over $100.00 in addition to my board. My labor has been in the potato fields only. The farmers are not getting a big price for their potatoes, in some cases at the first farmer has a market for his crop of the season only 80c a barrel, but they can sell them and KNOW they Carleton Co., could have the same can and KNOW they have the market and KNOWING this raise their laboring men if they would wake up to the fact that broader prevent them from doing the same thing? There is money in potatoes at $1.00 a barrel, provided they can be sold and the farmer has the assurance that he can dispose of his crop.

I worked in McElroy's mill for $1.50 per day nearly all summer, and I might add that if the duty of $1.35 per thousand had been removed from lumber McElroy's could have paid better wages, as it is now I will earn as much in my five weeks up in Aroostook as I earned in the mill last summer, simply because the farmers are not getting a big price for their potatoes, in some cases at the first farmer has a market for his crop of the season only 80c a barrel, but they can sell them and KNOW they Carleton Co., could have the same can and KNOW they have the market and KNOWING this raise their laboring men if they would wake up to the fact that broader
