

GOOD HEALTH

CURE FOR PNEUMONIA.

One of the best New England physicians states that he has never lost a patient from pneumonia by the use of this simple remedy. At any rate it is perfectly harmless.

Take six to ten onions, according to size, and chop fine. Put in a large saucepan over a hot fire, then add about the same quantity of rye meal, and vinegar enough to form a thick paste. In the meantime stir it thoroughly, let it simmer five or ten minutes, then put it in a cotton bag, large enough to cover the lungs, and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. In about ten minutes apply another, and thus continue by repeating the poultice, and in a few hours it is said the patient will be out of danger.

DEEP BREATHING.

Every one should practice deep breathing daily in the open air. It increases the circulation, purifies the blood, aids digestion, promotes sleep, and quiets the nervous system.

FOR SPRAINS.

The white of an egg and salt mixed to a thick paste is one of the best things for sprains for man or beast. Rub well the parts affected.

CURE FOR A FELON.

When the parts begin to swell, wrap with a cloth and saturate with tincture lobelia.

SCALD OR BURNS.

For scalds or burns apply carbolicized vaseline or olive oil, and exclude the air from the injured part.

BITING FINGER NAILS.

A child may be broken of biting its finger nails by dipping the finger tips occasionally in bitter aloes or quinine.

CHOKING

If a fish bone gets lodged in the throat, insert the forefinger, press on the root of the tongue so as to induce vomiting. If this fails swallow a large piece of soft bread or potato.

EYE WATER.

A good eye water is made of equal parts of camphor water and rose water in which is dissolved five grains of boric acid.

It is very noticeable how prominent the houses in town look that have been painted with Ramsey's Paints. They have that air of refinement about them that gives superiority. We see these paints at the store of A. E. Jones.

TO LAUNDER LINEN COLLARS.

The following method will make collars look as well and wear as well as if done by a steam laundry: Add one-fourth of a teaspoonful of borax to two tablespoonfuls of cold starch and stir into a scant quart of warm water. Dip the collars in this mixture, saturating thoroughly, then wring dry and roll them in a clean white cloth for ten minutes. Stretch them on the ironing board, rub them very hard with a clean, damp cloth, so that no starch can adhere to them and iron them with fairly hot irons. If you want to polish them dampen the right side with a clean, white cloth and warm water and iron over it with the blunt end of the polishing iron.

is the direct and inevitable result of irregular or constipated bowels and clogged-up kidneys and skin. The undigested food and other waste matter which is allowed to accumulate poisons the blood and the whole system. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills act directly on the bowels, regulating them—on the kidneys, giving them ease and strength to properly filter the blood—and on the skin, opening up the pores. ## ANIMAL SWIMMERS

Nearly all animals are better swimmers than man and take to the water naturally, while he has to learn to propel himself. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads. The elk and the reindeer are first-class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above the water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface. But of all swimmers of all climates the best, though not the swiftest is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it is remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. There are bears that can swim 40 to 50 kilometers without great effort.

One of the third very serious swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim and took it with him in a rowboat to the centre of a lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, and tail underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it neared the shallow water near the land. It is said that even many non-aquatic birds will swim like ducks if an attempt is made to drown them.—Harper's Weekly.

MAKES BREATHING EASY. The constriction of the air passages and the struggle for breath, too familiar evidence of asthmatic trouble, cannot be cured by Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. This is the famous remedy which is known far and wide for its complete effectiveness even under very severe conditions. It is no untold, experimental preparation, but one with many years of strong service behind it. Buy it from your nearest dealer.

GIRL, 14, MADE WIDOW BY TITANIC WRECK

BRIDE ONLY TWO MONTHS, SHE IS RESCUED WHILE HUSBAND DROWNS

(New York Herald)
A girl, 14 years old, with dark silken hair, walked into the third class passenger department of the White Star line offices yesterday and talked in Syrian to D. J. Faour, of No. 63 Washington street.

The girl said she was a widow and that her husband, to whom she had been married only two months, went down on board the Titanic. She said she had $750 and jewels worth $1,000 when she left Syria.

"It's all gone," she said to Mr. Faour. "All gone, and I have no husband."

She said she was Mrs. Celamy Alexander. Her husband, Frazz, lived for twelve years in Wilkesbarre, Pa. He recently returned to the small town in Syria where he had been born. There he met and married the girl, and they started on board the Titanic to go to Wilkesbarre.

As a sign of her recent marriage the girl's finger nails were dyed a deep red. She was clad in a simple black gown, and on her head she wore a silken shawl. When she uncovered her hair many persons in the White Star offices were amazed at the beauty of the girl. Several gathered near to listen to the translation of her story. She looked so young that it did not seem possible that she had been married and now was a widow. She told R. H. Farley that she wanted to get money and ticket to Wilkesbarre, as she wished to go to her husband's friends in that town.

Of the 154 Syrians in the third class of the Titanic twenty nine were saved. Four of these survivors were men, five children and twenty women. Mrs. Alexander said the Syrians were bound for Eastern Pennsylvania. She said her husband had made money as a rug merchant in Wilkesbarre, and that he had told her the names of several friends before she bade him a final good by.

"I wanted to be with him," said the girl. "I hope some ship comes to some city with Franz on board. He was a good swimmer." Then the little widow sighed. She said she had every hope that her husband would come to her soon.

In any rotation, one great advantage is the fact that different crops make available different elements in the soil.

For years Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator has ranked as the most effective preparation manufactured, and it always maintains its reputation.

To obtain the best results from green manuring the soil should be compacted as soon after plowing as possible.

Many farmers consider the tramping of land by cattle a great factor in compacting the soil.

RURAL NOTES.

A report from Grimsby district says cherry trees were injured by frosts, but that peach trees are believed to be in good condition.

During the past winter a co-operative farmers' association has come into existence in Ontario every month. It is a sign of progress.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Company will add 2,532,500 bushels to the storage capacity of its elevator at Fort William, making a total capacity of five million bushels.

At the end of March there were stored in the terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Port Arthur something over twenty two million bushels of grain, three quarters of which was wheat.

Over 200,000 Americans will cross the border into Canada this year, according to the estimate of Vice-President Dennis of the C. P. R. Two years ago the American immigration into this country was only 100,000.

Ex-Sheep Commissioner W. T. Rich has stated that of the 500 weeds common in Canada horses eat from 60 to 80, ranging from 100 to 110 and sheep 530, including some of the very worst. This is another argument for sheep.

The Ontario Vegetable growers' Association are conducting a contest, open to all farmers in the Province, in growing celery, tomatoes and onions. Particulars may be obtained from Mr. J. Lockie Wilson, the Secretary, Toronto.

An authority on road construction declares that Canadian farmers pay two and a half times as much to transport their produce one mile from the farm to market as do the English, German and French farmers. Let's have more good roads.

In the west this spring the unusual condition has existed of seeding, thrashing, plowing and disking going on all at the same time. The spring thrashings are not revealing any serious loss through the exposure of the grain to winter weather.

The Doukhobor colony in Saskatchewan is asking leave of the Government to migrate to British Columbia. They have been westerners long enough to not hesitate in asking for compensation for the improvements they made in Saskatchewan.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO EX-COUN AKERLEY
A Bad Culvert Responsible For Broken Wagon and Broken Harness

Greenbush, York Co., May 1.—While returning from Woodstock yesterday, afternoon Ex-Councillor B. W. Akerley of Southampton got foul of one of the worst culverts ever seen in any civilized land.

This particular culvert is just opposite Meducic, on the east side of the river near the residence of Mr. David Tompkins. Mr. Akerley drove into the place as carefully as he could, but as the front wheels went down nearly to the axle, the end of an old log (buried deep in the mud which of course he did not see) got in the spokes of the right fore wheel.

His horse bolted ahead and tore the spokes completely out and breaking the breast plate of the harness, the shafts fell, while the "gold backs" or breeching straps were still fastened.

Mr. Akerley was thrown with great force across the edge of the wheel as the log caught it, but pluckily clung to the reins. The breeching soon gave way and although dragged in the mud he held the horse. His sister Miss Maggie Akerley who was in the wagon with him was thrown clear over her brother and alighting on her feet escaped unhurt. She walked back and got Mr. Norris Tompkins to come to their assistance and drive them home. Mr. Akerley is badly shook up and very sore. He feels sure that two of his ribs are cracked as it hurts him to take a long breath.

This is the third very serious accident that has happened in this parish since our road tax has been doubled. The first was where young Bartlett of Temperance Vale lost his life in that terrible mud hole at the foot of Maple Ridge. He was subject to fits and fell in the deep hole and was drowned. The second was at Howard Stairs' Corner, where a culvert knocked Mr. Abram Schriver off his wagon and killed him. And now this one. Who will be the next?

IT WILL PREVENT ULCERATED THROAT.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

PUNISHING A WOMAN FOR HUSBAND'S POLITICS

Richibucto, Kent Co., April 29th.—It takes Mr. Robidoux, the Tory M. P. for Kent County to size himself up as about the smallest M. P. in the Dominion Parliament. It appears that Mr. Cliff Atkinson, the popular merchant at Kouchibouguac, was recently nominated as one of the Liberal candidates for the County of Kent. His wife, Catherine Atkinson, is the postmistress at Kouchibouguac and discharged the duties of the office satisfactorily to everybody. Mrs. Atkinson has received notification of her dismissal as postmistress, with no reason assigned by the government for the action. Mrs. Raymond, who keeps the Carlton House, a hotel, has been appointed her successor. It is a small action worthy of a small M. P., who supports the smallest government at Ottawa, Canada has ever had. Dr. Bourque is evidently afraid of the coming elections in Kent County, and as the Tory party cannot get even with Cliff Atkinson, its leaders try to get even with Cliff Atkinson's wife by turning her out of a little post office.

AN ARCTIC NIGHT'S ADVENTURE

Harry Whitney, who adopted the Eskimo mode of life and shared with the natives their daily privations and their dangers, tells in his book, "Hunting with the Eskimos," this story of an adventure in an open whaleboat on Arctic seas, and of the unhappy night which followed on land—

"A stiff breeze was blowing, and when we passed the point above Etah it perceptibly increased. Sails were set and we were making good progress when, without warning, a puff broke the step which held the mast and before the sail could be lowered two boards in the bottom of the boat split and the boat began to leak so badly that I feared it would fill with water and sink before we could make the nearest land, which we headed for at once. Fortune favored us however, and although crew and outfit got a thorough soaking, we reached shore safely.

"Although the temperature was but 31 degrees, the air was cutting cold. I was chilled through with the wetting. In view of this, the steadily increasing gale and the fact that we had no facilities for making repairs, it was decided to walk back to Etah, and return in the morning, if weather favored, to mend the boat and resume our journey. Six miles, too, although the exercise was needed and wholesome.

"That night I will long remember. With every minute the wind increased in velocity until it attained the proportions of a terrific gale, and at the same time the temperature fell rapidly. The roof got loose and we endeavored to fix it. Then the stove pipe blew off, and in the gale it was found impossible to get it in place again. At length, only partly clothed, I had to climb out on the roof to hold that in place until it could be secured, and in the process was half frozen. Then, as a last straw, the fire went out. The only way then to get warm was by retreat to my sleeping bag, and so the night passed."

have an individuality that is unmistakable. We select the cocoa beans—roast, husk and clean them—add the cocoa butter and cane sugar—and flavor with vanilla beans. The WHOLE is then put through a grinding process for hours, which refines every particle and renders our chocolate coating absolutely smooth, giving it that individual delicious flavor. The chocolate is then applied to the many varieties of centers—packed in attractive boxes and offered to you as the finest chocolates on the market.

THE GARDEN.

Just as soon as the land is dry enough to use the spade the garden should be broken up.

Raking the surface very fine is not necessary or desirable when planting trees, shrubs or bushes.

Do not try to raise cauliflowers on poor soil. Cauliflowers need plenty of nitrogen and humus to retain moisture.

Many of the small fruits respond readily to an increased supply of plant food applied in the form of fertilizers, and they are comparatively easy to experiment with.

The pruning of the raspberry canes should be done as early as possible in the spring. Very little need be done to the thick canes, but thin, weakly ones should be well cut back. Some manure can be dug in afterwards between the rows.

If a new lot of rhubarb is wanted any of the large roots of the old plants can now be dug up, cut into three or four pieces with a sharp knife and replanted on deeply-dug ground. The second year after planting the young roots should produce better rhubarb than the old ones.
