COOKING HINTS.

Coffee Fruit Cake—Mix one cupful of brown sugar with one egg, beat for a few minutes, add one cupful of molasses, and a tablespoonful each of cinnamon and grated nutmeg. Mix with three cupfuls of sifted flour one pound of seeded raisins, half a pound of cleaned currants, and a quarter of a pound of shredded citron; add the flour and fruit alternately with a cupful of strong coffee, in which dissolve half a teaspoonful of soda.

Banana Fritters—Select some bananas—not too ripe—peel them, cut them crosswise into pieces about two inches and a half long. Prepare a good frying batter, dip the bananas in this so as to well cover each piece, and drop them into very hot clarified fat; fry them a good color, drain on paper or cloth, dredge with caster sugar, flavored with a little ground cinnamon, dish up and serve hot.

Egg patties—Line some pattypans with light paste, mix a tablespoonful each of butter, chopped spring onions, fried breadcrumbs and chopped parsley, with salt and pepper to taste. Put a layer of this in each pattypan, break an egg carefully into each, sprinkle with a few drops of chili vinegar, and a little chopped parsley, and cook in an oven at moderate heat.

String Bean Salad—A salad that will be sure to please the eye and palate—one quite substantial enough for the principal supper dish—may be made of green string beans cut rather fine, shrimps that have been tossed lightly in a little butter and onions juice and then chilled and the tiny pearl onions to be purchased in bottles, or omit the onion and use grape fruit pulp free from the bitter white skin.

Dressing for Asparagus—A delicious dressing for boiled asparagus is made by mixing one heaping tablespoonful of butter with a tablespoonful of vinegar, seasoning with salt and pepper, and blending with a tablespoonful of the water in which the asparagus was boiled. Set this where it will melt without cooking. If desired, a little grated cheese may be sprinkled over the asparagus after the dressing is put on it.

Another Strawberry Shortcake—Sift a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder into a pint of flour, add a little salt, rub into it a level tablespoonful of butter, and mix with half a pint of milk to a soft dough. Press it into a pan with a spoon till it is about half an inch thick. Bake for fifteen or twenty minutes. Chop and sweeten the strawberries, break the cake open and spread it with butter, then pile the strawberries on. Whipped cream looks better and goes further than the same amount of plain cream.

MANY USES FOR KEROSENE

To clean the groutware of smoke and discolorations, wet an old cloth with kerosene and wipe the smoke ones, and if you put them square away. You will be surprised at the ease of the operation.

A correspondent of the Delineator gives more ways in which kerosene is valuable in the household.

To clean the paint where soiled fingers have smudged it around the door knobs, use kerosene. If the kitchen stove looks rusty rub it well with kerosene. Cut the grease from your drains and sink by using kerosene on a brush.

When the oilcloth on the kitchen table becomes stained, rub well with kerosene and wipe clean with fresh cloths.

Put some kerosene in your starch, and see what an easy ironing day you will have. If your irons are rough, wet a cloth with kerosene, and while the irons are very hot rub them on the cloth vigorously.

When a knife gets rusty, let it stand in kerosene a few hours and then thrust it into the ground several times, and see the rust disappear.

Wet a rag in kerosene and stuff it into the rat hole in the shed and the rat will come no more to that hole.

Use kerosene to clean the oilcloth under the kitchen stove.

Before giving up neglected machinery and tools as hopeless, try kerosene to remove the rust from them.

COULDN'T CATCH PAT.

(From the Dublin Express.)

An Irishman, passing a shop where a notice was displayed saying that everything was sold by the yard, thought he would play a joke on the shopman, so he entered the shop and asked for a yard of milk. The shopman, not in the least taking aback, dipped his fingers in a bowl of milk and drew a line a yard long on the counter. Pat, not wishing to be caught in his own trap, asked the price.

"Sixpence," said the shopman. "All right, sorry," said Pat. "Roll it up; I'll take it."

GOOD ROAD PROVERBS

If you want to know if good roads are a good thing, ask a horse.

Good roads promote prosperity; bad roads provoke profanity.

If the roads around town are bad it might as well be on an island.

In considering roads remember that there are few towns that look so good to the farmer that he will kill a horse to get there.

Ill fares the town to hastening ill a prey where teams turn out to go some better way.

Was it in your township that the ignoramus pulled the sod into the middle of the road?

Good roads will increase health, happiness, education, religion and morality.

Good roads will decrease profanity, discouragement, back taxes, sheriff sales, sour grapes and grouches.

Improved roads are a good trademark for any community.

Good roads invoke a blessing upon any people who build them.

Good roads will keep people in the country and will bring the city folk out for fresh air.

Did you ever hear this? "The roads were so bad that the only way he could get to town was by tele-cial, unnatural, unjust and economi-

Still the Big Issue

(From the Calgary Albertan)

Reciprocity or whatever the battle for larger markets or lower duties may be called, is a live issue in Canada particularly in the West where our market is limited and the goods which we consume very high in price.

Present conditions are artificial, unnatural, unjust and economically wrong, and therefore cannot continue always. It is possible that the protective system may be bolstered up by the protected interests and kept in place for a time, but as soon as the people are fully informed of its iniquity, it must come tumbling down.

Reciprocity will not die. It is the big issue in Western Canada. It goes with the farmer to his home. It passes up and down the fields with him. It drives with him to town. It follows him to the stores. It does not leave him. It would be a reflection upon the worth of the Western farmer to say that he would sit idly down and submit

Household Hints

To keep cheese from molding, just wrap it in a piece of cloth wet or dampened in vinegar, and it will remain fresh for weeks.

To make ice last longer, cover it with two thicknesses of newspaper; this will keep out the air, and the ice will not melt so quickly.

Stand a new tooth brush in a tumbler of warm water over night, before using; this will make the brush softer and the bristles will stay in better.

When cooking beets, save the juice from some of the finest colored ones and to each pint of juice add one pint of sugar and let boil until it thickens to syrup. Put into bottles for future use. A little of this syrup is fine for colored candies, cakes and sauces.

When the rod comes out of the umbrella handle, fill the hole with powdered sulphur; heat the rod until it becomes red hot and press down into the sulphur. Set away until the rod becomes cold, and it will be as strong as new.

Garments that have faded, yet are still too good to throw away, can be bleached white by soaking fifteen minutes in two gallons of soft water into which one pound of chloride of lime and a teaspoonful of sal soda have been dissolved. Rinse thoroughly and dry in the sunshine.

B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT

SAID THE MAN WHO BUILDS.—"Yes sir, I am going to use Brandram-Henderson, Limited, 'English' Paint. You don't suppose I would put so much good money in a new house and then paint with cheap paint. That would be absolutely wasteful, wouldn't it? I am building and painting for permanence—and B-H 'English' Paint is the only paint I shall use. None but the best for mine. It wouldn't be fair to the house."

Freshen Up and Save Your Property

Spring time has become paint time in Canada, to the country's lasting benefit.

There is two-fold virtue in paint—good paint. It makes a home that looked dingy, cheerless and generally "down at the heels," a home of which any man, and his wife too, may well be proud. At the same time it protects the house from decay, adding years to its life and therefore to its value. What is true of the house is true of anything of wood or unprotected metal which is exposed to weather. It unquestionably pays to keep things well painted.

"Well painted," however, does not, as many people suppose, simply mean covered thick with paint. Some paints, like the barnacles on a ship's bottom, may be thick enough but an extremely poor protection; it all depends on the paint, and the paint depends mostly on the White Lead of which it is made.

A house is really well painted when it is covered with B-H "ENGLISH" Paint. This paint is 100 per cent. pure—70 per cent. White Lead and 30 per cent. pure White Zinc, and the White Lead used is Brandram's B. B. Genuine. This lead has been made for practically two centuries by Brandram Bros., London, England, and now by Brandram-Henderson, Limited, in Canada. The process is secret and the product has always commanded a higher price than any other.

A coat of B-H "ENGLISH" Paint forms a thin, elastic film of White Lead and Zinc that expands and contracts freely with changes of temperature, and does not crack. It lasts till it is worn off and affords real protection.
