THE PROVINCIAL COURTS

Bill Providing Court of Appeal Made in Interests of Politicians

The Standing of the Bench Should be Retained by Appointment of Best Men

To the Editor of The Telegraph:

Sir,—The constitution of our provincial courts and the personnel of the judges who preside over them are subjects of importance not only to the legal profession and litigants but also to the general public. The proposed changes in the organization of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick and the new appointments which have been suggested to fill the vacancies on the bench, which legislation and possible resignations will create, are thus of more than ordinary interest.

Near the closing hours of the last session of the legislature, without any suggestion from the legal practitioners and as far as is known without any necessity or call for the change, a bill was introduced, and without debate, passed through the house, providing for a Court of Appeal consisting of three judges, of whom the Chief Justice of New Brunswick shall be one, and who shall also constitute the Chancery Division of the Court and shall reside in this city, and a King's Bench Division of four judges (thus necessitating the appointment of another judge)—three of which shall reside in St. John and one in Fredericton. None of the King's Bench Division judges shall, except under special circumstances, sit on appeal. The head of the Appeal Division is to be known as the Chief Justice of New Brunswick, and that of the other division as Chief Justice of the King's Bench Division.

So far as the business of the courts is concerned, and the duties devolving upon the judges under the present system, no reason exists for the introduction of this change, and in the opinion of a large number of the profession it is a change of very doubtful advantage, in any respect. In fact, by many it is believed it will tend to weaken the bench, both on the appeal and trial divisions.

The act is to come in force upon proclamation of the lieutenant-governor-in-council.

Having been introduced by the attorney-general and passed through the legislature with the approval of Hon. Mr. Hazen, as it is understood, it was generally accepted as being calculated to provide a seat on the bench for Mr. Grimmer.

It was also understood that in view of the early retirement of the present chief justice, Sir Frederick Barker, the provision for two chief justices, under the new arrangement, might enable the Ottawa authorities to get over a difficulty in the new appointments which otherwise might cause some friction.

The act having been passed, rumor got busy with the names of probable appointees, and everything in that regard seemed cut and dried, only awaiting the necessary proclamation and supplementary legislation at Ottawa. The latter was duly passed, but the proclamation has been delayed.

In the meantime, other applicants with supposed political, if not professional claims, got busy, and unexpected troubles have arisen. The M. P. for York, whose political deserts have, it is said, been overlooked more than once since the general election, to the chagrin of himself and personal friends, began pulling the wires and using all the political pressure he could bring to bear upon Mr. Hazen, to secure the appointment. If he does not succeed there will doubtless be political trouble, if he can make it.

It is true that in such an important appointment as that of a judge of the Supreme Court, something more should be required than the possession of political pull. A sound lawyer is a prime necessity, and it is well recognized that every good lawyer is not calculated to make a good judge. Bias, prejudice and defects of temperament may utterly destroy his usefulness on the bench. A grave responsibility rests upon Mr. Hazen in this matter. It may be obviated by withholding the proclamation of the act. At least, it is hoped that the present chief justice, Sir Frederick Barker, whose work upon the bench gives strength to its judgments and commands the confidence of the profession and the public, will not retire, as is said to be his present intention, before the New Year.

At the complimentary banquet given to him in this city on his knighthood, a gentleman, proposing the toast of the Bench and Bar, said that they would now compare favorably with those of any period in the history of the province. Without disputing this statement, it may at least be asserted that it is highly important that in the choice of lawyers to fill the vacancies that may be created at an early day, a decided effort should be made to retain the standard of the bench by appointing the very best men the provincial bar offers. There are, doubtless, lawyers so qualified, who are supporters of the Conservative party, if that is a necessity, and no other thought or motive should influence the Ottawa administration in making such appointments, if they should unfortunately become necessary.

ESSAY ON LEAVING SCHOOL

BY JOSEPHINE COLLINS, KILLOWEEN SCHOOL, N. B.; MISS GERTRUDE S. MAGUIRE, TEACHER.

Once again the time has come when the doors of the school will be closed for eight long weeks—once again we walk home with our arms full of books and a greater knowledge of them. It seems but two or three days since we all assembled here to begin our tasks for the year 1913 and yet the stern winter with its icy blasts, the warm gentle spring, and even part of the balmy summer have passed away since that time.

I hope that all my schoolmates have taken advantage of the term just closed and can say with me tonight "I would not exchange (were it possible) the knowledge I have gained during those past few months—also many other preceding months or years—for any of the world's brightest treasures. For is not education the foundation of our progress through life? without it, it would be a journey in the dark. We are given this beautiful world of ours by One All-Powerful Being, who has also given us our very existence; then what living mortal on this fair earth would not recompense this wonderful gift by seeking to get a knowledge of this great world, also a knowledge which would enable him to make an earnest and faithful journey through it. Yes my dear schoolmates education is the key to all this knowledge; then let us try even harder than we have tried to get as much of it as we can.

I now wish you all the happiest of

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Sentinel

Mr. Fred Estabrooks, Haverhill, Mass., is visiting his friends in this Town and County.

The "Chicken" of the Wilbur House is spending a few weeks in Boston and other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert left for their home at Montreal on Thursday night. They were accompanied by Miss Pauline Winslow.

Miss Mabel and Sadie Rice returned home to Presque Isle, Monday, after spending a few weeks here with their sister, Mrs. Jas. Hurst.

W. F. Jordan, after an absence of sixteen years, made his father, Jas. Jordan, a flying visit this week. For the past 12 years Mr. Jordan has been engaged in the C. P. R. offices, Montreal, but was here, en route to New York to take up his future residence.

Rev. W. O. Raymond and family, St. John, after spending a brief visit with his parents, Col. C. W. and Mrs. Raymond, who is not enjoying good health, accompanied them, in hopes that she may be benefited by the change of air.

G. W. Foster, Deputy Sheriff, Middle Simonds, met with an accident on Friday of last week, which at first, it was feared, would prove fatal, but from which, under the skill of Dr. Curtis of Hartland, his hosts of friends all over the County will be glad to hear he is recovering. In descending the stairs of his barn he made a misstep and fell striking on his chest on a wagon stake sticking up on the floor below, and inflicting a severe wound in the neighborhood of the heart.

vacations and I know you all will join me in wishing our teacher the same.

When we reassemble here again my dear schoolmates, the woods that now are clothed in deepest verdure will be robed in red and gold—an inspiring picture for our young minds when that time comes I hope there will be no one missing among us. But the teacher will be gone. It seems to cast a feeling of sadness over us when we think of all those bright happy days spent with her are now passed—all those hours spent on the playgrounds with her, where she took an active part, are now gone forever. Many strolls have we taken with her across the fields and woodland—oh! what happy hours—but they are now ended—yes ended forever. We must flee from the warm bright surroundings of the past and present ourselves to the icy coldness of this sad parting and extend our hands to her in a sad farewell, and though she be far away her memory will always be a pleasing recollection to us.

Now we will say farewell to her and good-bye to the old school for a time.

RHEUMATISM KEPT HIM IN BED

Suffered Tortures Until
"Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

McMILLAN'S CORNER, ONT.

SEPT. 30th, 1910

"Your remedy, 'Fruit-a-tives' is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years, I suffered distressing pain from Sciatica or Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year for days at a time. I went to different doctors who told me there was no use doing anything—it would pass away. They gave me mustard plasters and other remedies that did no good. Plasters took no effect on me—except to blister me and make raw spots. I took many advertised remedies without benefit, but fortunately, about two years ago, I got 'Fruit-a-tives' and they cured me.

Since then, I take 'Fruit-a-tives' occasionally and keep free of pain. I am satisfied 'Fruit-a-tives' cured me of Rheumatism and they will cure anyone who takes them as directed. If this letter would be of value to you, publish it!" JOHN B. McDONALD.

Indeed, this letter is of value to us and to the thousands of sufferers from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia. It points the way to a certain cure. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50 trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

At Florenceville on Friday morning last, while Harry Burnham of Centerville, accompanied by two others, was driving rapidly down the steep hill leading to the bridge, the horse was under such headway that he could not make the sharp turn on the bridge, but went straight ahead, broke through the railing and went over the steep shore embankment. Burnham was thrown against a timber and had his thigh broken; the other two men got off with some slight bruises. The wagon was broken to splinters. Dr. Atkinson was called and set the broken bones.
