

CHURCHILL CANNOT BUILD SHIPS IN LIEU OF CANADIAN SHIPS, SAYS LONDON NEWS

He Would Be Departing From His Undertaking and Justifying the Doubts of the Worth of Any British Undertaking--The Times says Borden Cannot Carry Naval Policy without Reference to the People

LONDON, June 6.—The Toronto correspondent of the London Times (Unionist) says this morning: "Outside the ranks of active partisans there will be a deep angry feeling that the humiliation of Canada is now complete, and that we have lowered our prestige throughout the Empire by miserable party quarrel." Criticism at home, however, do not follow this line. The editorials in today's newspapers are chiefly devoted to the discussion of whether Mr. Churchill's proposals are adequate in the changed circumstances. The Times for instance, regarding Canada says: "Political controversy there should take its course free from any suggestion, however shadowy, of Imperial influence or concern. The British Government has provided for the benefit of the Canadian people and at their request gave their elected representatives all information on matters of fact which were necessary to a clear understanding of the naval problem. This much is now clear, that no naval policy, whether temporary or permanent, can be carried into effect without reference to the electorate. Whether or not references are made at once, and in what form, are matters entirely outside the scope of Imperial discussion."

The Daily Telegraph's (Unionist) correspondent points out that the whole world service for the defence of the British Empire late in 1915 and early in 1916 is placed exactly on the strength at which it would have stood if Premier Borden's proposals have been accepted, while the expenditure of the United Kingdom on new construction is anticipated to the extent of half a million sterling. The adoption of this expedient will give opportunity for events to work out to some conclusion, either favorable or unfavorable to the Canadian Government's Bill.

SUPPLEMENTARY ESTIMATE NECESSARY.

Editorially the Telegraph says that for the time being the naval issue in Canada is overshadowed by the constitutional controversy—a development seen to be inevitable for some years.

The Manchester Guardian (Liberal) points out "Churchill's statement made it clear that considerably more than two millions will have to be found and a supplementary estimate will be necessary. The British Commons was not allowed to debate the Canadian offer while the Naval Bill was under discussion at Ottawa but as the rejection of the Naval Bill is to let us in for a supplementary estimate, this official silence will now have to be broken."

"Mr. Churchill at the end of March said Canadian ships were not additional to the Empire's requirements."

"If he stands by that statement now," says the Guardian, "he must explain what these requirements are which make it necessary suddenly to accelerate our program."

The Daily News (Liberal) says: "If Churchill was not to ask for further ships on Canadian or any other pretext he would be departing from his understanding and justifying the doubts of the worth of any British undertaking. For this and other reasons the Government cannot build ships in lieu of Canadian ships. The sooner Churchill says that in unmistakable terms the better."

FOR THE FUTURE

The Westminster Gazette (Liberal) says: "It must, as time goes on, be a very serious problem for the United Kingdom alone to support adequate fleets for the North Sea, the Mediterranean, and the Pacific. It is reasonable to hope that the Dominion will share what must otherwise be an increasing burden on the British taxpayer."

"For the moment the Canadian contribution is suspended by the debate in the Canadian Parliament as to the right method. The Imperial Government has no right or desire to intervene, but if the result is that the margin of strength counted upon for 1913 will be insufficient for the whole world service, then it became necessary to advance British construction. We are sorry the necessity should arise, but since it does arise, acceleration of the three ships that Churchill indicates is clearly the way of dealing with the case. This gives Canada time and leaves the door open to future adjustments when Canada has come to her decision."

Rev. E. Doyle, of Milltown, Unable to Officiate Lately

HAS BEEN FORTY-SEVEN YEARS IN THE MINISTRY.

Courier, St. Stephen: Owing to illness, Rev. Father Doyle, acting on the advice of his physician, has been unable to officiate in the church services for the past fortnight. Both the 8 and 10 o'clock masses were celebrated by Rev. Joseph Hayes. On the 29th day of this month, Father Doyle will have served forty-seven years in the ministry, having been ordained in the Feast of St. Peter and Paul, June 29th, 1866. He observed his silver jubilee in 1891 and since then the preacher on that occasion, Rev. Father Dollard, has passed to the great beyond, also Rev. Father Walsh of Calais, Rev. Father Lavery who were present in the sanctuary during the services, and also his curate, Rev. Vital LeBlanc. The hope is entertained, however, that Father Doyle's illness may be of short duration and that he may be spared many more years to minister to his congregation.

Rev. Father Doyle is the dean of the St. John diocese.

The Biggest Salmon

What is admitted to be probably the largest salmon ever taken in this part of the St. John river was on exhibition this morning at McCloskey's fish store on King street. It was caught last night near Springhill by William Leck, of Springhill, and tipped the scales at 32½ pounds.

When the big salmon caught by Messrs. Brewer and Haines of Gibson this week was referred to in the Gleaner stories were told of a salmon weighing 31 pounds which had been caught by George Rutter of this city near the Water Works Pumping Station some years ago, but that caught by Mr. Leck last night as an even larger fish.—Gleaner.

TO CURE A WART.

Melt a piece of common washing soda in a spoon near or over the fire. Apply the liquid which will be obtained to the wart with a fine camel-hair brush. Continue the treatment till the wart disappears, which should be in about a week.

A CURE FOR BRITTLE NAILS.

Rub with a little pure almond oil every night. This should be applied regularly for three or four weeks until an improvement is noticeable.

Of Interest to Everybody

The sovereign princes of India are fast abandoning their gorgeous equipages of state and resorting to motor cars made in the United States, because of the increased convenience and saving in time.

Sir Edward Grey is urging that the English people purchase Sulgrave Manor, in Northampton, the home of the ancestors of George Washington, and present it to the United States as a good-will gift.

The Chinese blacksmith thinks a great deal of his anatomy, when shoeing horses, which are not numerous in China. He is so skittish in doing a job of shoeing and so dubious about handling the hoofs of the animal that when shoeing is required the horse is strung up with ropes in such a manner as to prevent kicking. No exceptions are made, even though the horse be a scrawny plug of advanced age.

To those old-timers who crossed the Atlantic in the ocean greyhounds of twenty-five or thirty years ago, says Cook's "Traveler's Gazette," the "features" that are found on one of the newest ships sound like a "fairy tale." Among the luxuries enumerated are a theatre, a swimming pool forty feet long, a promenade deck inclosed in plate glass, passenger elevators running through five decks, and hot and cold water in most of the staterooms.

When Napoleon was in Moscow, says a recent book of travel, he stabled his horses in a church. "The Russian nation has long since forgiven his wild dream of conquest, but never has, and never will, forgive him for that act of sacrilege." The Germans also treasure a grudge against Napoleon for turning the Cathedral of Cologne into a barracks. Yet these acts were probably not intended to be sacrilegious, for another recent book says that "it is among the many things to the credit of Napoleon that, as soon as he came into power, he restored all the desecrated churches of Paris to their original uses as places of worship."

Good Health

TO AVOID TAKING POISON BY MISTAKE.

Of all the ways to keep persons from taking poison by mistake, none is better than that recently adopted in a St. Louis hospital. A small bell is attached to the neck of every bottle that contains anything poisonous. Whenever the bottle is lifted, the bell gives warning.

A COMPLEXION HINT.

Before washing the face with soap and water, dip the tips of the fingers in a good cream and rub well into the skin. Remove all superfluous grease with a soft towel or pad of cotton wool, and then proceed to lather the face in the usual way. This makes the skin soft and velvety.

VASELINE A GOOD HAIR TONIC
One of the best hair tonics is plain vaseline, which should be rubbed into the scalp, and not on the hair. A very little now and then will suffice. It should be allowed to melt before use.

Even the best of preparations will have no effect if they are used but a few times, then thrown aside. Change for the better may not be apparent for months.

The proper way to brush the hair is to take it, strand by strand, and brush the full length without snarling or pulling. The brush must be kept clean by frequent washings, and the clean brush should be passed gently over the hair, taking with it all the dust and dirt that has accumulated during the day.

THE CURE

Once there was a man who made life miserable for all he met by eternally harping about his aches and pains.

He would discourse on the subject of his dyspepsia, and he would almost interrupt a religious service to tell of his rheumatic symptoms.

If he had a stitch in his side he had to pester his friends with it, and a headache helped him make everybody unhappy.

At last a bright young woman, to whom the man applied for sympathy, cured him of all his ailments.

When he was in the midst of a catalogue of his sufferings, she said sweetly:

"Yes, it is strange how many of these things afflict a man as he begins to grow old."

That man never even had a symptom after that.

HOW MUCH LIQUID WITH MEALS

It is claimed that a healthy person may consume a goodly quantity of water with the meals, having it of a temperature to suit the stomach, with advantage to digestion. Ice cold water should not be taken, and there are conditions, of course, when it is imperative to limit the supply of liquids; but for a person in good health, liquids with meals are not harmful, according to latest investigators.

DISTINGUISHED JESUIT PASSED AWAY AT MONCTON

Served His Church in Many Countries

Moncton, June 12.—Father Vincent Naish, a Jesuit aged 62 years, who came from Montreal to conduct a retreat at St. Bernard's church, which retreat was completed on Sunday last, was a few days ago seized with a bad cold on account of which he, on Monday morning, entered the city hospital for treatment. The cold developed into pneumonia and Father Naish passed away at six o'clock this evening. He was conscious to the end.

The late Father Naish was born in Dublin in 1851 and belonged to a distinguished Irish family, his brother having at one time been vice-chancellor for the Kingdom of Ireland. Father Naish, himself, has had a distinguished career in the service of his church and was a man of extraordinary ability. He was an eloquent and fluent speaker and in the short time during which he was here has made a great impression on the people. He has seen service in various countries, having at different times been stationed at points in the United Kingdom and in Belgium, India and Canada. He came to Canada from India about five years ago.

Although he has made Montreal his headquarters, he has been engaged almost exclusively in evangelical work and has spent much of his time in travelling about various parts of the country.

The body was brought from the hospital to St. Bernard's church about 11.30 and it was tonight guarded by a number of parishioners of St. Bernard's church. A high mass of requiem will be sung this morning at nine o'clock by Rev. Father Gogner, of Montreal. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 1.30 o'clock from St. Bernard's church to the L.C.R. depot where the body will be placed on board the Ocean Limited for shipment to Montreal, where interment will take place.

The pall-bearers will be the following prominent members of St. Bernard's church: Hon. Senator Peter McSweeney, W. B. Chandler, Hon. H. J. Sweeney, John Sutton, P. F. Hamilton and John O'Neill.
