

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Local and personal news on page 3.
Herrick's Orchestra furnished music for a ball held at Andover on Tuesday evening, March 25th.

Douglas W. C. Stevens of the town of Woodstock, has been appointed an issuer of marriage licenses.

Robert Bell will open a meat market in the store on King street lately occupied as a restaurant by John McDougall.

Rev. C. F. King, pastor of the Advent Church, Maple St., will preach next Sunday at 11 and 7. Sunday school at 12. People invited.

Remember the Tea in the Methodist school room Thursday, April 3rd, from 5 to 7. A fine menu has been prepared, and the public is cordially invited to attend. The proceeds are for a worthy cause and success should be attained.

The Board of Trade meets tonight (Friday) in the Council chamber. This will be one of the most important meetings yet held and all citizens interested in the advancement of the town should try and be present.

A meeting of the Agricultural Society will be held Saturday next at 3 p.m. Report of the committee on grounds will be presented and an interesting discussion will probably follow. The meeting will be an important one and all members should be present.

Local buyers are paying $1.00 for Green Mountains and $1.15 for Cobblers but on account of the bad roads few are coming in. What shipments are being made are from storage on tracks. The B. & A. are handling many cars very satisfactorily.—Houlton Times.

Mr. I. Draper will probably enter an action against the A. F. Randolph Company of Fredericton for removing goods from his store during his temporary absence. Mr. Phillips, the representative of the company, directed operations that will be the basis of the action. F. B. Carvell, M. P., has been retained by Mr. Draper.

Among the transfers of property the past week, a house owned by George W. Upham on Houlton road was sold to Mrs. Frances Ingraham. The house on Broadway owned by Mrs. Ingraham was sold by her to George Kirk. J. T. Collins disposed of his store and buildings on Main street to Allan Stairs, of Southampton.

The last will of Oscar Dugan and Mrs. Alex. Henderson, both of Woodstock, were probated. The former left an estate of $7,600, $2,000 real, and $5,700 personal, to his three children. The estate of Mrs. Alex. Henderson is valued at $4,500 and is left to relatives. Mahd H. Miller is administrator.

Ted Winslow, a former employee of the Sentinel is in, or near, Dayton, Ohio, where hundred of lives have been lost in the floods which are sweeping the country. A telegram to his parents says he is all right, but the building in which he worked was almost totally destroyed. He was trying to get in communication with his sister who is also in the flooded district, but at time of wiring had not heard from her.

The stores lately occupied by Hugh Hay & Son were sold at auction Thursday last. The property was bought by the John McLaughlin Co. and will be occupied by this enterprising firm as soon as arrangements for moving are completed. For business purposes the location is one of the best in town and the new owners with better facilities will do a greatly increased business.

At the Easter services in the Methodist church there were two baptisms, and six young ladies received the right hand of fellowship. Rev. R. W. Weddall preached on the Easter message of immortality and re-union. The singing of the ladies quartette was of a fine order and greatly appreciated. The quartette was composed of Mrs. Lockwood, Miss Jessie Davis, Miss Nellie Montgomery and Miss Kathleen Hand.

The following officers were elected at the Easter Monday meeting of the parishioners of Christ Church: Church Wardens, F. B. Bull, J. T. A. Dibble; Lay Delegates to Synod, T. C. L. Ketchum, Hon. W. P. Jones, A. J. B. Raymond; Substitutes, J. T. A. Dibble, C. H. L. Perkins, C. L. S. Raymond; Vestrymen, Hon. W. P. Jones, A. T. Garden, C. F. K. Dibble, T. C. L. Ketchum, C. A. Smith, George Ranson, C. H. L. Perkins, A. H. Prescott, A. J. B. Raymond, C. M. Augherton, H. W. Bourne, B. S. Peabody.

HIS HONOR THE GOVERNER

Local Players Score a Success in This Delightful Comedy—A Brilliant Audience Present to Witness Efforts of Clever Amateurs—Home Talent Worthy to Rank With the Best

An enthusiastic audience, that crowded the Hayden-Gibson theatre, Wednesday evening, witnessed the presentation of the comedy "His Honor The Governor" by local talent.

The play scored a success and delighted the large audience present, who showed their warm approval by frequent applause. All the players did infinite credit to the characters they represented.

The play was charmingly original and the spontaneous humor balanced the serious lines of the story. The beautiful costumes of the ladies taking part was an added interest to the production. The players by their clever interpretation of this delightful drama have established themselves in the hearts and favor of the Woodstock people and any further comment on their ability and finished work is superfluous.

The specialties were well received. Herrick's orchestra furnished the music.

JURY FINDS VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH

knew the deceased but two weeks. They were using dynamite to break the earth so that the steam shovel could get it out. I did not see the actual explosion. I was about 35 yards away from the men when the explosion occurred I was giving orders to a man about placing a car and was not looking at the men. The bodies were blown some distance. The remains examined by the jury were no doubt the remains of the men blown up. The accident occurred at 3.45 p.m. They had set off a blast and were making preparations for another blast. They were heating iron bars to drive through the frozen earth. They might have left water in the can near the fire and got it heated, and when the dynamite was thrown in the can, the water being hot and likely containing glycerine, the dynamite exploded, or it may have been exploded by sparks from the fire. No one will ever know. The concussion was frightful and when I recovered from the shock I went out and picked up the remains, parts of which were widely distributed. The heads, arms, and legs were blown from the bodies. They were fine young men, the best on the job, very intelligent, and were supposed to be expert with dynamite but all these men are rather careless in handling dynamite. There were no other men near them at the time they were killed.

PROFESSIONAL.
Dr. A. Pierce Crockett, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of St. John, will be at the Carlisle Hotel, Woodstock, FRIDAY, APRIL 4th, where he may be consulted professionally. (2ins-13)

MYSTERIOUS HANDLING OF PUBLIC MONEY—$150 FOR PERSONAL USE

this $150 of the public moneys appears in the Auditor General's Report in any form, although the law distinctly says that all provincial moneys shall be accounted for in the report. He cannot deny what I have set out, nor can he afford to beat around the facts. What position is he in to give public assurance that the whole system is not impregnated? There is a penalty for such irregularities as those of the character I have mentioned. Will he endeavor to satisfy the public and if possible to restore confidence by enforcing this penalty? I think not. First, Blair, the clerk, says he took the money with the knowledge of Mr. Flemming, and it was no business of his (Blair) if it was kept out of the Auditor General's Report or did not appear. Blair thus defiantly throws the responsibility upon the Premier, an unusual state of affairs, something that one does not often see in well governed families. Second, is the situation in all the other departments such that Mr. Flemming can take action without running the risk of exposing his own and the other departments to an independent investigation? I fear, that things must stay as they are, even although to act is the only course left open for a government that is not hampered by departmental irregularities. The boasted system of accounting and audit is a thing of the past if it ever had an existence in fact. In getting at correct administration of the local finances we are apparently worse off, much more so, than ever.

Mr. Flemming in his dilemma may try to hide behind the report of the Public Accounts Committee, which followed the example of all other Public Accounts committees and made the invariable report, "we find the accounts satisfactory." That committee is every year made up of a majority of members supporting the government, and their business is to make up a general report as they are told to make it. But the bald fact remains in the records that it was brought out in that committee that $150 of the Birmingham money was never accounted for in the Auditor General's Report, and that the Auditor General, who according to law must be made aware of every dollar of public moneys paid in, was never officially fully informed of the Birmingham transaction. Mr. Flemming cannot get away from that. Blair says this irregularity was worked with the knowledge and consent of the leader of the government, and that this washes his hands clear of the business. Where is protection to the public to come in? If Mr. Flemming is unfortunately not in a position to take action, the public have a right to hear something from him on the subject of the irregularities recently exposed. There are other matters affecting the same department and the same clerk to which, with your permission, I will make reference in a future number of the Sentinel, but for the present, dare Mr. Flemming act, and if he dare act, where dare he begin.

Yours truly,
THE COUNTRY.

PRESCRIPTIONS

are orders from your doctor for certain ingredients to be made into a medicine.

Whether these are put up just as your doctor desired or in some hurried, careless way will mean considerable as to the beneficial results obtained.

What's the use of having a doctor and getting the medicine unless you know it is filled up just as it should be?

Bring your prescriptions here. We are cranks on filling prescriptions exactly right.

This means more than that we are exact on measurements and weights of the different ingredients. After the articles are weighed there is a right and a wrong way to mix them.

We are careful to mix them to secure the best results and don't dump them carelessly together.

Bring your prescriptions here if you would be sure of getting the best possible results from your doctor's advice.
