

TOWN COUNCIL FAVOR SELLING LAND TO AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Resolution Passed at Meeting Friday Night—
C. P. Ry to Put Gates on King Street
Crossing—Jail Prisoners To Do
Street Work

The second meeting of the town council was held Friday evening, Coun. Lindsay presiding in the absence of Mayor Jones.

The usual monthly bills were read and ordered paid.

On motion the monthly salaries were ordered paid.

Coun. Dibblee said he had been informed by Mr. Harsbaw, Supt. of Northern Division of the C. P. R., that the work of installing gates at King street crossing would be commenced early next week.

Coun. Balmain spoke of the necessity of getting the estimates made up as early as possible, so that the assessment can be gotten out in June or July instead of August, and moved that the council hold a special meeting to prepare estimates. The motion was carried.

Coun. Balmain moved the following resolution regarding the sale of land by the town to the Agricultural Society:

Whereas—The Carleton County Agricultural Society has been left without lands and buildings owing to the construction work of the St. John & Quebec Railway through their former lands, this Council deem it advisable to request the trustees of the John W. Connell estate to sell at a reasonable price that portion of the John W. Connell property lying between the land owned by the estate of the late L. P. Fisher, in Elm street, and that part now used by the Golf Club, some 14 acres, to the said Agricultural Society for agricultural buildings and for such other purposes as the society deems necessary.

Coun. Jones said he was opposed to the town selling the land. It was a good asset and would be more valuable in years to come.

Coun. Dibblee, Gallagher and Balmain spoke on the subject, all being in favor of the town selling the land at a reasonable figure.

Coun. Dibblee pointed out that no improvements had been made on the land for thirty years or more, and the town was receiving no revenue whatever from it. It was doubtful if it would ever be improved unless sold to the society. The society intended to put up permanent buildings and build a track. By reclaiming this land, the adjoining properties belonging to the town would be made more valuable. He did not believe that the trustees should hold out for a high price for this land.

Coun. Jones said he thought the matter should be put before the rate payers, but it was pointed out that although the town really owned the land the people had nothing to say regarding its disposal, that resting entirely with Mr. A. B. Connell.

Coun. Gallagher said that the Society intended to spend about $35,000 on buildings and improvements, and Woodstock could not afford to lose such an attraction. Other towns would be only too glad to give the Society land on which to build.

The question of sentencing jail prisoners to hard labor was discussed, and it will probably be just as well for the hobo class to keep away from Woodstock in the future. For any misdemeanor that is punishable by a money fine, they are liable to 90 days on the rock pile, with a suit of striped clothes thrown in.

On motion the Council adjourned to meet on Monday evening, Feb. 17th, at 8 o'clock.

HIS FIRST PASTORAL

Lenten Epistle by Bishop LeBlanc to His Flock

In the Catholic churches throughout the diocese Sunday the first pastoral letter of Bishop LeBlanc was read, and was listened to with close attention and appreciation, a nicely worded epistle, imparting good advice to the members of his large flocks. The letter dealt with Brotherly Love, exhorting those who heard to interest themselves in the welfare of their neighbors, and to make use of this great factor in the lives of all, which might justly be termed a supernatural virtue, by which the soul was inspired to higher ideals, creating good-will towards all fellow creatures.

The letter dealt with the precept of loving one's enemies, forbidding hatred and the desire for revenge. The love of God would be the motive to inspire brotherly love and there must be a thorough recognition of the commandment "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," never forgetting that Christ loved all, and died to show the extent of His love.

The Catholic who formed his doctrine on the law of the Gospel would never commit an act to the injury of his neighbor in body, reputation, property or peace of mind, but would always be his well-wisher, adding him so far as is possible in all his corporal and spiritual necessities.

In closing the pastoral His Lordship admonished all those under his charge to enter most earnestly into the sacred season of penance set apart by the church to commemorate the passion and death of our Lord. He hoped that there would be witnessed a revival of Catholic spirit illustrated in strict attendance at the religious exercises, in works of charity and in the avoidance of profane amusements, and particularly in abstaining from the use of intoxicating liquors.

WHEN BABY IS ILL

When the baby is ill; when his little stomach is out of order and he is cross and refuses to smile, don't dose him with castor oil. There is no need to torture him—give Baby's Own Tablets—they do everything castor oil is supposed to do, only they do it better, and what is more the baby will like them. The Tablets are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiates or other harmful drugs. OBITUARY

The angel of death thrust in his sickle last Wednesday morning, snatching from our midst a highly respected and peaceful citizen in the person of Mrs. Jonathan Merrithew. She had been in failing health for sometime and the end was not wholly unexpected. The deceased had been a great sufferer for many years; but always bore her afflictions with Christian fortitude and job-like patience, "having fought the good fight" and reached the mature years of 59. In this sorrow stricken home in Good Corner, are left, the husband, the son and the daughter-in-law, to the former of which we especially extend our heart-felt sympathy as his ill health prevented his attendance at the funeral.

The funeral services were held at Carvell on Thursday afternoon, interment being made in the cemetery of that place. Rev. C. W. Walden of Centreville spoke words of comfort to the bereaved ones from the text: "For ye have not passed this way heretofore," Joshua III, 4. The Bloomfield choir rendered some beautiful selections. The pall bearers were: Sanford and Gideon Merrithew, S. O. Young and James Tompkins. J. F. Carmichael, was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

It is astonishing how much happier we are when our homes are bright and cheerful. They can be made so pretty with Ramsay's Paints. A little goes so far and it lasts so long. We advise everybody to go and see A. E. Jones about Ramsay's Paints.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Sentinel
February 18th, 1893

C. A. Phillips, of Bristol, was taken suddenly ill, at the Exchange, on the 5th inst. Dr. Sprague was called and with skillful treatment and careful nursing, Mr. Phillips recovered sufficiently to be able to return home Tuesday.

Rev. H. E. Dibblee, rector of Mountgerville, has been presented with a handsome fur coat by his parishioners.

The Clerk and Trades Association will open their new hall, in Connell's building, King street, on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be given by several leading gentlemen and the public are invited to be present.

Recent local appointments have been made in this county, as follows: Norris R. Brown, Jas. Toms, William Nicholson, Bradford Palmer, William J. Davis, Handford Turner, Mason Benn and Orrin P. Hayward, justices of the peace. G. Washington Craig, issuer of marriage licenses.

Hon. Mr. Connell seems to be hugely amused at the entirely disinterested diatribes of the Sun and other provincial journals, regarding the alleged injustice done him and his county by Premier Blair. The man and the county are not so fashioned as to tamely submit to being trampled upon, as those who know him best will aver.

A pleasant entertainment was that held in St. Luke's School House on Monday evening, the result of which must have been gratifying to the performers, as it certainly was interesting to the large audience that filled the school room. The first part of the programme was monopolized by Mrs. Jarley, in exhibiting her wax works. Miss Annie Hazen performed the roll of Mrs. Jarley to perfection, ably supported by Mr. Geo. A. Taylor as "Peter" and his ally assistant Mr. Hunt. The characters represented varied from the sublime to the ridiculous and from purest white to demest black, and were all well sustained. The second portion of the programme contained a song by Mr. H. S. Wright; comic reading by Dr. Sprague; piano solo, artistically played, by Miss Nan Bull; song, Hearst Thou Me, admirably rendered by Miss Cupples who, in answer to a rapturous and prolonged encore sang Kathleen Mavourneen; piano duet, Mrs. Garden and Taylor, very finely executed; quartette, by Messrs. Geo. Anderson, H. S. Wright, Geo. Taylor and Burnham, who had to respond to an encore. Singing God Save the Queen concluded a novel and, to repeat, a pleasant entertainment.

Prolific in Scandal

(From the Regina Leader).
For a comparatively young Government, the Administration of Robert Laird Borden has succeeded in piling up a pretty stack of scandals against itself. The appointment of A. B. Morine as chairman of the Civil Service Commission was a fine start. The granting of a character to the La Banque Internationale Du Canada was worse. The degrading of the National Transcontinental Railway is nothing short of a national crime. The prostitution of the civil service for partisan purposes equals if it does not, indeed, surpass the worst efforts of a similar kind in the United States where the slogan "To the victors belong the spoils" was once so generally accepted. Many other scandals might be cited, all of which are part of the sixteen months' record of the Borden Administration.

these adjuncts to a good time, and with an interesting country through which to go, shouldn't people be willing to move with a reasonable degree of slowness? Why throw away all these good things and all the pleasant views in a mad attempt to get something in a hurry? The average traveler doesn't need this record-breaking speed now being tried on some roads; he will only loaf and dawdle around some hotel for hours after his run is ended before making a move to get to his business or whatever interests him. When you can move in luxury why be so deadly anxious to get through it all in a hurry and so take a needless risk.—Brocton Enterprise.

A Virtue in Slow Traveling

There is one railroad in the country that really believes people are ready to travel with comparative slowness and comfort and comparative safety rather than with tremendous speed. It advertises that its train runs more slowly than the common train on long trips. It makes a virtue of it. It advertises every luxury known to the railroad—drawing room and state room cars, observation car, terminal telephone service, barber, bath, ladies' maid, stenographer—every convenience of the office and home and big city business block. Why, then, with all
