The quilt is pink and white, brick work, with the name of the class and the names of teacher and members of the class worked on it.—King's Highway.

Everybody get ready with their donations for Hospital Day. Young ladies will be around soliciting very shortly. Cream, butter, eggs, etc., or any thing in the fancy line will be acceptable. Persons living out of town will kindly send their donations to Mrs. F. H. J. Dibblee. If anyone is overlooked send your donations in to Mrs. Dibblee just the same.

The habit of horses standing around the streets was the cause of an accident Saturday that fortunately was not attended with any more serious result than a badly damaged wagon, belonging to Jack Thompson. The council, at a recent meeting, took action in relation to blocking the streets with teams, but their instructions don't seem to have been carried out.

Matters in connection with the Canada West India Co., affairs are beginning to warm up. It is the intention of several of the victims to get together and employ a lawyer to look after their interests, and take what legal action is deemed necessary against the officers and promoters of the concern. Some of the parties who sold this "exclusive" stock are beginning to feel nervous.

A fire broke out in Dunbar's foundry Friday morning about 12.30 and before it was under control did considerable damage to the interior of the building. The building was insured for $1000 in the Property Insurance Co., $1000 in the Anglo-American and $1000 in the Montreal Canada. The insurance on the machinery was for $2000 divided equally between the London and Equity companies.

Mr. Wearing has been an instructor and Western Secretary for ten years and organized all the Western provinces.

MARRIED

LENIHAN-McDADE.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Gertrude's Church on Tuesday morning, 3rd inst. The bride, Miss Annie McDade, was attended by her sister, Miss Carrie McDade, and the groom, Mr. John Lenihan, was supported by his brother Daniel. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. F. J. McMurray.

After the solemnity of the nuptial mass the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride in East Newbridge, where the afternoon reception was held.

The theme of what the bride wore had the usual measure of interest and admiration as the party was seen approaching the church. The bride, to use a well known phrase, looked charming in a dress of white voile with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid's dress was of white marquisette. She carried a bouquet of flowers.

As too much space would be taken in particularizing the gifts to the bride it, perhaps, will be sufficient to say that there were selections of furniture of high-class and elegance, silverware of remarkable richness and beauty of design, choice cut glassware, admirable works of art and decoration, and choice linens and fancy goods.

A newly finished and attractive home has been prepared by the groom in town where the happy couple will reside, carrying with them good wishes and congratulations of many relatives and friends.

$4,500 GOES TO SON'S HEIRS

Decision in Case of Deep Interest to Carleton County People

Before Louis E. Young, Judge of Probate pro hac vice. In the estate of Elizabeth Raymond, late of the Parish of Simonds, widow of David M. Raymond, an order was made on the 20th of May last for the distribution of the surplus of the personal property, amounting to $4500.00.

Elizabeth Raymond died leaving one son, a person of unsound mind. By her will she bequeathed her personal estate to trustees for the purpose of supporting the son during his lifetime, and with a provision that if he ever became of sound mind the estate was to be turned over to him. The son lived some years and then died, and the question arose as to whether the residue of the personal estate would go to the son's heirs or the mother's heirs as at the time when the son died. If the property goes to the son's heirs then the Raymonds would take a share, but if only to the mother's heirs the Shaws would take the whole personal estate, Elizabeth Raymond being before her marriage a Shaw.

The Judge of Probate decided that it would go to the son's heirs and directed the money to be paid to G. Hiram Raymond of Middle Simonds, who is the administrator of the son. J. C. Hartley appeared for the Shaw interests, M. L. Hayward for Handford Shaw, A. N. Vince for Thursa Mooers, one of the Shaw heirs, and also for the trustees, and W. P. Jones for the Raymond heirs. The case may be appealed to the Supreme Court.
