THE NEW MARKET.

Last year we sent $29,913,000 worth of unmanufactured wood to the United States, all of it dutiable. After next week it will all be duty free except the inconsiderable export of railway ties and telegraph poles. Of fresh fish we sent almost $6,000,000 worth to the United States, against a duty of three-quarters of a cent a pound. All fresh fish will go in duty free after this. Our export on coal and coke, which exceeded in value four and a half millions last year, most of it heavily dutiable, will hereafter pay no tariff taxes.

"Canadian manufacturers who specialize in articles used by farmers will have a market next week of continent-wide dimensions. They can send into the United States duty free plows, harrows, harvesters, reapers, drills, mowers, planters, horse-drawn machines, cream separators, wagons, carts, and "all other agricultural implements of any kind and description, in whole or in parts, including repair parts." They can send in also leather and harness binder twine, jute, bagging, millstones, and all sorts of manure.

"Of miscellaneous manufactured or partially manufactured articles which we export there is a wide duty-free range. Pig iron and wrought iron, steel ingots, blooms and billets, ores of gold, silver, copper, nickel, iron, etc., woodpulp and newsprint paper, sewing machines, boots and shoes, salt, railway bars, tee rails and flat rails, needles, nails, tacks, coarse gloves, cement, type-setting machines, typewriters, shoe machinery, blankets of wool or cotton worth less than forty cents per pound.

"If to these are added the long of duty-free foodstuffs it will be seen that the great bulk of our exports, not merely of natural products but of manufactured articles, will go into the United States duty free after next week. Why does not Mr. Foster tell the people of Canada these things? Why has he got his trade telescope focussed on China, and Japan, and Korea, when the greatest consuming market in the world lies open to the alert and progressive farmers and manufacturers of Canada? Is it because he does not want to confess that the walls of the Jericho of high protection are falling never to rise again, or to admit that to take advantage of the new conditions the Canadian tariff must be scaled up instead of down?"—Toronto Globe.

MAKE BUSINESS FRIENDS AT HOME.

"Trade goes by favor" is an old saying. If a man makes no effort to throw business advantages in the way of his neighbors, he cannot expect they will be much interested in his property. Yet there are people who are dependent on the industries of Woodstock for their success who will buy in some other town or city merely because they think they are going to save a margin of a few cents. The chances are that if they gave their alleged bargains the same careful examination they would apply to them in a home store, they would never pay down good money for them. But this is another story.

When you buy goods away from home you cut yourself loose from the business interests of your own town. You declare that you have nothing to gain by the friendship of your neighbors or the property of your own community.

On the purely sentimental side, one has little admiration for this lack of town spirit. There is an element of disloyalty in refusing to help build up the community which provides you your home and the comforts and conveniences of civilization.

But, laying aside all questions of sentiment, why not consider the advantages of making business friends at home? Every time you buy goods in a home store, you create a personal relation that may be very profitable. This is particularly the case where you have anything to sell at home. The man who gets your patronage becomes personally interested in you. If you are in business here, the spirit of reciprocity prompts him to patronize your establishment.

Even if you work for salary or wages, the relations you create in the home stores, by patronizing the home dealer, may be exceedingly valuable in some future exigency. The man to whom you have given your trade becomes your friend, and if he can find some way to throw favors in your direction, he is glad to do so.

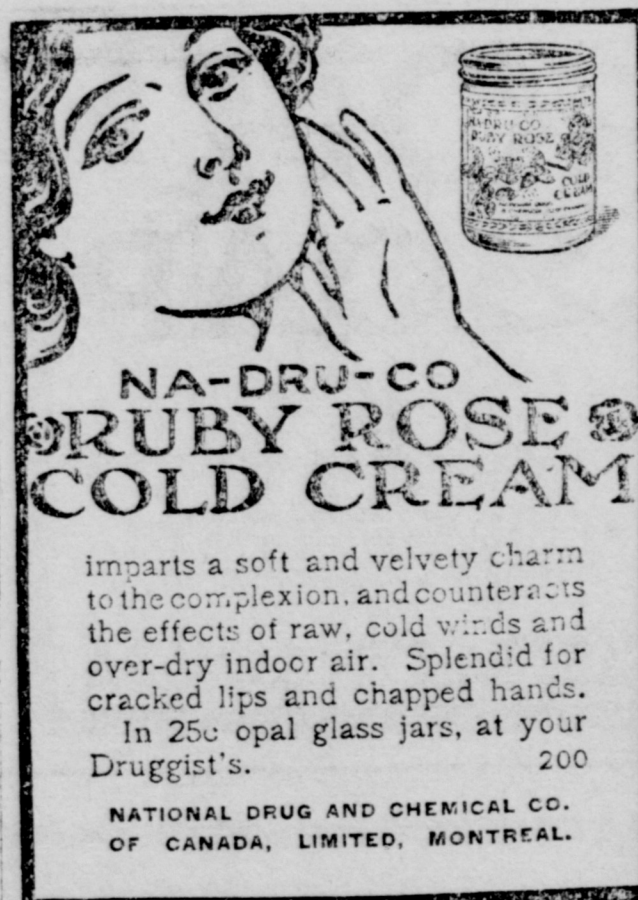

Mr. Carvell, M.P., rightly says that the farmers of Carleton county will not derive as much benefit from the reduced American tariff as they would have received under reciprocity. Nevertheless, as a result of the opening to New Brunswick farmers of so wide a market under more favorable terms than formerly Mr. Carvell is convinced greater prosperity will come to our agricultural areas, and the price of farm lands steadily increase.

The Flemming immigration policy has been a fairly good thing for certain officials and it has made it possible for some people to dispose of farmlands to newcomers at prices greatly in excess of their actual value, but whether or not it has proved beneficial to the province as a whole is a question which offers considerable room for a difference of opinion.—Mail.

The Flemming government farm settlement board has accomplished something at last. Mr. A. W. Hay, one of its members, has succeeded in disposing of his farm at Lower Woodstock to an old countryman for $6,500. This is about $1,500 more than practical men in this province consider the property to be worth.—P'ton Mail.

The American tariff bill is now the tariff law—"we shall see what we shall see."

And this is also the month of weddings.

During the reciprocity campaign, a Carleton county man said:—"Personally I would like to see a wall fifty feet high so that none of our produce could get into the United States market." When President Wilson signed the revised American tariff on Friday, this Carleton county patriot had two thousand barrels of potatoes ready to be rushed across the lowered wall.—Times-Star

ANDOVER.

Last Thursday, Oct. 2nd, Guy G. Porter shipped 22 carloads of potatoes in one day. This is the largest shipment of potatoes ever made by any one firm in one day in Canada. Porter is a young man and Victoria Co. should be proud to have such a hustler.

One of the G. T. P. officials made a trip over the G. T. P. from Plaster Rock to Riley Brook. The cause of his visit is unknown.

The C. P. R. bridge was completed on Sunday when the old wooden span on the Perth end was pushed out and the new steel span put in place.

W. E. Spike, Col. of Customs, spent Monday in Woodstock.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miles and Percy Miles, old residents of Andover, spent the week end here calling on old friends.

The friends of Mrs. Jas. Tibbitts will be glad to hear that she is recovering and is now able to be up each day for a time.

A son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alcorn on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Ryan is receiving congratulations over the birth of a son born at Mrs. Elijah Sisson's on Monday morning.

Mrs. Gorman of Ashland, sister of Mrs. Tibbitts, is a guest at the Court House.

Miss Pringle of Bairdville, was the guest of Miss Kelly on Monday.

The undersigned wish to thank the electors of the Town of Woodstock for electing them Councillors by acclamation on the 6th inst., and assure you it will be our aim and desire to serve your interests as best we can for the next two years.

Yours very truly,
