So Other Sufferers Will Take "Fruit-a-tives" And Be Cured

Gratitude—heartfelt gratitude—prompted this letter. Madame Langlois was so thankful to "Fruit-a-tives" for restoring her to health and strength, that she gladly allowed her letter to be published.

MADAME VALERE LANGLOIS

St. Romuald, Que., Sept. 23rd, 1912.

"I have pleasure in stating that I have been cured of severe Dyspepsia and Chronic Constipation by using 'Fruit-a-tives.' I was a terrible sufferer from severe Constipation for many years, and I tried every remedy I heard of, and also was treated by physicians without any permanent benefits.

Then I tried 'Fruit-a-tives', and this fruit medicine has completely cured both the Constipation and Indigestion. I cannot praise 'Fruit-a-tives' enough."

Canadian Consumer Must Pay the Piper

(From the Montreal Journal of Commerce and Shareholder)

Although the reduced American Tariff has only been in operation a few days, economic changes which it will bring about are already in evidence. In Toronto, cattle are 75 cents per hundred higher this week than they were just prior to the change in the tariff, putting them on an $8 basis. Winnipeg reports contracts for next spring's delivery for live cattle at 7½ cents and up per pound, which is more than Chicago pays for fat grass cattle at the present time. Today, Canadian papers contain advertisements from Buffalo and Detroit cattle buyers inviting Canadian farmers and cattlemen to ship their stock across the border. Ever since the tariff change came into effect, thousands of Canadian cattle have been entering the United States and as a result prices of meats to Canadian consumers have risen. The probabilities are that prices will still further advance and the Canadian consumer will pay more for his meat during the coming winter than at any time in the history of the country.

As we pointed out when this measure was first introduced in the United States Congress, the result of the tariff change will be beneficial to the Canadian farmer, but MOST HURTFUL TO THE CANADIAN CONSUMER. The Canadian farmer has had to a very large extent, the entire United States market thrown open to him. He is invited to supply the growing needs of 90,000,000 consumers in the United States in addition to supplying foodstuffs to the 8,000,000 Canadian people. In other words, he has a new and larger market and will not be deterred from selling his cattle or dairy produce to American buyers. Just to the extent that he sells his produce south of the border to that same extent will the Canadian consumers in the cities be forced to pay higher prices. If we are to retain Canadian cattle in this country, we must pay the Canadian farmer as much or more than he is offered by the American consumer. As we have already pointed out, thousands of Canadian cattle are crossing the Border every day to feed American citizens, and, as a result, the prices have advanced 75 cents per 100 lbs. in a single week.

We are glad for the sake of the farmers that they have this additional and larger market, but we cannot help regretting that the arrangement is so one-sided. Had Reciprocity taken effect two years ago, the Canadian consumer would have had equal advantages with the Canadian producer. That agreement had for its object the opening of the American market to the Canadian producer and the opening of the Canadian market to the American producer. UNDER THE PRESENT ONE-SIDED ARRANGEMENT THE AMERICAN MARKET IS OPEN TO OUR FARMERS, BUT THE AMERICAN PRODUCING MARKET IS CLOSED TO OUR CONSUMERS. In other words, the Canadian city man cannot buy his vegetables, dairy produce or meat in the United States if the prices of these commodities in Canada become excessively high. On the other hand, the American city man can buy these commodities either in the United States or in Canada and is likely to pay considerably less for what he buys than we will be paying for our food supplies.

The Canadian farmer is a shrewd enough business man to obtain the best price possible for his cattle and other produce. He can now sell in two markets and, if "Uncle Sam" offers him more for his live stock than his Canadian customers do, the farmer will send his produce south of the line. The Canadian consumer in the language of the "Street" will be forced "to pay the piper."

SIR WALTER SCOTT AND HIS DOGS.

Scott was very fond of animals. He kept about him a number of pets which he treated with as much kindness as if they were the members of his own family. Among his animal friends was a large bull terrier which he called Camp. This dog was his companion for several years, and was remarkable alike for his intelligence and his fidelity to his master.

But the noblest dog ever owned by Sir Walter Scott was the famous staghound Maida. He was a is weaving and dangerous because the inflamed, mucus-filled tubes interfere with breathing and the fresh air passes through that unhealthy tissue.

Probably no other remedy affords such prompt and permanent relief as Scott's Emulsion; it checks the cough, heals the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes and strengthens the lungs to avert tuberculosis. This point cannot be emphasized too strongly—that Scott's Emulsion has been suppressing bronchitis for forty years and will help you.

cross between the wolf and the deer hound. He measured about six feet from the end of his nose to his tail. He was tall and powerful, but very gentle and kind.

Washington Irving visited Scott at Abbotsford and gives an amusing description of a journey with him and his dogs.

"As we sallied forth," he says, "every dog in the establishment turned out to meet us. There was the old staghound Maida, a noble animal; and Hamlet, the black greyhound, a wild and thoughtless youngster, not yet arrived at the years of discretion; and Finette, a beautiful setter with soft silken hair, the parlor favorite."

Irving speaks more particularly of Maida's actions on this occasion: "He deputed himself with a gravity which became his age and size, and seemed called upon to preserve a great degree of decorum in our society. As he jogged along a little ahead of us, the young dogs would gambol about him, leap on his neck and worry at his ears, and endeavor to tease him into a gambol. The old dog would keep on a long time with imperturbable solemnity, now and then seeming to rebuke the wantonness of his young companions. At length he would make a sudden turn, seize one of them and tumble him into the dust, then giving a glance at us, as much as to say, 'You see, gentlemen, I can't help giving away to this foolishness,' would resume his gravity and jog on as before."

Maida in the study usually lay at Scott's feet, as represented in the celebrated sculpture by Steele; but now and then he would lay his head upon his master's lap to be petted as if he were the favorite child of the family.

GOT A BAD SPRAIN

ZAM-BUK CURED

Don't limp about in pain when you slip on the sidewalk and get a sprain or get a bad twist at your recreation. Rub in Zam-Buk. It eases pain.

Mr. Clarence D. Black, Legal Department, Transcontinental Railway, Ottawa, writes: "I have used Zam-Buk, with very satisfactory results, but I did not know its full value until just recently, when I fell from a street car and badly sprained my ankle. I immediately applied Zam-Buk, and am pleased to say that it has proved invaluable to me. The sprain was soon cured."

Bear in mind that Zam-Buk is used by all the famous football teams, all the best trainers, and all the leading athletes. Men who are at sport all the time—whose living depends upon their keeping "fit," find Zam-Buk the surest way to fitness. They are the best judges. Mothers, use it when the children get hurt!

In addition to its use for sprains, stiffness, rheumatism and sciatica, Zam-Buk is eminently useful for skin injuries and diseases. Blood-poison, festering sores and ulcers, etc., it quickly cures. Also cures cuts, burns, scalds, chapped hands, cold sores, varicose veins, bad leg, eczema, ring worm etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Have you tried Zam-Buk Soap? 25c. tablet.

Rev. Mr. Marshall will exchange services with Rev. Wm. Penna of St. Stephen, on Sunday next.

The Sentinel is authorized to say, that U. R. Hanson will be a candidate for Mayor at the coming town elections.

We regret to learn that on Tuesday, the house, barns and out-houses of Mr. Samuel Stephenson, Rosedale, were entirely destroyed by fire. A portion of the house furniture was saved, but all the crop in the barns was burned. We have not full particulars.

The Beacon returns to the turnip contest with a root, raised by W. E. Mallory, St. Andrews, 22½ lbs.—but then Mr. Mallory is a Carleton county boy—and one from Elmvilla, 26 lbs. These however are small affairs compared with a record from Digby county, which claims for 4 turnips weight respectively 31½, 29½, 28 and 26 lbs. The girth of the largest is 3 ft. 7½ in.

The new A. M. E. church was dedicated with appropriate services on Sunday. The attendance at the several meetings was large. The morning sermon was by Rev. A. Kersey; afternoon, Rev. N. B. Stewart; evening, Rev. J. W. Crosby. The collections amounted to the handsome sum of $33. On Monday evening, Rev. N. B. Stewart delivered an interesting lecture in the church, before a large audience, on his experiences in South America.

As Mrs. E. J. Clarke and her daughter were driving down Main street, from the upper part of the town, on Saturday, their horse became unmanageable and suddenly turning the corner of Main and Chapel streets, upset the carriage, throwing the ladies out upon a pile of wood lying beside the Town Hall. Mrs. Clarke was severely injured about the face and left side, but the injuries, her physician, Dr. Sprague, pronounced not serious. Miss Clarke fortunately, was not injured.

A Florenceville correspondent writes:—The R. C. Church in this village was the scene of a happy event this morning, Nov. 6, when Mr. J. W. Bohan, of the firm of Bohan Bros., Bath, N. B., was united in marriage to Miss Ella Kearney, only daughter of Chas. Kearney Collector of Customs, of this place, Rev. Fr. Bradley officiated. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion. A number of the bride's friends were present thus testifying the esteem in which she is held. The bridal party repaired to her parents home, where a sumptuous repast was partaken of by the immediate families. The young and happy couple then took the Western train, on their honeymoon trip.

Mrs. Levinia Siprell, widow of Seth Siprell, died at Bannock, Mont., on Oct. 27th, after an illness of a couple of weeks. Deceased was in her seventy-ninth year. Up to four years ago she had been a resident of Somervills. In the spring of 1889 she and her daughter went to Montana, where she had a son living. Mrs. Siprell had many friends and relatives in Carleton Co., all of whom will sorrow to learn of her death.

Condition of the Potato Market is Very Bad

SHIPMENT FROM ABROAD MAKE PRICES UNCERTAIN; BOSTON AND N. Y. MARKETS OVERLOADED.

(Bangor Commercial, Wednesday). The condition of the potato market is very bad at this time and the outlook is not encouraging if judged from the standpoint of an estimate of 100,000,000 bushels shortage.

For the last two weeks the yards in both Boston and New York have been kept constantly overloaded and consequently prices declined from 75

WE ARE LOST

"If you have tears prepare to shed them now."

We are sorry to announce that Canada will very shortly be a state of the American union. It will not be more than a year before the Union Jack comes down, and the Stars and Stripes floats over our land. This great calamity will be brought about by action of congress and President Wilson in removing or lowering the duty on Canadian farm produce and manufactured goods.

Let us enjoy the sight of the Union Jack during the few short months it is permitted to float above us; let us prepare ourselves to become citizens of the American republic. It gives us pain to make this solemn and serious announcement, but we know it to be true and we consider it our duty to bid the Canadian people make ready. We say it not on our own authority, but on the authority of such reliable sources of national information as Zebulon A. Lash, Sir Edmund Walker, The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Toronto News, the Winnipeg Telegram, Sir William Van Horne, Hon. Clifford Sifton, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and scores of other "pocket-book patriots" who bunched the people two years ago.—Grain Growers Guide.
