Dramatic Scenes and Conspicuous Acts of Heroism—Side Lights that Touch Many Sides of the Human Emotions

"SHOWER OF FALLING STARS."

Speaking of the fighting on the Marne, a French sergeant said: "I began to count the dead, but soon found that impossible. I suddenly heard a great shout and saw a sight that made my heart stand still."

"Our cavalry were charging down on the enemy's cavalry in the bright sunshine. Their lances and sabers looked like showers of falling stars. There was an avalanche of men and horses and cold steel."

"Huge gaps were torn in the enemy's ranks. German horsemen seemed to vanish into the earth. There can, I believe, be no doubt that the tide then turned in our favor."

SWARMED LIKE ANTS.

"The more we killed the more they seemed to become," said an officer who described some of the earlier phases of the battle. "They swarmed like ants, coming on in masses, though rarely seeking close contact, for they learned to respect our

Two Years of Torture From Stomach Trouble

"There are two ways usually adopted in trying to cure indigestion or stomach trouble—one, the wrong way, by using purgatives, and the other drugs, which only act locally and which in the long run causes more distress by weakening the whole system. The other way and the right way is the Dr. Williams' manner of treatment—that is to nourish and build up the stomach by supplying plenty of new, rich, red blood. Give the stomach this much needed supply of new blood and distress will disappear and stay banished forever. The new blood strengthens the nerves of the stomach and gives it the necessary power to digest food. Thousands bear witness to the value of the Dr. Williams' treatment through the blood. Among them is the Rev. P. D. Nowlan of Summersville, N. S., who says: 'I certainly have great reason to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they were the means of saving my life. Till I reached the age of thirty I never knew what pain or sickness meant, but after that my stomach failed me and food of any kind caused untold distress. I became constipated and was forced to use injections daily. This went on for about two years; I grew weaker and weaker; my weight fell off from 185 to 125 pounds; I had a hacking cough and appeared to be going into a decline. All this time I was being treated by the best of doctors but without the least benefit. Night after night I could get no sleep the pain and agony was so severe. On consultation the doctors decided I was suffering from cancer of the stomach, and advised an operation as a means of saving my life. This I refused to undergo and began to look forward to an early death. Just then a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had no faith in any medicine and at first refused, but my friend was so persistent that finally I gave in and purchased half a dozen boxes. By the time these were gone I felt much stronger and the distress was not so severe. I continued their use and each succeeding box wrought a marked improvement in my condition till by the time I had taken a dozen boxes every pain and ache had left me; my strength increased; my weight was back to where it was before I was ill; I had a good appetite and was completely cured. In the years that have elapsed since I used the Pills not a trace of the trouble has returned. To me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest medicine on earth and I never lose an opportunity in recommending them to other sufferers, for I feel that were it not for their use I would have been in my grave long ago.'

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Rev. Mr. Nowlan they have done for thousands of others and will do for you if failing. They not only cure cases of stomach trouble, but rheumatism, partial paralysis, heart palpitation, St. Vitus dance and all other troubles that have their origin in a bad condition of the blood and nerves. The Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

wounded in the side in the fighting on the Marne. He had a sword in his hand which, he explained, he had captured from a Uhlan directly after the German had struck him with it, and he had shot his assailant dead.

"Some women of the French Red Cross on their way to the front caught sight of the Scotchman and hurried up to see if he was badly hurt. An animated conversation followed. The Highlander, anxious to express his gratitude to the French Florence Nightingales, hesitated a moment, then he kissed all of them on the cheeks. The crowd cheered delightedly, and the nurses were not in the least abashed."

FEROCIOUS BAYONET ATTACKS.

The wounded Germans in Paris declare the British have resorted almost exclusively to the steel in the recent fighting. The majority of the Germans admit they have been unable to withstand the ferocity of these attacks. Especially terrifying are reported to be the Irish and Scotch regiments. The rivalry between these two nationalities is acute, and every time that a Scotch column distinguishes itself the Irish can be depended on to attempt to eclipse it at the next opportunity.

regularity—

of the bowels is an absolute necessity for good health. Unless the waste matter from the food which collects there is got rid of at least once a day, it decays and poisons the whole body, causing biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches. Salts and other harsh mineral purgatives irritate the delicate lining of the bowels. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills—entirely vegetable—regulate the bowels effectively without weakening, sickening or griping. Use Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

DOINGS IN THE "MOVIES" WORLD

Getting the War Pictures—Evelyn Thaw in the Screen-Play—Edith Storey in Labrador—Trials of the M. P. Director in Making His Production

The difficulties of obtaining pictures of actual scenes in the Belgian zone of hostilities, on account of suspicion of the military authorities, who are in constant fear of spies, have been set forth in a recent article in the "Bioscope."

A correspondent of that publication writes that at the outbreak of the war it was worth a man's life to carry a camera. In relating his own experiences in Belgium he said that if his credentials were passed on favorably by the Brussels authorities, there was still danger from mobs.

In the first few days following the declaration of war, to take a picture meant risking death. A camera was looked upon as the outward and visible sign of a spy, and anyone so unfortunate as to be caught far from the protection of the guards was apt to be torn limb from limb. And this "protection" consisted of arrest, which might lead later to a quick court martial and execution.

Guy Standing is no longer an actor, but as he has written to Adolph Zukor president of the Famous Players Film Company, a member of the King's Navy. Mr. Standing, who had been engaged to play the chief role in Sir Henry Arthur Jones' play "The Silver King" belongs to the Royal English Naval Reserves.

When the war in Europe started he said it was his duty to join the colors and obtained the consent of the film company to return to England. There he obtained a lieutenant's commission. In his letter to Mr. Zukor he wrote: "The moment the war ceases (if I am still living) I shall return to the profession and immediately resume work at the studio and complete my contract with

By Taking "Fruit-a-tives" Says Capt. Swan

Life is very miserable to those who suffer with Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Biliousness. This letter from Captain Swan (one of the best known skippers on the Great Lakes) tells how to get quick relief from Stomach Trouble.

PORR, BERWELL, ONT., May 8th, 1913. "A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by Constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. New Finley of the Vitagraph Company who met with an accident while producing pictures at Hendersonville, N. C., two months ago, has now taken up the work where he was obliged to leave it before his sickness. Mr. Finley has left New York with a company of Vitagraph players to finish "O'Gary of the Royal Mounted". He will remain away about ten days.

George Lessey had a novel problem facing him in directing the latest King Baggot picture, "The Treasure Train." The story deals with the hold-up of a trainload of children. It was trouble enough for any director to secure the use of a complete train, including baggage and passenger coaches, but the greatest difficulty came in getting the children to fill the train. Arrangements were made with various orphan asylums to give the kiddies a day in the country and 250 were the guests of the Universal for the day. The only work the children had to do was to be aboard the train when the hold-

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is now becoming a real Lubliner, having been at work at the Philadelphia studio for some time on a five-reel drama, "Threads of Destiny." Fred Mace has Mrs. Thaw under contract, and under a special arrangement with Sigmund Lubin will present her to the public. Mr. Mace and director Joseph W. Smiley are jointly producing "Threads of Destiny," and incidentally Mr. Smiley is playing one of the greatest roles of his career as the chief of the Russian secret police.

In a forthcoming Electric feature produced by the Whartons, a trolley car runs wild and leaves the rails on a high bridge over a gorge, being dashed to pieces on the rocks below. To get this picture it was necessary to stop traffic on a trolley line for an hour, secure permission from a city to damage an iron bridge, and, of course, buy a trolley car outright.

Otto Meyer, the sheriff of the Frontier Company, has a badly broken arm as a result of his horse stepping in a gopher's hole, and Jack Blakeley, who took his place as sheriff of the Frontier dramas, is laid up by a caress of a mule's hind foot. It seems to be a dangerous thing after all to be a film sheriff.

Edith Storey, globe-trotter of the Vitagraph stock company, is now on her way to Labrador, where she is to take part in a nautical drama. Miss Storey expects to be gone a month on this latest journey.

John Ince, of Lubin Incegraph connection, is a greffer. At least, he will exhibit at the coming Philadelphia Horticultural Society show a peculiar plant that is the result of more than fifty painstaking graftings of various plants.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot reverse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.

Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday were exceedingly hot for September, with a temperature ranging from 86 to 90. The stork has been active of late, leaving a son at the home of Guy Carmichael and a daughter at Joe Anderson's, during the past week.

The Jones Bros. of Brookville are doing a rushing business here with their gasoline thrasher.

The drought is beginning to take on a serious aspect; most of our wells and brooks are dry.

A short time ago I was asked by the Sentinel to get a report of our school, and they would be pleased to publish same. I at once mentioned the matter to our teacher and received the following reply:

"In regard to your making mention of my school in your weekly report, I will thank you very much if you will leave my name out of your reports, for if I care to send any reports to the newspaper I am quite capable of doing so myself; for I would not consider it at all a compliment to be mentioned by you in any newspaper reports. I have taught school before without help from anyone, and if I need any assistance I shall call on some one whom I think will be capable of giving advice."

James Roxborough returned last week from Monticello, Me., where he has been building a large potato house for R. H. Wood.

Fraser McCleary and family of Brookville spent last Wednesday with friends here.

Mrs. J. Roxborough recently enjoyed a week's visit with friends in Houlton, Hodgdon and Eel River.

MONTREAL'S MAYOR ACCEPTS THE LOAN

On Second Thought Bows to the Bank of Montreal—Bankers Did Not Call

Montreal, Sept. 16—Neither Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, the General Manager of the Bank of Montreal, nor Mr. H. V. Meredith the President, accepted the invitation of Mayor Martin to be present at his private office today to discuss the terms of the loan which the city is endeavoring to arrange. The fact that the bankers did not show up was no great surprise to most of the City Hall officials, and the feeling was freely expressed that if there was any "calling" to be done it would be up to the city fathers to do it.

The Mayor spent the greater part

SPECIAL NOTICE. BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 884 Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her to-day if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urticaria by day or night.

THE DAY

BY HENRY CHAPPELL

(The author of this poem is a railway porter at Bath, Eng. He is known to his comrades as the "Bath Railway Poet.")
You boasted the Day, and you boasted the Day,
And now the Day has come.

Blasphemer, braggart and coward all,
Little you reck of the numbing ball,
The blasting shell or the "white arm's" fall,
As they speed poor humans home.

You spied for the Day, you lied for the Day;
And woke the Day's red spleen.

Monster, who asked God's aid divine,
Then strewed His seas with the ghastly mine;
Not all the waters of all the Rhine
Can wash thy foul hands clean.

You dreamed for the Day, you schemed for the Day;

Watch how the Day will go
Slayer of age and youth and prime (Defenceless slain for never a crime)
Thou art steeped in blood as a hog in slime,
False friend and cowardly foe.

You have sown for the Day, you have grown for the Day;

Yours is the Harvest red.
Can you hear the groans and the awful cries?

Can you see the heap of slain that lies
And sightless turned to the flame-split skies,
The glassy eyes of the dead?

You have wronged for the Day, you stinted.
