A wedding of interest to many friends in the city and elsewhere, took place at half-past seven o'clock this morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, 138 Leinster street, when their daughter, Miss Gertrude Lyburn, became the bride of Ralph H. Watts, advertising manager of the Telegraph and Times. The bride was given away by her father, and looked charming in a traveling suit of brown with white plush hat and carrying a bouquet of white flowers. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Harvey, who was gowned in blue silk with black velvet hat and carrying a bouquet of yellow roses. Rev. W. G. Lane officiated, and only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present.

After the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Watts left by boat on a honeymoon trip to Boston. On their return they will reside at 14 Alexander street. Their popularity was shown by the many handsome presents received. Included among them were a cut glass water set with mahogany tray and cut glass vase from the staffs of the Telegraph and Times. THE GOVERNOR AND THE DUGAL REPORT

Correspondent Reminds His Honor that Kaiser Methods Will Not Do in This Country—He Is The Paid Servant of All The People—Pity and Contempt for Mr. Flemming

Mr. Editor,

Dear Sir—I noticed in the Sentinel of the 6th inst., the correspondence between Mr. Carvell and his Honour Governor Wood, concerning the report of the commission on the Dugal charges. I think I am voicing the sentiments of the independent public when I say Mr. Carvell's request is a most just and reasonable one and that the report should have been given to the public some time ago then there would have been no necessity for its call. But his honor refuses by assuring Mr. Carvell that he will not depart from the course he is now pursuing. Kaiser rule may prevail in Germany but it may be quite in order to hint to his Excellency it won't do here amongst a free and independent people who have had their rights too long to be shorn of them now. Who is the Governor? Is he not the paid servant of the people, ALL THE PEOPLE? You see how well he is serving them. He refuses to give the report to Mr. Carvell, Mr. Dugal's chief counsel, before he gives it to the people. But why does he appropriate it so long to himself? He ignores Mr. Carvell who so ably fought for the rights of the province, showing the people where tens of thousands of their money was taken and appropriated to their use they in no other way could never have known. It must be apparent to all that the Province owes Mr. Carvell a debt it can never pay. Why should not the people have this report, all the time, as well as the Governor? However it makes little difference to the reading public. Those who read the evidence as given before the commission know that Mr. Dugal fully sustained the charges he made and was therefore justified in making them in the public interest, and those who read all the evidence as given will be the very persons who will read the report.

These are the men who will decide this matter. Mr. Dugal, his counsel, and the public, have waited long with patience for the deliberations of this commission, but their patience and anxiety cannot be compared to the man set aside from all legislative duties awaiting judgment like a dunce in school stood in the corner to learn his lesson. There is no man who has merited so much pity and contempt as has Mr. Flemming, if you can blend the two words together. He does not seem to know enough to keep still and out of sight as his past record calls for, according to his own acknowledgment in the witness box. To be specific he acknowledged having received $2000 from John Kennedy. Now is it not reasonable to suppose he received the much larger amount, $10,000, from Corbett especially, as Mr. Corbett was not called upon to deny it. But he has the impudence and the gall notwithstanding being shoved aside, being weighed in the balance and found wanting to force his presence among men as though inspecting some public work.

JUROR.

was assisted by Mrs. R. Perley Hartley in a lovely gown of yellow satin with touches of lace. The tea room was in charge of Mrs. John Walker in lavender satin and Mrs. A. Currie, in black satin, trimmed with jet, assisted by Miss Harriet Gabel in a dress of white silk with pearl trimmings; Miss Kathleen Lynette in blue satin with spangled net tunic; Miss Helen Hand in mai-e yellow satin with trimmings of fur and Miss Caroline Boyer in pink silk muslin with pink silk trimmings. On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Currie was again assisted by Miss Smith and Miss Martha Currie, who wore gold colored satin. Mrs. W. L. Carr in black and white satin and black and white hat and Mrs. H. L. Bentley, in pink satin and small black hat, poured tea, assisted by Miss Alice Sprague in yellow silk, with shadow lace tunic and black hat; Miss Alice Boyer in King's blue silk and grey hat with blue feathers; Miss Tot Deming in pink satin with small black hat and Miss Jean Smith in white satin with neirose tunic and black and white hat with neirose mount. Miss Audrey Jones opened the door for the guests.

A Name to Remember.

Here is a name—"Penstar"—that will mean a great deal to every man, woman and child in this country, when they learn what it stands for.

It is our duty and our pleasure to tell you. There is a great firm of Manufacturing Chemists in Detroit and Walkerville, Ont., The Peninsular Chemical Company, whose name on the label of a remedy is the best possible guaranty of its purity and medicinal worth.

They prepare in their splendid laboratories over 100 remedies for household use.

They do not believe in secret medicines. They think you have a right to know what you are taking. And you have.

So they put the full formula on every label—the name and the exact quantity of every ingredient—all in plain English so you can judge for yourself.

If they were not sure that each of these was the best possible prescription—if they were not sure that their skill in compounding these remedies was unsurpassed, they could not afford to do this.

We like to handle drugs of quality. That is the way we get our trade. That is why we obtained the agency for these splendid remedies known as
