

Your Grocer

sends out KING COLE TEA confident that it will please. He has a positive assurance of its quality, in the guarantee on every package—entire satisfaction or money refunded. There is no stronger guarantee of quality.

"You'll like the flavor."

FRANK B. CARVELL THE UNANIMOUS CHOICE

(Continued from first page)

honest Conservatives in Carleton and Victoria, men whom he thought wanted to do right, but what would be said of them if they elected the man who had been so discredited.

It was just a year ago today that Mr. Dugal had stood up in the legislature and preferred charges that had resulted in James K. Flemming's retiring from the premiership and the legislature.

CHEERS FOR DUGAL.

As he spoke, Mr. Carvell pointed to Mr. Dugal who had just arrived upon the platform.

"Let Dugal stand up until we cheer him," came from the rear of the hall, and when Mr. Dugal complied the house rang again with repeated cheers.

"Did he prove those charges?" asked Mr. Carvell.

"Yes, he did," came from all parts of the hall.

"The proof of it," continued Mr. Carvell, "is that Mr. Dugal is still a member of the house and Mr. Flemming is not. More than that, Mr. Flemming had to resign his premiership."

They might as well face the situation; the Conservatives have nominated Mr. Flemming for this constituency and while he did not propose to run the campaign upon Flemming's sins, though they were many, yet they would have to deal with the situation, as it was put up to them.

At the Andover banquet which they had all heard of (Much laughter) Flemming had promised that the first thing he would do, if elected, would be to finish the road from Andover to Grand Falls. Why did he not act when he was premier? The fact was that while the Liberal party was in power Mr. Michaud had had the dominion subsidy renewed from year to year for the road between Andover and Grand Falls, but as soon as the Conservatives came into power the subsidy was not renewed. It was the party of Mr. Flemming who had turned down the subsidy. Why did he not try and get that subsidy renewed and the road built while he was premier of New Brunswick?

A voice—"He was too busy filling his own pockets."

Another voice—"They had all the racket they could get and cared nothing about this end."

FLEMING SCORED!

Then, in brief terms, Mr. Carvell told part of the story of how a million of the money provided by New Brunswick was in the hands of the Prudential Trust Company and the government would not disclose what the securities were in connection with it. He condemned Flemming and his government for ever loaning such a sum of money in such a way. But the Prudential Trust Company was ready to lend A. R. Gould $350,000, and A. R. Gould was ready to pay James K. Flemming $100,000 of that sum. Today Gould still owes the trust company that amount of money.

Many questions and answers were asked and given concerning this transaction which had so shocked the province, and the quick and apt

HAWK BICYCLES
An up-to-date High Grade Bicycle fitted with Roller Chain, New Departure Center Brake and Hub, Detachable Tyre, high-grade equipment, including Mudguards, Pump, and Tools. Send FREE 1915 Catalogue, for 10 pages of Bicycles, Sundries, and Repair Material. You can buy your supplies from us at Wholesale Prices.
T. W. BOYD & SON,
27 Notre Dame St. West, Montreal.

replies from all parts of the audience, when any one asked a question, showed how well the people had followed the evidence given at the investigation.

Mr. Carvell then told the story of how Flemming and his associates had held up the railway from Plaster Rock to Riley Brook, how they had tried to get control of the stock from John Stewart and how they had failed. Had Flemming wished he could have guaranteed the bonds of that road. Michaud had kept the subsidy renewed. Sufficient work had been done to keep it alive and Flemming would have had the road assisted, if he had been able to have his associates build it and thus get another rakeoff himself.

Turning to dominion affairs, Mr. Carvell talked for a short time about the investigations at Ottawa and wound up with a humorous description of the famous hole in the shovel patented by Sam Hughes' stenographer, which was costing the country $37,500.

The submarines, the binoculars, the horse purchases were all given brief attention, and then the speaker made it clear how all the money for war expenditure was being put up by Great Britain and there was no necessity for any "war tax" but in spite of that the tariff had been increased seven and a half per cent. And British goods five per cent. Everything they bought that came from other countries than Britain would cost them seven and a half per cent. more, and from Britain five per cent.

NOT AFRAID OF AN ELECTION.

And because the Liberals protested against this injustice to the mother country Mr. Borden said he would drive them to the country. And the answer of the Liberals was the sooner the election comes the better. Then they began morning sessions and Saturday sessions and had no adjournment over Easter, just to drive them away from their investigations in the public accounts committee.

He blamed Sir Robert Borden for this. But he wanted to say that he had enough information and material concerning graft in war expenditures to keep up investigating until July, if need be.

In concluding his speech, he drew a bright picture of Liberal prospects in the event of a general election. He showed the split in the Tory ranks of British Columbia, and the necessary Liberal gain there; the solid Liberal front in Alberta and Saskatchewan; the royal commission just appointed to investigate a grave Tory boodling transaction in Manitoba; the gains in Ontario; the splendid support Sir Wilfrid would get in Quebec, and the more than satisfactory outlook in the maritime provinces.

It was his honest conviction that should there be a general election the Liberal party would be returned to power in Canada. Then, appealing for hard work in the contest, he spoke of the necessity for the young men to be alert, and he told how Organizer H. W. Woods of the Tory party had sent a letter to the Tory revisors urging them to see that Liberals were kept off the lists as far as possible and Conservatives added. He gave the names of men in Carleton county who had voted for a life time, and were now deprived of their franchise. In spite of all this he was sure of winning. As for his opponent he could not explain to them how his candidature is regarded outside of New Brunswick. Men could simply not understand how it was that a man who had been condemned by a royal commission, who had been compelled to resign the premiership could be selected as the Conservative standard bearer.

With thanks again to the convention, Mr. Carvell concluded and the audience cheered him again and again.

PIUS MICHAUD.

Pius Michaud made a short speech, expressing his regret at being forced by the redistribution to lose the county of Victoria, where he had so many warm friends. He gave Mr. Carvell great praise for his work as a public man and said he was one of the most promising of the Liberal party in Canada. He asked how Messrs. Hazen, Borden and other Conservative leaders would like to have J. K. Flemming seated beside them in the house at Ottawa.

Then Mr. Dugal received one of the greatest receptions ever given a public man when he was called upon. For a few sentences he spoke in English and, then in most eloquent French, he held the rapt attention of the whole audience, French and English.

The chairman announced that there was a report from the committee, and J. E. Porter read the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

"Whereas the present government in its record of extravagance has granted such large sums of money and blocks of land to private railroad corporations which has tended more to develop monopolies than to benefit the people; therefore,

"Resolved, that while in the opinion of the convention such aid in the future must be more restricted, yet the people of Carleton and Victoria counties demand that the promises made to them of a through railway from Grand Falls to St. John, as a part of the Intercolonial, be carried out.

"Resolved, that we disapprove of the increase in the British preference tariff and that we advocate a further reduction in that tariff and a policy that will eventually lead to free trade within the British Empire."

CROWDS AT EVENING MEETINGS

Tonight two crowded houses are listening attentively to Dr. Michael Clark and Ernest LaPointe as well as Pius Michaud, F. B. Carvell and others. The speeches were attentively listened to and warmly applauded. Dr. Clark spoke first in the big hall, while Messrs. LaPointe and Michaud were addressing the court house crowd. Then Dr. Clark went to the court house and Messrs. LaPointe and Michaud, and Carvell exchanged places with him.

There was a report of the officers of the association, which the meeting approved of as follows: President, Jas. E. Porter; vice-president, C. F. Gallagher; secretary, S. L. Lynott; treasurer, A. E. Jones, and these with F. B. Carvell, George E. Taylor, J. F. Tweeddale, comprise the executive committee.

There was a letter from Hon. Senator Costigan which showed his keen interest in the convention. He wrote the secretary of the Andover and Perth Liberal Club regretting that he could not be present and added: "I may, however, state that I am strongly in favor of Mr. Carvell, M. P. for Carleton, being the candidate for Carleton and Victoria nominated by your committee, and he is sure of being elected. I feel sure that he will get a big majority in Victoria. I regard him as one of the most useful members of the house of commons. Hurrah for Carvell and the Liberal party."

Special trains left at a late hour for Grand Falls, Woodstock and Plaster Rock, and everybody who attended had but one comment to make: "It was the greatest convention ever held."

HOPE IT WILL COME TO PASS

With a view of determining the real value of Clairvoyancy, a number of tests are being made by a local Hypnotist. This is one of the tests, as predicted by a Dead Trance Medium at Woodstock, N. B., on March 29th:

Peace will be declared in four or five months. Kaiser will be taken dangerously ill and will gradually grow worse, he will die July 7th. The fleet will get through the Dardanelles about the middle of June.

Germans will be driven out of France and Belgium, Germany to become a republic at the end of war. The next attack will be on the Western Front. Kaiser is now forming army for big raid on Russian army. United States does not enter this war. Germans are preparing for big battle in Northern France but will be driven back. At the conclusion of the war some of the German Navy will be given to England and France. The exact words of the medium was that the English and French would get the German Navy, it may mean that they would destroy it.

He is the chap who helps support Woodstock churches and hospitals and charity organizations, and Woodstock lodges and commercial clubs, and talks for Woodstock and boosts for Woodstock every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of Woodstock for merchandise, is sent to strangers—men who never spend a dollar in Woodstock—to men who would not trust you for a box of matches, to men who would turn you over to the police if you should enter their offices?

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Woodstock and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of Woodstock depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants?

Out-of-town people judge our village by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.—Adapted.

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

THE POTATO INDUSTRY

(Times-Star Editorial)

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

NAVAL DEATH RATE HIGH.

The present war has demonstrated that once a naval battle is joined disaster as a rule awaits one or the other of the contestants. There seems to be no breaking away if tide of battle is adverse. The fight continues until the waves close over the vanquished. It is also noticeable that the death loss in a naval engagement in relation to the number of men engaged is greater than in land battles. The high proportion of killed is most pronounced among the losers, while the small casualty list among the winners is equally remarkable. In a land battle the number of wounded is great; at sea the number is small. Those who are not killed during the action are drowned after it is closed by the sinking of the ship. The death rate among sailors in battle is high with the losers; small with the winners. Even friendly craft cannot stand by and pick up the drowning men who have jumped from the ship that has been torpedoed. Attempts to do this early in the war were fatal to the British and the admiralty was forced to order ships to keep on the move when disaster from below comes to a sister ship. Thus was an old navy tradition of rendering assistance even in the face of great danger shattered.

THE HOME MERCHANT

The Home merchant. Who is he?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, and lets you out with a message to the "kids", and a real come-again good-bye.

He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employees live in Woodstock and spend their money with you and with other Woodstock people.

He is the chap who advertises in your home paper and supports and encourages other home industries.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Woodstock schools, and build Woodstock streets and maintain Woodstock fire departments and police departments, and parks, and lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support Woodstock churches and hospitals and charity organizations, and Woodstock lodges and commercial clubs, and talks for Woodstock and boosts for Woodstock every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of Woodstock for merchandise, is sent to strangers—men who never spend a dollar in Woodstock—to men who would not trust you for a box of matches, to men who would turn you over to the police if you should enter their offices?

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Woodstock and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of Woodstock depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants?

Out-of-town people judge our village by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.—Adapted.

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

THE POTATO INDUSTRY

(Times-Star Editorial)

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

NAVAL DEATH RATE HIGH.

The present war has demonstrated that once a naval battle is joined disaster as a rule awaits one or the other of the contestants. There seems to be no breaking away if tide of battle is adverse. The fight continues until the waves close over the vanquished. It is also noticeable that the death loss in a naval engagement in relation to the number of men engaged is greater than in land battles. The high proportion of killed is most pronounced among the losers, while the small casualty list among the winners is equally remarkable. In a land battle the number of wounded is great; at sea the number is small. Those who are not killed during the action are drowned after it is closed by the sinking of the ship. The death rate among sailors in battle is high with the losers; small with the winners. Even friendly craft cannot stand by and pick up the drowning men who have jumped from the ship that has been torpedoed. Attempts to do this early in the war were fatal to the British and the admiralty was forced to order ships to keep on the move when disaster from below comes to a sister ship. Thus was an old navy tradition of rendering assistance even in the face of great danger shattered.

THE HOME MERCHANT

The Home merchant. Who is he?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake, and lets you out with a message to the "kids", and a real come-again good-bye.

He is the chap who meets and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employees live in Woodstock and spend their money with you and with other Woodstock people.

He is the chap who advertises in your home paper and supports and encourages other home industries.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Woodstock schools, and build Woodstock streets and maintain Woodstock fire departments and police departments, and parks, and lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support Woodstock churches and hospitals and charity organizations, and Woodstock lodges and commercial clubs, and talks for Woodstock and boosts for Woodstock every day in the year.

He is the chap who visits you when you are sick, sends flowers to your family when you die, and follows your body out among the trees and tombs, as far as human feet may travel with the dead.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think that you ought to trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need?

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of Woodstock for merchandise, is sent to strangers—men who never spend a dollar in Woodstock—to men who would not trust you for a box of matches, to men who would turn you over to the police if you should enter their offices?

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Woodstock and you take all the risk yourself of short weight or measure and of getting damaged or inferior goods. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of Woodstock depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants?

Out-of-town people judge our village by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.—Adapted.

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

THE POTATO INDUSTRY

(Times-Star Editorial)

The potato growers of the state of Maine have been in conference this week in Bangor, and proper grading and co-operative marketing were two of the strong points urged by the various speakers. Mr. J. E. Merriam, who is distributor for the Farmers' Union of Maine in New York City, said that in years gone by many potatoes had been shipped from Maine which had gone through six or eight hands before reaching the consumer, and the aggregate profits were far more than the farmers received for four years labor in producing the potatoes.

"But," said Mr. Merriam, "yesterday we saw that the case is still a battlefield. While the case is still a battlefield, we must keep our feet on the ground."

NAVAL DEATH RATE HIGH.

The present war has demonstrated that once a naval battle is joined disaster as a rule awaits one or the other of the contestants. There seems to be no breaking away if tide of battle is adverse. The fight continues until the waves close over the vanquished. It is also noticeable that the death loss in a naval engagement in relation to the number of men engaged is greater than in land battles. The high proportion of killed is most pronounced among the losers, while the small casualty list among the winners is equally remarkable. In a land battle the number of wounded is great; at sea the number is small. Those who are not killed during the action are drowned after it is closed by the sinking of the ship. The death rate among sailors in battle is high with the losers; small with the winners. Even friendly craft cannot stand by and pick up the drowning men who have jumped from the ship that has been torpedoed. Attempts to do this early in the war were fatal to the British and the admiralty was forced to order ships to keep on the move when disaster from below comes to a sister ship. Thus was an old navy tradition of rendering assistance even in the face of great danger shattered.

THE HOME MERCHANT

The Home merchant. Who is he?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-tives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th 1913.

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My Kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory.

Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected.

My Kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

B. A. KELLY

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Kidney Remedy in the world. It acts on the bowels and skin as well as on the kidneys, and thereby soothes and cures any Kidney soreness.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruit a tives Limited, Ottawa.

sub judge at Ottawa, we do not care to comment as we feel. But the admitted facts are damning enough. And the committee will find itself in hot water—much more painful than the water which put these "mud-in-Canada" boots out of commission—if they appear to lack the utmost eagerness to discover the whole truth and to welcome information from every source."

Supplementing the remarks made by Mr. Merriam, Mr. O. B. Abbott, the Boston representative of the Maine Farmers' Union, urged the necessity of proper grading. It will save the freight on a lot of worthless stuff and also save the credit of the Maine potato. Mr. Abbott told of seeing over one hundred cars of Maine potatoes rejected in New York and he also saw shipments that netted a loss in Boston and Providence, simply because the potatoes had not been properly graded. He also urged very strongly the importance of co-operation, and of the farmers establishing their own distributing centres in all the large cities.

The experience of the potato growers of Maine ought to be of some value to the growers of New Brunswick. If the Carleton county farmers had a proper distributing house in St. John today they ought to be able to realize more than forty cents per barrel for their potatoes.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapesin" makes Sick, Sour,
Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapesin from any drug store. You will be in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

GRAFT CHARGES

(Chatham World)

The Celestial City atmosphere is redolent of graft charges against officials and members. It is charged that labor bills for road and bridge work have been padded, and materials purchased from political supporters at fancy prices. Names, dates and places are furnished, and all who are concerned for the good name of the province—or what is left of it since the exposure of the Flemming-Berry blackmail levy on lumbermen—look forward with fear and trembling to the outcome of an investigation that has been begun by Commissioner Chandler.

Minard's Liniment Cures Diptheria.

Buy PAGE FENCE Direct for SERVICE and VALUE (Made in Canada)

When you buy PAGE FENCE, you get LIFETIME service. Buying DIRECT from Factory to Farm, you get the MOST REAL VALUE for your cash.

Page Fence wears Best because it's honest fence. A lot of No. 9 wire throughout—even in the locks. Weighs more per roll than any other same size modern fence. (We don't make a roll of under-sized fence) Every lateral is woven under uniform tension. Page Fence won't sag. Every upright is correctly spaced. Page Fence stays taut. Our galvanizing is the finest used on fence. Page fence is practically rust proof.

Every rod of Page Fence is minutely inspected at the factory. Samples of each lot are erected and personally tested by our Superintendent.

That's why we can guarantee you—"Satisfaction—or Your Money back." That's why 15,000 shipments were made last year—and not one came back.

Every dollar you spend for Page Fence buys an honest dollar's worth of Fence. (Not 50c worth of "selling-expense" and only 50c worth of "fence")

Now is the Right time to buy Page Fence direct. Prices won't go lower. In all probability they will go higher. Page Fence lasts a Lifetime. The sooner you buy—the more service you get. Now before the rush Spring season, we can ship your order the same day received.

To get What You Want When You Want It in Fence—mail your order today to the nearest Page Branch. Enclose cash, check, money or express order, or bank draft. Get immediate shipment—freight paid on 10 or over.

Write for the Big Page General Merchandise Catalogue. It's Free.